

THE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR

LAST EDITION.

BOSTON, MASS., THURSDAY, JUNE 9, 1910—VOL. II., NO. 164.

PRICE TWO CENTS.

NOTICE TO REMODEL BRIDGE IS SERVED ON BOSTON AND CHELSEA

Local Army Engineer Tells Both Cities Mystic River
Structure Must Be Finished
Before June 30, 1911.

COST TWO MILLIONS

Draw Must Be Widened to 100 Feet, but Viaduct Will Not Have to Be Relocated Across Stream.

Notices were served on Mayor Fitzgerald and William E. McClintock, chairman of the Chelsea board of control, by Col. Frederic V. Abbot, local army engineer, this afternoon calling for the remodeling of the north draw of the Chelsea-Charlestown bridge over the Mystic river by June 30, 1911. This is the bridge question which caused Mayor Fitzgerald and City Engineer Jackson to go to Washington to protest against the expenditure of $2,000,000.

Only one concession is granted the bridge owners by the war department, the fact that the bridge will not have to be relocated to allow vessels to take the channel straight instead of diagonally as at present. But the drawbridge must be widened to at least 100 feet. It is stated that the city officials could have secured the same arrangements by consulting with the local engineer and saving the expense of a Washington trip. Assistant Secretary of War Robert Oliver Shaw, who orders the changes, approves fully the changes ordered by Lieut.-Col. Edward Burr, the army engineer, who investigated the matter.

Colonel Burr in his report stated that a structure such as would be deemed suitable for this point could be erected for $1,825,000. Figures running from $1,500,000 to $2,500,000 have been stated as the probable cost of a new bridge.

These are the orders served on Mayor Fitzgerald and Chairman McClintock:

"Whereas the secretary of war has good reasons to believe that the bridge jointly owned by the cities of Boston and Chelsea and known as the Chelsea bridge across the main or north channel of Mystic river connecting the cities of Chelsea and Charlestown, Mass., is an unreasonable obstruction to the free navigation of the said Mystic river on account of insufficient width of draw openings and unsatisfactory location of the drawspan;

And
"Whereas the following alterations which have been recommended by the chief of engineers are required to render navigation through and under it reasonably free, easy and unobstructed to wit: Increase the clear width of the draw, opening to not less than 100 feet and as much more as is practicable without interference with the existing tunnel or conduits of the metropolitan water and sewerage board under the present draw openings and provide such drawspan and fenders as may be necessary for the safe and prompt passage of vessels through the draw openings, it is ordered that they be made by June 30, 1911.

(Signed) "ROBERT OLIVER SHAW,
Asst. Secretary of War."

The conduits spoken of in the order are directly under the present draw. It is possible to get a draw without interfering with the conduits and changing the location of the bridge of about 110 feet wide. A war department estimate of the expense involved for the changes in a temporary structure is between $100,000 and $125,000, which would, however, have to be changed within 10 years. City Engineer William Jackson stated today that it will take from two to three months to prepare plans for the changes. In the mean time he states that Mayor Fitzgerald will have to obtain from the city council an appropriation of between $200,000 and $250,000, which will be necessary to make the change from the standpoint of Boston's expense. Chelsea, he states, will have to pay in addition to this between $40,000 and $60,000.

As soon as Engineer Jackson's plans are ready they will be sent to Colonel Abbot, who will transmit them to the chief of engineers, who in this case will be Brig.-Gen. William H. Bixby, a Cambridge (Mass.) man, who becomes chief of engineers of the regular army this Saturday.

GENERAL CONGRESS OF WORLD PROVIDED IN SENATE PROJECT

WASHINGTON—A resolution adopted by the General Assembly of Rhode Island was presented today by Senator Wetmore of that state and referred to the committee on foreign relations. It urges that the President be authorized to invite the nations of the earth to join in establishing a general congress to consider all questions of common international interest.

Aviator Hopes for Non-Stop Record

Mr. Hamilton will prolong New York-Philadelphia flight for purpose.

CHARLES K. HAMILTON READY FOR FLIGHT IN HIS BIPLANE. Mr. Hamilton is one of the newer American aviators and has been attracting much attention by dexterity at the vol plane, or sudden swoop to the ground.

NEW YORK—Charles K. Hamilton, who on Saturday will attempt to fly from New York to Philadelphia and return, expects late this afternoon to remove his machine from the practice grounds at Mineola, L. I., to Flushing or Whitestone in a trial flight.

On his return from his intercity trip he hopes to set a new cross-country record by continuing past his starting place to Elmsford on the Putnam division of the New York Central railroad, a distance of 13.4 miles from the official finish of the trip. At Elmsford he will make a broad turn and fly back to Van Cortlandt park, thereby adding 26.8 miles to the 98.5 miles between his landing place in Philadelphia and Governors Island. Should he be successful in his

(Continued on Page Five, Column Three.)

DINNER FOR FORMER PRESIDENT IS NOT TO DEAL WITH POLITICS

LONDON—Mr. Roosevelt is passing his last day in England quietly in the country. Before he left London he called attention to American newspaper reports referring to the political importance attached to the dinner which Robert J. Collier will give to Mr. Roosevelt on his return.

Mr. Roosevelt called attention to the fact that this engagement was made when he lunched with Mr. Collier before starting for Africa, and said that there was absolutely no political significance to it.

There will be no "keynote" speech by Mr. Roosevelt to open the next congressional campaign as planned by the men in control of the League of Republican Clubs. The annual convention of that organization, to be held in New York next month, will have to get along without the inspiration of the presence of the former President. The story that he has planned a speaking tour from New York westward as far as the Rockies and south to Texas is not founded on fact. He has made no plans for political speeches nor will he until he reaches home.

Mr. Roosevelt today authorized the United Press to deny the report that he accepted the invitation of Congressman Moore of Philadelphia to address the League of Republican Clubs. In his

(Continued on Page Twelve, Column One.)

TOKIO NOW REPORTS A RUSSO-JAPANESE "OPEN DOOR" PACT

TOKIO—A complete understanding has been reached by Russia and Japan on the "open door" questions relating to far eastern affairs. It is not known if the results of the agreement will be published for the present, but it is not thought that there will be any material change in the provisions of the existing agreement.

Reports of a Russo-Japanese agreement have been received from time to time for almost a year now. In fact, the trip to Harbin of the late Baron Aoki was believed to have been made for the purpose of negotiating such an entente. While the terms of the present agreement are not made public, it is not unreasonable to suppose that it relates to a definition of the spheres of influence of the two nations in Manchuria and in connection with the Chinese government.

PINCHOT-GARFIELD CONFERENCE. CLEVELAND, O.—Former Chief Forester Gifford Pinchot held a long conference with James R. Garfield, former secretary of the interior here today.

NEW MASONIC HOME BOARD ESTABLISHED TO MANAGE ESTATE

Action was taken which makes an important change in the control of the Masonic home in Charlton, Mass., at the quarterly communication of the grand lodge held late Wednesday afternoon in the Masonic Temple in Boston. Since the retirement of Most Worshipful J. Albert Blake as grand master he has been chairman of the home committee, a position that was considered due him for having started the project in his administration.

With the assumption of the duties of grand secretary, Right Worshipful Thomas W. Davis felt that the burden of the chairmanship was more than he desired to handle and was glad when some one was found willing to take upon himself the responsibility. He has continued his membership on the committee, which has comprised 42, including the grand master. This will be reduced to less than one fourth that number.

According to the resolution just adopted a board of Masonic relief is created, to hold office until it is established by an amendment to the grand constitution, or until other action by the grand lodge. In the absence of specific directions by the grand lodge the board shall have full management and control of the Masonic home at Charlton and of the solicitation and collection of money for it.

The board will be composed of the

(Continued on Page Seven, Column Two.)

WISCONSIN PROGRAM IS TO LAUD MR. TAFT AND BAR INSURGENTS

MILWAUKEE—The real work of the Republican state convention will be taken up today with the formulation of a platform. The naming of a state ticket probably will be left for the primary elections in September.

That the platform will deal mostly with national issues and that it will be an endorsement of President Taft and a criticism of those who do not support his policies, is denoted by the denunciation of the insurgents and the commendation of the administration that marked the opening session Wednesday. During the speeches every mention of Mr. Taft's name was followed by an outburst of cheers.

Judge Levi H. Bancroft of Richland Center, formerly of the La Follette faction, who was chosen as permanent chairman, bitterly arraigned the insurgent movement in Congress and within the Republican party. He said it meant the disruption of party organization and

(Continued on Page Twelve, Column Two.)

CAMP FOR OFFICERS OF MASSACHUSETTS TROOPS OPEN TODAY

Commanders of Bay State
Units Gather at South Framingham for Regular Army Instruction.

ENDS SUNDAY NIGHT

Rank Is Disregarded for the Common Good of Gleaning Knowledge of the Science of Warfare.

The camp of instruction, the first of its kind for officers of the Massachusetts volunteer militia, opened at the state camp, South Framingham, this afternoon, with a fair quota of the commissioned men present, although they are not in duty bound to report until 7:30 tomorrow. It is expected that a great many more will report tonight and that practically the full number will be on hand at 6 a. m. tomorrow to answer the first reveille.

The 15 regular army officers who are to serve as instructors will arrive at the campground at 4 p. m. today from New York.

Adj.-Gen. William H. Brigham was at the camp this morning with Brig.-Gen. James White, commissary chief, to see that everything was ready. Brig.-Gen. Embury P. Clark of Springfield arrived early this afternoon, the national and state colors were raised and General Clark assumed command. The camp will continue until Saturday night.

Gov. Eben S. Draper is expected to make an informal visit to the camp, either tomorrow or Saturday. It is expected that if he makes the trip he will do so in his automobile. There will be no ceremonies, the Governor merely looking in to see what the camp is like and to meet the army officers present.

The 15 regular army officers come to Massachusetts ready to give to the Bay state officers the benefits of the errors they found in the original program which was given to the officers of the national guard of Pennsylvania at Mt. Gretna the last week in May. From Massachusetts Sunday night they go to Natick, Conn., to give the officers of the Connecticut forces a similar course, and from there to Maine for a like purpose.

Majors Charles H. Barth and Beaumont B. Buck of the general staff corps head the list of instructors, who come from the infantry, cavalry, field artillery and signal corps branches of the regular service and from military garrisons scattered all over the East.

At 8 a. m. tomorrow all the militia officers will for the time being lose their rank, generals, colonels, lieutenant-colonels, majors, captains and subalterns becoming equal in rank. They will all be soldiers, and while the instructors will make some designations for drill purposes the officers will all revert to a standard of raw recruits.

The program for tomorrow is as follows: Reveille, 6 a. m.; policing quarters, 6:20 a. m.; breakfast, 7 a. m.; school, map reading, 8 a. m.; school, camping, 10 a. m.; dinner, 12:30 p. m.; school, patrolling, 1:30 p. m.; inspection under arms, 5 p. m.; supper, 6:30 p. m.; school, practical talk on marches, guards and post duty; call to quarters, 10:30 p. m.; taps, 11 p. m.

ANDREW SQUARE PEOPLE ARE SENT MAYOR'S LETTER

Mayor Fitzgerald today made public a communication to C. P. Flynn, member of the executive committee of the Andrew Square Improvement Association of South Boston, in which he regrets certain criticisms of his action by the committee and states that he has paid more official visits to South Boston than to any other section of the city.

The letter details numerous improvements that the mayor has urged for the parks in that section; emphasizing his advocacy of the immediate construction of a locker building and shelter at McNary park, the hastening of the lighting of Old Colony avenue and a large increase in the evacuation day appropriation over that allowed last year, as signs of the way he feels toward South Boston.

The letter further states that the mayor's recollection of his conversation with the committee is that he was asked to agree at once to the proposed construction of Southampton street and that he replied that the matter would have to wait until a study was made of the general needs of the city. The letter states that he is endeavoring to have Southampton street included in the $300,000 already appropriated for the laying out and construction of highways.

Instruction Camp Commanders

Men who have charge of transporting supplies and of feeding the officers.

GEN. JAMES G. WHITE.
Commissary-general of the Massachusetts volunteer militia.

GEN. WILLIAM H. BRIGHAM.
Adjutant-general of the Massachusetts volunteer militia.

ENACTMENT STAGE IS REACHED ON BERKSHIRE TROLLEY BILL

Measure Providing That the New Haven May Purchase a Controlling Interest in the Railway and Expend $2,000,000 in Development Now Goes to Governor.

The Berkshire trolley bill was enacted in the Massachusetts Senate today and will now be sent to the Governor.

This bill provides that the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company may purchase a controlling number of shares in the Berkshire Street Railway Company, and also for the expenditure of $2,000,000 for the development of trolley lines in Berkshire county.

The Senate committee on ways and means reported "ought not to pass" on a resolve to investigate the common control of gas, electric light and street railway companies. The same committee reported "ought not to pass" on Representative James H. Mellen's homestead bill, which provides that the commonwealth purchase land and build homes for working people.

The Senate ways and means committee reported favorably on a resolve that no mortgage note be offered by a fraternal beneficiary corporation for deposit with the treasurer unless accompanied by a certificate of the insurance commissioners.

This committee also reported favorably on a resolve that 7500 copies of the report of the commission on the high cost of living be printed and bound.

The savings bank bill to provide for the management of savings banks was then taken up. Senator Denny spoke for his amendment to strike out the provision that the board of investment shall report in detail the conditions of loans to the trustees at each meeting of the board.

The amendment offered by Senator Mellen, that the supreme judicial court, or any justice thereof, sitting in equity,

(Continued on Page Five, Column Two.)

TEACHER OF OXFORD ARRIVES IN AMERICA ON INDIAN RESEARCH

Coming here to study the Pueblo Indians, Miss Barbara Freire-Marreco of Somerville College, Oxford, England, arrived here today on the White Star liner Cymric, Capt. F. B. Howarth, from Liverpool and Queenstown, which docked at Charlestown shortly before noon.

Miss Freire-Marreco is an instructor in Somerville College, which is one of the four colleges at Oxford devoted to the education of women. She is going to the American school of archeology at Santa Fe, N. M., where she will make extensive ethnological research and will then return to England to continue her work at Oxford.

Miss Curtiss and Miss A. Curtiss, daughters of Commodore Curtiss, returned in the liner's saloon from an extended foreign trip. They had a special car at the wharf to convey their effects to Magnolia, where Commodore Curtiss' summer home is situated.

Rabbi David de Solm Pool, who is the head of the Spanish and Portuguese synagogue of New York, came over on the Cymric after a pleasure trip. His church is the oldest of its kind in this country, dating back 255 years.

Among the saloon passengers from Boston or vicinity were Mrs. W. M. Butler, Miss Miriam Butler, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Russell of Reading, and son, Howard E. Russell, who have been at English watering places, C. E. Riley of Newton and the Rev. Dr. Laurens MacLure, rector of Grace church of Newton, who accompanied Mr. Riley. The former made a flying trip on business, while Dr. MacLure took the voyage for a vacation trip.

Mrs. Byron Clark of London, formerly of Brookline, returns to visit her mother, Mrs. Pierce of Brookline. Mrs. F. D. Donoghue, wife of Dr. Donoghue of Brookline returned from an extended trip abroad with her daughters, Misses Frances and Mary.

Other Bostonians were Mrs. W. M. Butler and Miss Miriam Butler, Miss Edith Frost, who has been studying music in France and Italy, and who, after a short visit at her home in Jamaica Plain, will return to Florence to commence a concert tour.

CIVIL SERVICE LIMIT TO EXPIRE TODAY ON MAYOR'S APPOINTEES

The time limit expires today at 5 o'clock for confirmation by the civil service commission of the appointments by Mayor Fitzgerald of George W. Morrison to be principal assessor, and John E. Lyons to be penal institutions commissioner.

Mayor Fitzgerald accepted the resignation of R. Clifton Sturgis from the position of chairman of the schoolhouse commission in a letter to him late Wednesday afternoon, saying that the resignation was couched in such terms as to leave no hope for its withdrawal. In accepting the resignation the mayor expresses regret that the city should lose the services of "an official whose character, ability and special experience have lifted the department with which he has been connected to the highest plane of efficiency."

The executive committee of the city council gave a public hearing to the representatives of the Boston real estate exchange and auction board in the old aldermanic chamber at city hall late Wednesday afternoon on the proposed ordinance fixing charges and rental for the construction of or use of coal holes, vaults, bay windows and marquees in or over public ways. The ordinance, which was framed in accordance with a provision in the new city charter amendments, was opposed by all those present interested in real estate and its legality was seriously questioned.

Samuel M. Childs, representing the real estate exchange, said that under the Massachusetts laws the fee in the streets belongs to the abutting property owners and not to the city, which, at most, has an easement over but not under public highways. The abutters, accordingly, may use the fee in the street any way they please, provided they do not interfere with public travel.

As to bay windows, Mr. Childs said they cause an obstruction in streets, especially in narrow ones, where bay windows never should be allowed. Many others spoke along the same lines.

LOCAL HARVARD MEN GO TODAY TO UNITED MEETING OF CLUBS

President Lowell Is to Address Fourteenth Annual Convention of Former Collegians in Cleveland.

BUSINESS ON FRIDAY

Maj. H. L. Higginson, President of Boston Organization, Will Join Travelers en Route to Convention City.

President A. Lawrence Lowell of Harvard left Boston at 2 o'clock today with a party of 25 members of the Harvard Club of Boston to attend the fourteenth annual convention of the associated Harvard clubs, in Cleveland, where they will arrive tomorrow, and in the afternoon Mr. Lowell will address the business meeting of the clubs on the tendency of changes in the college curriculum. The New York Harvard Club will join the party at Albany. An attendance of about 600 is expected in Cleveland.

There will be business meetings Friday in Cleveland, luncheon at the Taverne Club and dinner at the Euclid Club, followed by a smoker; another business meeting Saturday, with an outing at the

MAJ. HENRY L. HIGGINSON.
President of the Harvard Club of Boston, who will attend meeting of Associated Harvard Clubs.

Country Club in the afternoon and banquet in the evening at the Chamber of Commerce. The Bostonians will leave for home Sunday at 11:30 a. m., arriving here Monday morning.

Maj. Henry L. Higginson, president of the Harvard Club of Boston, and a member of the Harvard corporation, left Boston late yesterday, and will join the party on the way.

Those in the Boston party which left at 2 o'clock today are: Thomas Nelson Perkins, also one of the fellows; James J. Storrow of the overseers, Walter Baylies, last year's marshal at commencement; Henry M. Rogers, Dr. John T. Bullard, president of the Harvard Club of New Bedford; Dr. Wilbur F. H. Stone, also of New Bedford; Albert Thorneike, Charles M. Cabot, Wellington Wells, J. E. Edson, J. W. Hallowell, Sidney Curtis, and George Wigglesworth, a member of the overseers.

At Cleveland other members of the local club will join the party, including T. J. Cummins, F. S. Whitwell, J. W. Bowen, F. M. Stone and Dr. Horace Arnold.

MERCHANTS' WEEK BANQUET FRIDAY

BROCKTON, Mass.—Brockton merchants are well pleased with the weather, the horse parade and the trading results which they brought. Most of the stores were opened Wednesday evening and Main and Center streets were brilliantly illuminated with flaming arc lights, making the business district nearly as light as the interiors of the stores. Some handsome electric illuminations appeared, especially on the City theater building and at the Fraser House.

The Merchants Association will entertain a large number of guests at the "Merchants' week banquet" Friday evening. Edward Payson Weston, the American pedestrian, will be met at the station Friday by a committee from the association and a drum corps and will walk through the business district. In the evening he will speak at the banquet concerning experiences encountered in his long walk from the Pacific to the Atlantic.

SENATE BOARD TO INVESTIGATE. WASHINGTON—Charges of bribery in connection with the election of Senator William Lorimer of Illinois will be considered by the Senate committee on privileges and elections Saturday.

VESUVIUS MORE ACTIVE TODAY. ROME—Mount Vesuvius showed increased activity today, due to the recent seismic disturbance. The volcano is now so threatening that tourists are not approaching it.

SEND YOUR "WANT" AD TO THE MONITOR EMPLOYMENT BUREAU—IT WILL BE RUN FREE ONE WEEK ON THE CLASSIFIED AD PAGE

If you are looking for employment, or for an employee
The Monitor offers you an opportunity to supply your need without the expense of advertising.

Name.....
Street.....
City..... State.....

Write your advertisement on this blank and mail direct to The Christian Science Monitor, Boston, Mass.
The Christian Science Monitor is read in every city in America.

THIS OFFER DOES NOT APPLY TO ADVERTISEMENTS FOR PERSONS WANTED TO HANDLE GOODS ON COMMISSION OR TO ADVERTISEMENTS SOLICITING BUSINESS PATRONAGE

News of the World Told by Cable and Correspondence

NEW PROGRESSIVE PARTY IN AFRICA ISSUES PROGRAM

(Special to The Monitor.)
BLOEMFONTEIN—The following points are included in the program of the Progressive party which has been issued: a comprehensive scheme of national defense; an efficient and impartial civil service; the improvement of social conditions by a vigorous policy, including compulsory education wherever possible, and also technical instruction; opposition to the introduction of Asiatics, while securing fairness for those lawfully settled; the development of agricultural resources; industrial legislation; closer settlement; the encouragement of industries by the administration of railways and harbors with a view to the reduction of the cost of living; the fostering of exports in the mining industry, and the adoption of a moderate tariff, protecting legitimate industries, and giving imperial preference.

TURKS REGISTER GREEK CITIZENS

CONSTANTINOPLE—A registration of all Greeks living in Turkey was begun today by the Turkish authorities, preparatory, it is said, to their expulsion. This action by the government is one of a long series of recent moves indicative of the increasing feeling between Turkey and Greece. The Cretan dispute may eventually be the pretext for war. The Greeks insist on having the island and the Turks will not give it up. It is admitted that the island is not worth much and that Turkey's control over it is merely nominal, but the surrender of even this claim would discredit the Young Turkish government's prestige with its own people.

VANCOUVER TO TRY BOARD OF CONTROL

(Special to The Monitor.)
VANCOUVER, B. C.—After much discussion the city council have decided for a board of control, and will submit the same to the electorate for sanction at an early date. The by-law will provide for the election of three controllers who, with the mayor, will constitute the board of control, and who should, in the opinion of the council, receive a salary of $5000 a year. If accepted by the voters, the first board will come into office next January.

GERMAN SHIP IS NOW COMPLETE

(Special to The Monitor.)
BERLIN—The Von der Tann, launched on the 20th of March, 1909, at Hamburg, has now been completed. After her preliminary trials the vessel will leave for Kiel.
It is announced that the German high seas fleet's summer maneuvers are to commence at the beginning of July and will conclude about the middle of August. They will take place in the North sea and North Atlantic ocean.

AT THE THEATERS

BOSTON.
AMERICAN MUSIC HALL—Vaudeville.
CASTLE SQUARE—The Rivals.
MAJESTIC—Caste.
PARK—The Man from Home.
BOSTON OPERA HOUSE—Every evening and Wednesday and Saturday afternoon.
"The Mikado." Altona Comic Opera Company.

NEW YORK.
AMERICAN—Vaudeville.
ARTON—Seven Days.
CARINO—The Mikado.
COLONIAL—Vaudeville.
CRITERION—The Bachelor's Baby.
GARRICK—Her Husband's Wife.
GAIETY—The Fortune Hunter.
HAMMERSTEIN—Vaudeville.
HEATH—The Spendthrift.
KEITH & PROCTOR'S Fifth Avenue—Vaudeville.
KNICKERBOCKER—The Arcadians.
LYRIC—A Matinee Idol.
PLAZA—Vaudeville.
WALLACKS—"Allas Jimmy Valentine."

CHICAGO.
AMERICAN—Vaudeville.
CHICAGO OPERA HOUSE—"The Gay Hussars."
COLONIAL—"Madame Sherry."
CORT—"Billy."
GARRICK—"A Man's World."
HILTON—"Mid-Channel."
LYRIC—"The Lottery Man."
MAJESTIC—Vaudeville.
OLYMPIC—"The Fortune Hunter."
POWERS—"In Matrimony a Failure."
WHITNEY—"My Cinderella Girl."

WIRELESS STATIONS WILL BE ERECTED IN CENTRAL AFRICA

(Special to The Monitor.)
PARIS—The Governor-General of French Central Africa has made a proposal which has been accepted by the minister for the colonies, that wireless telegraph stations should be established in the colony. The idea is that two stations should be erected, one at Brazzaville, on the Congo, the other on the coast near Loango, at a point at the head of the railway line.
It is hoped that the experiments that are to be carried out will prove that it is possible to maintain regular communication by day and night between these two stations, separated by some 385 kilometers as the crow flies, in spite of the special difficulties supposed to be caused by the vast damp forests with which the country abounds. The cost of the erection of the stations, as well as of the experiments which are to be carried out, has been estimated at £200,000, a sum which includes £4000 as a reserve fund for contingencies.

INCREASE FREIGHT CHARGES.
(Special to The Monitor.)
MELBOURNE—Freight charges for frozen meat from Melbourne and London are being constantly increased by the shipping companies.

FRENCH CABINET TO PRESENT PROGRAM TO BOTH CHAMBERS

(Special to The Monitor.)
PARIS—The ministers have held the first cabinet meeting since the elections, and this one will be followed by many others before the meeting of the new Chamber. All the ministers were present with the exception of M. Ruau, at present in Austria, and Admiral Boue de Lapeyriere, who is engaged in watching the naval maneuvers.
In view of the issues raised at the elections, the most important questions considered at the meeting were the reforms desired by the country, and M. Briand informed his colleagues that to assist them in their deliberations he had caused reports to be sent in by all the prefects throughout France, showing as nearly as possible the result of the votes of the last elections on the various reforms which had been discussed most prominently and which would no doubt be among those to be dealt with in the new Chamber, the most important being those of electoral reform, fiscal reform, reform in legal administration and in the civil service.

At the last elections 8,517,343 votes were recorded; of these only 1,259,488 were recorded in favor of candidates who made no allusions to electoral reforms; 355,987 for candidates who advocated the

LIBERAL-SOCIALIST LEFT GAINS ONLY ONE MEMBER

(Special Correspondence of The Monitor.)
BRUSSELS—The Belgian elections are over, with the result that the state of the parties is practically the same as before; the Liberal-Socialist left having gained one seat, leaving the Catholic right with a majority of six. The actual figures are: Catholics, 86; Liberals, 45; Socialists, 34; and Christian Democrats, 1.
The result was somewhat disappointing to the left, who hoped to gain a decided victory, so much so that the question of the propriety of the Socialists joining with the Liberals to form a cabinet had been freely discussed in Socialist circles. At conferences of the Labor party, held in October last, it was decided that, in case of a victory for the left, a national Socialist congress should be summoned to settle the point. Meanwhile, during the course of the recent elections the Liberals and Socialists have in many cases come to an arrangement so as to avoid the danger of a split vote.
It was after passing the reform bill in 1903 that a Socialist party came into being, and the introduction of proportional representation in 1900 allowed the Socialists to secure a representation in the Chamber proportional to their numerical strength in the country. Since 1906 the majority of the Catholic right has steadily declined; but the number of Socialists returned at the present elections is the same as in the year 1906.

TO SAIL FOR CANADA.
OTTAWA, Ont.—Advices received here state that the cruiser Rainbow will sail from England for Esquimaux about July 1.

FOREIGN MINISTER DECLARES TURKEY IS NOT SATISFIED

LONDON—The Turkish minister for foreign affairs, Rifaat Pasha, who is now in Paris, said, according to an interview published in the Evening Standard, that the Ottoman government had received a formal assurance from all the protecting powers that they would insist that the Mussulman deputies should be allowed to sit in the Cretan Chamber in full equality with the Christian representatives, and that they would not be forced to take the oath of allegiance to the King of the Hellenes.
The minister further stated: "The mere maintenance of the status quo, however, is not entirely satisfactory to Turkey, since the existing situation is irregular, and leaves the door open to all sorts of disturbing incidents. What Turkey desires is a definite settlement. All the powers recognize the extreme moderation of her demands. She takes into full account what has happened in the past, and does not suggest that Crete should again become a Turkish province, like, say, Smyrna. On the contrary, she is quite willing that Crete should enjoy the fullest possible measure of autonomy, subject always, however, to Turkey's suzerainty. Pourparlers are proceeding, but the final settlement will be made not here, but in Stamboul."

Early Abdication of King In Favor of Royal Duke Is Rumored in Portugal statu quo, while 6,901,868 votes were recorded for candidates who advocated some measure of electoral reform, and of these 4,442,800 voted straight for the official program of the comite de la representation proportionnelle.

The question of electoral reform will undoubtedly be the first new legislation submitted to the new Chamber.
After the meeting of the cabinet, a statement was made by M. Briand to the press, in which he said that the government will present to the two Chambers, a definite and precise program which will clearly set forth the intentions of the ministry, showing what they are prepared to do and how they will carry out their plans. M. Briand conveyed the idea that his intention was to go straight for the various important reforms demanded by the electorate, and that his program would be plain and straight, that it would be submitted to both Chambers for them to accept or reject as they thought fit; that the ministry intended to stand or fall with its program and would refuse to resort to tactics merely to enable them to hold office.
If M. Briand succeeds in carrying out what he promises, he will have opened up a new era of political life in France.

LIBERAL-SOCIALIST LEFT GAINS ONLY ONE MEMBER

It is expected that the premier, M. Schollaert, will remodel his cabinet on the reassembly of the Chamber in November next, and that he will introduce into it one or two men whose personal influence will help to maintain a better cohesion between the young and old Catholics. The Catholic party have until recently showed a united front, but the introduction of the military reorganization bill of last year revealed a difference of opinion between the two wings of the party which, it is to be suspected, was not confined solely to the measure under consideration at the time; and unless the difference between the two wings can be settled it is not unlikely that in 1910, when the remaining half of the electorate is polled, the Catholics, who have been in power since 1884, may find themselves in a minority.

Considerable interest has been manifested in France with regard to the Belgian elections, and now that a Catholic ministry has been returned to power it is expected that the scheme of fiscal reform directed against France brought forward by M. Liebaert, the minister of finance, will again be submitted to the Chamber.

TO SAIL FOR CANADA.
OTTAWA, Ont.—Advices received here state that the cruiser Rainbow will sail from England for Esquimaux about July 1.

Famous Mansion Rebuilt by London County Council

LONDON—On a piece of unoccupied ground on the embankment just below Chelsea reach, there has just been re-erected the famous fifteenth century house, known as Crosby Hall, which until lately stood in Bishopsgate street within "withn" signifying that part of the street within the city walls as opposed to the continuation without the gate. The hall has been rebuilt on the edge of what has for upwards of four centuries been known as More's garden, for it was here that Sir Thomas More built his country house, where he entertained the greatest men of his day in England, and where he was visited by Erasmus himself. Here he kept his menagerie, and here, wrote the great Dutchman, "all the birds in Chelsea come to him to be fed every morning." The spot is an appropriate one, for Crosby Hall became in due time Sir Thomas More's town house, while the spot on which it has been rebuilt is distinct with history. On one side of it is the little house in which Turner hid himself from the world, on the other "The Copper Door," where Whistler painted his last pictures. A little higher up the side street, at the corner of which the hall now stands, lived Swift, a few yards westward on the embankment stands one of the most remarkable of all the churches in London, that of old Chelsea. Across the river rises the quaint Georgian structure, known as Battersea parish church, where Bolingbroke worshipped in the days when he was planning treason in the famous oak parlor near by. Not far off is one of Wren's masterpieces, Chelsea hospital, the home of the old soldiers, the house which Rossetti kept with Swinburne, George Eliot's house and the "roomy house" which Carlyle found in Cheyne row when he came to London. These are only a title, the rest are too numerous to attempt to mention.

CROSBY HALL.
View taken from the west.

Crosby Hall, or all that now remains of Crosby Place, once one of the most sumptuous of the residences planned by the merchant princes of London, was built in 1466, by Sir John Crosby, ward of the Grocer's Company, and mayor of the Staple of Calais, who rented for the purpose from the prioress and convent of St. Helene, 110 feet of frontage on the "King's road of Bishopsgate-street." It was, says Stow, "built of stone and timber, very large and beautiful, and the highest at that time in London." It was so large and beautiful that when the Yorkist cause triumphed, and the White Rose came to London, not a person than Richard Plantagenet rented it from Crosby's executors. Here, in consequence, Shakespeare has laid the scene of part of his play of "Richard III.," and here, probably in the great throne room, the mayor, Sir Thomas Billesden and the citizens offered the crown to the Protector. Here in 1501 lived the mayor, Sir Bartholomew Reed, who entertained Katherine of Aragon, on her arrival, in the great hall. Fifteen years later Sir John Best kept his mayoralty here, when he had a procession in which there walked four giants, one unicorn, one dromedary, one camel, one ass, one dragon, and six hobby-horses. The next owner was Sir Thomas More, this was somewhere about 1514, and to attempt to chronicle the famous citizens who inhabited the place after that date, or the more famous men whom they entertained there would require a volume. Here came Bonvisi, who introduced the distaff into England; Henry VIII. and Queen Bess; the great Duc de Sully and the Countess of Pembroke.

In 1640 it was converted into a prison for royalists, while it escaped the great fire to be licensed as a meeting house for non-conformists, in 1672. On the 28th of May, 1678, the Mercury advertised at Crosby Hall, "where ye late General Post Office was kept," a sale consisting of tapestry hangings, a good chariot, and a black girl about 15 years of age. Ninety-one years later the Presbyterians, who had held meetings there since 1678, vacated the hall, when it fell into the hands of the Rellian Universalists, a sect formed by a certain James Rell, a seer of visions. After the departure of Rell, it sank to the level of a warehouse, and was so badly damaged that, in 1836, it was restored by a Miss Hackett, who saved it on the eve of its demolition. After this it became in turn a literary institute, a concert hall, and finally a restaurant. In its last capacity it lingered on for almost half a century, when the site was purchased for a bank. This time there was no Miss Hackett to save it. London was not rich enough to preserve it as a historical building, and so it was pulled down. Its stones, carefully numbered and preserved, were removed, by the London county council, to Chelsea, where they have just been re-erected on the site of the garden of the most distinguished of its many distinguished owners, as part of the new pile of buildings which is to represent University hall. There its medieval character will be preserved as the hall of the Residential College of London University.

DOM MANOEL II.

(By the United Press.)
LISBON—The early abdication of the throne by youthful King Manoel in favor of his uncle, the Duke of Oporto, was rumored in official circles today. The people's unrest and the financial troubles of the royal household are given as reasons for the contemplated move.

The accusations growing out of the financial dealings of Manoel's grandmother, the Dowager Queen Maria Pia, with the government started an investigation of the finances of the royal family, and the disclosures have turned the people against the King. Dom Manoel is 20 years old and the Duke of Oporto 45 years old.

TO TURN ON POWER.
NIAGARA FALLS, Ont.—About the first of August those municipalities ready to receive it will have current delivered to them, as the hydro-electric power will be turned on then. Citizens of this province have been patiently awaiting this event.

BUYS CANADIAN PROPERTY.
PORT ARTHUR, Ont.—Sir Ernest Shackleton has made his first investment in Canadian real estate by purchasing 100 feet of residential property here.

DRY FARMING CONGRESS TO BE HELD ANNUALLY IN PRETORIA

(Special to The Monitor.)
PRETORIA—It is proposed that a dry farming congress shall be held annually in this city, and the first of what it is hoped will be a long series of these meetings was recently opened by General Botha. For some days some hundreds of farmers and men interested in the agricultural welfare of the country have been present at Klerksdorp, where they have been discussing various questions connected with the extension of agriculture in this country. In his opening speech, General Botha expressed the hope that the Transvaal would become the "peacemaker of the British empire in agricultural development."

The motto chosen for the conference is "The Destiny of South Africa is on the Dry Land," and, according to the opinions expressed in the addresses delivered, both by the government experts and farmers of both races, the prospects for the future are extremely good.

The first "Tull medal" awarded by the conference for "meritorious service to the cause of dry farming" was given to William McLaren of Vereeniging, who, by his steam cultivation, deep plowing and moisture saving fallows, has gradually got the land into such a condition as to be unaffected by the severest drought.

The reports of the cultivation of the desert lands in western America have been so satisfactory that it was decided to establish an experimental dry land station in the semi-arid zone at Lichtenburg and the results obtained are considered so encouraging that it has been decided to establish two more stations in other districts.

General Botha and the members of the Congress are fully aware that nothing will appeal to the South African farmers better than a visible demonstration of the methods they advocate and it is considered that the only way of inducing them to adopt the more modern and advantageous methods is to establish stations where they can witness the actual methods employed.

Bridal Gifts
Largest and most attractive assortment in New England. Silver, cut glass, clocks, bronzes, pearl and diamond jewelry.
SMITH PATTERSON CO
Wholesale and Retail, 52 Summer St., Boston.

NEW MEASURE MAY SOLVE QUESTION OF WOMAN SUFFRAGE

(Special to The Monitor.)
LONDON—The Earl of Lytton is chairman of a conciliation committee, which has been formed to urge for a solution in the near future of the women's suffrage question. The committee is formed of members of all political parties and it is reported that the committee is supported by leading members of both sides of the House of Commons. The measure proposed is as follows:
"1. Every woman possessed of a household qualification, or of a £10 occupation qualification, within the meaning of the representation of the people act (1884) shall be entitled to be registered as a voter, and when registered to vote for the county or borough in which the qualifying premises are situated.
"2. For the purposes of this act, a woman shall not be disqualified by marriage for being registered as a voter, provided that a husband and wife shall not both be qualified in respect of the same property.
"3. This act may be cited as 'The Representation of the People Act, 1910.'"
It is explained in a memorandum that the committee do not claim that the bill proposed is an ideal solution of the question, but that it is more in the nature of a working compromise. It is further claimed that it breaks down, in a manner to which no party could object, the barrier by which women are at present excluded from citizen rights. The memorandum also points out that "the preference of Unionists for a cautious and experimental measure of enfranchisement is respected. There are some 870,000 women on the local government register in England and Wales. Including the women of Scotland and Ireland, this bill would confer the parliamentary vote on about a million new electors. They would be in the main women who earn their own living—those, in short, who pay rates and taxes, and have, in consequence, a traditional claim to representation which public opinion readily concedes.
"Finally, our bill is so brief and simple that its discussion makes a minimum demand in regard to time upon the generosity of a government. It cannot be said that Parliament is overburdened this session with legislative work."

FRANCE AND ITALY TO TALK RAILWAYS

(Special to The Monitor.)
ROME—As the result of representations made to the Italian government, a Franco-Italian conference, consisting of members technically qualified to discuss the question, will meet at no very distant date in Rome to discuss the questions relating to the railway communication between the two countries.

Rare Opportunity to obtain choice Pearl and Ivory Handle Table and Tea Knives at very low prices. Splendid opportunity to buy wedding gifts or refresh your own table.
All kinds of reliable Cutlery.
Cutlery of all kinds sharpened and repaired.
DAME, STODDARD & CO
374 Washington St., opp. Bromfield.

WICKER SUIT CASES
Made to order in Japan. Dust-proof lining. Lock and Key. Light, stylish, strong. Catalogue on application. Charge accounts solicited. Mention The Monitor. We refer to it. WALTER M. HATCH & CO. 43 and 45 Summer St.

AWNINGS
RED HAMMOCKS—Send postal or Tel. For Bill 83, and we will send you with samples and give estimate. WHEELER & WILSON, 15 Merchants Row, Boston.

Have The Monitor Sent to Your Summer Address

Subscribers need only to keep this office informed as to their whereabouts to have the address of their Monitor changed as often as desired.

Send Notice to the Circulation Department

Leading Events in Athletic World Plan New Boathouse

PRINCETON CREWS ARE READY FOR BIG INTERCLASS RACES

Oarsmen Are Fairly Well Matched and Close Races and New Records Are Looked For.

HOW THEY WILL ROW

PRINCETON, N. J.—All four of the Princeton University class crews which will take part in the interclass regatta on Carnegie lake tomorrow have been practicing regularly and have been showing steady improvement under the direction of Dr. J. D. Spaeth of the university faculty.

The annual spring interclass regatta for eights and fours promises to be the best ever held here. There is even reason to believe that the record for the long course which was so nearly equalled in the race last fall, will be broken. Had it not been for the swamping of the junior boat in the November regatta a new record would probably have been established at that time.

The eight-oared crews are fairly evenly matched, although the juniors and the freshmen have been doing the best work. The sophomore boat has had a setback because of the poor condition of W. S. Mathews, who rowed bow, and the necessary shift in the boat. L. E. McClure, who went in at No. 5, although an experienced oarsman, has been handicapped by lack of training.

The two four-oared boats are very evenly matched and the preliminary race which they will row over the short course will probably be one of the closest ever seen on Lake Carnegie.

The crews will probably row in the following order:

1912 four-oar—Bow, Kalfish; 2, Whitney (capt.); 3, West; stroke, Lawrence; coxswain, Fowler.

1911 eight-oar—Bow, Wallace; 2, Dillon; 3, Cookingham; 4, Winslow; 5, Grey; 6, Smith; 7, Ramsome; stroke, Roche (capt.); coxswain, Lewis.

1913 eight-oar—Bow, Rauch (capt.); 2, Law; 3, North; 4, Lee; 5, Stuhls; 6, Wood; 7, Kingsford; stroke, Wolfe; coxswain, Morgan.

1912 eight-oar—Bow, Scott; 2, Judd; 3, Shoemaker; 4, Cooper; 5, McClure; 6, Cross; 7, Sloan; stroke, Penz (capt.); coxswain, Beckwell.

1910 eight-oar—Bow, Camp; 2, Todd; 3, Van Dyke (capt.); 4, Gill; 5, Hinrichsen; 6, Meigs; 7, Whitman; stroke, Livingston; coxswain, McLeod.

1913 four-oar—Bow, Bartlett; 2, Logan; 3, Smith; stroke, Scribner; coxswain, John.

RATIONAL GOLF BY JASON ROGERS.

One of the gravest faults in the driving of many very fair players is the tendency to turn the face of the club too far over and to smother or founder the ball. In nine cases out of 10 I have found that this result is produced by holding the club too lightly in the left hand and too tightly with the right. The result is that the predominance of the right hand tips the club over before the ball is reached.

There are two distinct ways of overcoming the fault. First and most important is the necessity for getting the club head back of the ball correctly in the address, and then tightly locking the left hand so that the club cannot turn around in the grip.

In the first of these illustrations I endeavor to show the correct way of presenting the face of the club to the ball. Any trifling variation will not mar the shot. In the second illustration the club is shown turned over a bit, which produces the fouled shot very similar in results to a topped ball.

By allowing the natural loft of the club face a chance to assert itself, under spin and forward impetus join hands, as it were, to produce a long, low flying ball.

Beginners are very apt to think that it is necessary to apply the club head to the ball like shown in the second illustration. They can't see how it is possible to get a straight ball from a club face with the toe further back than the heel.

In many cases the club is turned over a trifle in the swing of the ball, so if the club is pointed a bit back in the address the error is equalized, while if the club head is turned over in the address a fouled shot will more often than not be the result of any possible easing up in the grip with the left hand.

WILLIAMS VS. AMHERST JUNE 20. WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass.—The Williams-Amherst baseball game, postponed from Memorial day, will be played on June 20. This game will entertain a large crowd of Williams alumni at commencement time.

PITTSBURG AND BOSTON DIVIDE

New York, Cincinnati and Chicago Are Other Winning Teams in the National League.

NATIONAL LEAGUE STANDING.
	Won.	Lost.	P.C.
Chicago	26	15	.634
New York	27	16	.625
Cincinnati	20	19	.513
Pittsburgh	20	19	.513
St. Louis	21	24	.467
Brooklyn	20	24	.458
Philadelphia	16	28	.361
Boston	16	28	.361

Games Wednesday.
Boston 4, Pittsburgh 0.
Pittsburgh 3, Boston 2, 11 innings.
New York 3, St. Louis 0.
Cincinnati 13, Brooklyn 2.
Chicago 7, Philadelphia 3.

Games Today.
Pittsburgh at Boston, 3:15 p. m.
Chicago at Philadelphia.
Cincinnati at Brooklyn.
St. Louis at New York.

Pittsburgh and Boston divided their first double-header of the season Wednesday, the latter taking the first game, 4 to 0, and Pittsburgh the second, 3 to 2. New York easily defeated St. Louis, 7 to 0, while Cincinnati beat Brooklyn, 13 to 2, and Chicago defeated Philadelphia, 7 to 3.

BOSTON AND PITTSBURG HALVE.
The Boston Nationals halved Wednesday's games with Pittsburgh, the first being a shut out, 4 to 0, for the home team, and the second going to the visitors in the eleventh inning.

The scores:

FIRST GAME.
Innings.....1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 R.H.E.
Boston.....0 0 0 0 0 2 0 0 0—4 5 3
Pittsburgh.....0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 2 0
Batteries, Curtis and Graham; Camnitz, Philippi and Simons. Umpires, Klem and Kane.

SECOND GAME.
Innings.....1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 R.H.E.
Pittsburgh.....0 0 0 1 0 0 1 0 1—3 7 2
Boston.....2 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—2 5 1
Batteries, Adams, White, Leever and Gibson; Mattern and Rariden, Graham.

NEW YORK SHUTS OUT ST. LOUIS.
NEW YORK—Ames held the St. Louis Nationals down to five scattered hits Wednesday, while the locals batted Corridon and Backman freely, and won the third game of the series, 7 to 0. Bridwell starred, both at the bat and in the field.

The score:
Innings.....1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 R.H.E.
New York.....1 0 2 0 0 1 2 —15 0 2
St. Louis.....0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 2 0
Batteries, Ames and Myers; Corridon, Backman and Phelps. Umpires, Johnston and Moran.

CINCINNATI BEATS BROOKLYN.
BROOKLYN—The Cincinnati Nationals easily defeated Brooklyn, 13 to 2. Rucker was knocked out of the box in six innings. Scheiberg made his National League debut in the seventh, and lasted one inning, which netted seven runs. He resumed playing later, however. Deasau was also batted hard in the last two innings. Burns had the Brooklyn puzzled, except in the seventh.

Innings.....1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 R.H.E.
Cincinnati.....0 1 0 0 2 1 7 0 2—13 6 2
Brooklyn.....0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—2 0 3
Batteries, Burns and McLean; Rucker, Scheiberg, Deasau and Erwin. Umpires, O'Day and Brennan.

DARTMOUTH WINS HARVARD GAME
Dartmouth defeated Harvard 2-1 on Wednesday in the postponed baseball game on Soldiers field. A succession of errors in the field gave the visitors a victory, although Hicks struck out 10 men, twice as many as Mitchell.

Harvard's only score came in the first inning, when Rogers made a hit, stole second, continued to thru on Chadbourne's poor throw to second and scored on McLoughlin's sacrifice fly to right field. Dartmouth tied the score in the second. Chadbourne's timely... scored Hoban from third.

Mitchell brought in the winning run for Dartmouth on Chadbourne's second hit in the ninth. The score:
Innings.....1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 R.H.E.
Dartmouth.....0 1 0 0 0 0 0 1 2—4 1 1
Harvard.....1 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—1 4 1
Batteries, Mitchell and Chadbourne; Hicks and Young. Umpire, Peter McLoughlin.

CORNELL ELEVEN HAS NINE GAMES
ITHACA, N. Y.—The Cornell football schedule for 1910 has been announced by the athletic association. The game with the Carlisle Indians, which was scheduled for Nov. 10, has been canceled through the courtesy of Glen Warner. Harvard will again be played at Cambridge on Nov. 5. The schedule follows:

Sept. 24, Hobart at Ithaca.
Oct. 1, Besseneer Polytechnic at Ithaca; 8, Oberlin at Ithaca; 15, Fordham at Ithaca; 22, Vermont at Ithaca; 29, Williams at Ithaca.
Nov. 6, Harvard at Cambridge; 12, Chicago at Ithaca; 26, Pennsylvania at Philadelphia.

CHICAGO TAKES ONE 7 TO 3.
PHILADELPHIA—The Chicago Nationals won Wednesday's game here, 7 to 3. The visitors hit Sparks and Maroney very hard, while the home team played poorly in the field.

Innings.....1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 R.H.E.
Chicago.....0 1 0 0 1 2 0 0 3—7 15 3
Philadelphia.....0 0 0 0 0 2 0 0 1—3 5 6
Batteries, Cole and Archer; Sparks, Maroney and Doan. Umpires, Rigler and Emslie.

SPENCER IS RELEASED.
CLEVELAND, O.—Utility Outfielder Ray Spencer has been released by the Cleveland American League Baseball Club to the Dayton Club of the Central league.

A SECOND HANDICAP TRACK MEET PLANNED FOR BOSTON SCHOOLS

English and Commerce High Schools Are Favored to Win the Most Points in the Senior Division.

ARE THREE CLASSES

The second annual outdoor meet under the auspices of the Boston High School Athletic League will be held at Wood Island park, East Boston, Saturday afternoon. There will be three divisions of athletes this year, a senior, an intermediate and a junior class, thereby giving the younger boys a chance to compete with others of their class.

In the senior class, upon which most of the interest is shown, English high, if it were not for the fact that handicaps are given, would walk away with the meet. Most of Captain Sawyer's men will be on scratch, and they will have to display excellent form to outdistance the boys from the smaller schools. Commercial high is expected to push them to the limit, as it did last year, and at the indoor meet this spring.

The 100-yard dash should find close running, with Hardwick, Hinds and Howe of English, Rumpf of Commercial, Mooney of Mechanics and Frietas of Roxbury as favorites.

Mannix with the trio above named from English will make it interesting for the others in the 220. Ferguson of Mechanics, Mannix of English and Rumpf of Commerce will be near scratch in the quarter-mile, but should find their way through the crowd.

In the half mile, Sawyer and Reed of English, Evans of Boston Latin, Sullivan of Commerce and Scannell of Mechanics look best. These same men are also entered in the mile, but George Allen of English, who was second in his teammate Graham in the recent indoor games should win, if not too heavily handicapped.

Knudson of Boston Latin, Hall and Meannix of English and Rumpf of Commerce are the best high jumpers entered. The last two are also the best men in the broad jump. In the shot-put Meannix and Severance of English will have Rumpf of Commerce to beat.

There will be great interest in the contests for points between Meannix of English High and Rumpf of Commerce. Both of these boys are exceptional athletes and either of them should score nearly half of the points their respective teams make, as they entered in about every event they were allowed to enter.

The intermediate and junior classes usually bring out a crop of novices and little is known of their quality until they face competition. Commerce has the largest squad in these classes, while the smaller schools have a larger representation in these divisions than in the senior. Ormsby of Boston Latin should star in the junior class, while Bikofski of English is a good all-around man in the intermediate.

A number of the point winners at the indoor games are playing baseball and have forsaken the track and many of the schools have lost good men on this account.

M'ARTHUR NAMED CORNELL CAPTAIN
ITHACA, N. Y.—Edward Gaul MacArthur of Hudson, N. Y., has been elected captain of the Cornell varsity track team for the coming year. Mr. MacArthur won his track "C" this year by winning the quarter-mile in the Princeton meet, and later won second place in the quarter at the intercollegiate. He also has played end on the football team for two years, and is president of the junior class. He is in the College of Law.

NEW ENGLAND LEAGUE STANDING.

	Won.	Lost.	P.C.
New Bedford	10	14	.417
Lynn	10	14	.417
Fall River	18	14	.563
Wareham	18	14	.563
Lawrence	18	16	.525
Lowell	16	17	.485
Brookline	12	22	.353
Haverhill	12	22	.353

Games Wednesday.
Fall River 1, Worcester 0 (11 innings).
Haverhill 3, Lawrence 2.
Lowell 1, New Bedford 0.
Lynn 11, Brookline 1.

Games Today.
Haverhill at Lawrence.
Fall River at Worcester.
Brookline at Lynn.
Lowell at New Bedford.

SOUTHERN LEAGUE RESULTS.
Chattanooga 8, Montgomery 2.
Nashville 3, Mobile 2.
Atlanta 1, Birmingham 0.
New Orleans 2, Memphis 0.

PRINCETON BLANKS HOLY CROSS.
PRINCETON, N. J.—Princeton shut out the Holy Cross team Wednesday, the score being 4 to 0. Greenbaum's pitching was the feature of the game.

Innings.....1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 R.H.E.
Princeton.....0 1 0 0 0 1 2 0 4—4 3 1
Holy Cross.....0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 0 0
Batteries, Greenbaum and Dawson; Foley and Sweeney. Umpire, Waldron.

ROBERTS TO LEAD AMHERST.
AMHERST—Ernest Merion Roberts '11 has been elected captain of the Amherst College track team for 1911. He is a sprinter and broad jumper.

Man Who Is Directing Work of Local American League Team This Year

(Photo by Horner-Jordan Co., Boston.)
P. J. DONOVAN.
Boston American baseball nine.

CUTLER REMAINS HARVARD STROKE

Boat Goes Much Smoother Than When Sargent Set Pace—Waid Still at 5 and Bacon 7.

R. W. Cutler was again in his old seat at stroke in the Harvard varsity crew Wednesday afternoon, the only change from the old order being that Bacon rowed 7 and Waid 5. Metcalf went back to 3 again, after being tried at 7. In this order the eight rowed upstream in easy stretches to the head of the long straightaway above the Stillman infirmary.

The work of the crew proved the most satisfactory of the week. The boat was steadier and spaced out a greater distance than under the changed order of the two preceding days. With Cutler at stroke the men individually seemed to use their strength to greater advantage, employing a longer stroke than with Sargent.

The crew launched the new English boat and took a short paddle before going out for regular practice. Owing to the fact that this boat is trimmed one inch further aft than the old shell, it floated the eight somewhat higher and did not settle quite so far at the end of the stroke. The order of the day was: Stroke, Cutler; 7, Bacon; 6, Newton; 5, Waid; 4, Withington; 3, Metcalf; 2, Sargent; bow, Whitney; coxswain, King.

After the university practice, the three university fours raced over the mile and seven-eighths course in the basin. Crew B, stroked by Waite, won over crew A, stroked by Foster, by about two lengths and a half. The third four finished about seven lengths behind the winner. The second crew led from the start, averaging 34 strokes to the minute over a greater part of the course, but finishing with a 36 stroke. The orders:

Crew A—Stroke, Foster; 3, Balch; 2, Hooper; bow, Watkins; coxswain, Wood. Crew B—Stroke, Waite; 3, Smith; 2, Strong; bow, Loring; coxswain, Kenston. Crew C—Stroke, Trumbull; 3, Hoar; 2, Peabody; bow, Anderson; coxswain, Strauss.

WEST POINT RUNS AWAY WITH SCORE
WEST POINT, N. Y.—West Point batted Hammond, Colgate's pitcher, hard Wednesday, getting 22 hits, which, with errors, netted 20 runs. Colgate got 4 runs. The score:

Innings.....1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 R.H.E.
West Point.....1 0 2 2 2 5 2 —20 22 2
Colgate.....0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0—4 6 5
Batteries—Riley and Hyatt; Hammond and Leonard.

GLENDON TO COACH NAVY AGAIN.
ANNAPOLIS, Md.—Richard Glendon, coach of the naval academy crews since 1904, has accepted the terms of the navy athletic association to handle aquatic another year. In the season just past the academy crews won six out of seven races, the only defeat being in the first race of the season, which was won by Harvard. The outlook for next season is bright.

MR. FROTHINGHAM IN FINALS.
The finals for the spring cup at the Country Club will be played for by Lieut. Gov. L. A. Frothingham and L. Haughton. Mr. Frothingham has played much more golf this season than in the past and he is near the form he showed several years ago when he was considered one of the best amateur golfers in the state.

PITCHING RECORD BY WORMWOOD.
WORCESTER, Mass.—Harry Wormwood of the Fall River team of the New England league made a new eastern no-hit no-run record here Wednesday when he pitched 11 innings without allowing a hit or a run in the game with Worcester.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION RESULTS.
Kansas City 3, Louisville 0.
Milwaukee 3, Columbus 2.
St. Paul 2, Indianapolis 0.
Toledo 0, Minneapolis 1.

PHILADELPHIA AND BOSTON GOLFERS IN LEAD AT NOBLE

Mrs. E. C. Wheeler, Jr., the Present Eastern Champion, Has Best Card for the First Round.

MRS. BARLOW NEXT

PHILADELPHIA—The second round of medal play in the women's golf championship tournament of 1910 is being contested this morning over the links of the Huntingdon Valley Country Club with Boston and Philadelphia players leading the field as a result of the first round which was played Wednesday.

Mrs. E. C. Wheeler, Jr., of Boston, the present champion, turned in the fine card of 86, for the first round. She was closely followed by Mrs. R. H. Barlow of Philadelphia with an 87, Miss F. C. Osgood with the same score and Mrs. C. F. Fox with an 88. Miss Julia R. Mix, last year's metropolitan district champion, and the leading New York representative, came next with an 89.

Curiously enough the four leaders are the same as have divided first and second place in this event since the Eastern Association began to hold championships.

Mrs. Barlow was the steadiest player Wednesday. She was out in 43 and home in 44 and had only one hole worse than six in the entire round. That was a seven at the ninth. She accomplished one of the best feats of the day when she did the third hole in five, something that has been done only two or three times in the play of the last three days.

Miss Harriet S. Curtis of Boston won both the driving and the approaching and putting contests. Her drives, made on the fairway of the third hole, were 175, 180 and 188 yards, a total of 543 yards, averaging 181 yards apiece. In the approaching and putting from different distances she got down three balls in eight strokes. Miss Griescom, Miss Osgood and Mrs. Wheeler each took nine.

The scores, including handicaps:

MEDAL PLAY—FIRST ROUND.

Mrs. E. C. Wheeler, Jr., Boston.....86 0 86
Mrs. R. H. Barlow, Philadelphia.....87 0 87
Miss F. C. Osgood, Country.....87 0 87
Miss J. R. Mix, Englewood.....87 0 87
Mrs. C. F. Fox, Huntingdon.....88 0 88
Miss J. R. Townsend, Merion.....93 8 87
Miss F. C. Griescom, Merion.....90 7 89
Miss J. R. Griescom, Philadelphia.....98 8 90
Miss G. D. Dues, Philadelphia.....92 8 91
Miss G. H. Dues, Philadelphia.....92 8 91
Miss H. S. Curtis, Country.....91 0 91
Miss G. H. Curtis, Country.....91 0 91
Mrs. W. F. Moran, Baltisford.....102 8 94
Miss E. W. Huntington, Baltisford.....102 8 94
Miss G. S. Temple, Wollaston.....101 4 97
Miss E. S. Porter, Country.....101 4 97
Miss W. W. Porter, Country.....101 4 97
Miss A. Phelps, Springfield.....103 0 103
Miss E. Phelps, Springfield.....117 11 108
Miss E. Phelps, Springfield.....117 11 108
Miss M. K. Wetmore, no card.

COLBY WINS GAME IN SEVENTEENTH
BRUNSWICK, Me.—Seventeen innings were necessary to decide the Bowdoin-Colby game here Wednesday. Colby won in the seventeenth by bunting hits on Hobbs. Colby got a run in the second, and Bowdoin tied the score in the sixth. From the sixth until the seventeenth neither team was able to send a man across the plate.

Both pitchers held out well for the entire game, Goode of Colby being in the better condition at the end. The game was full of fast, spectacular plays by both teams. In the last half of the last inning Bowdoin got two men on bases, but was unable to score.

The score:
Innings.....1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 R.H.E.
Colby.....0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 2 6 8
Bowdoin.....0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 1 6 6
Batteries, Ralph Goode and Cary; Hobbs and Wilson. Umpire, Williams.

SYRACUSE WINS; COY UNSTEADY
NEW HAVEN, Conn.—Syracuse defeated Yale 3 to 1 Wednesday, Ted Coy's unsteadiness in the fifth giving the visitors victory and all three runs.

Tommers relieved Coy and held the visitors safe the rest of the afternoon. Captain Logan scored Yale's only tally in the third, pounding Cottrell for a two-bagger and scoring on Murphy's single. The fielding feature was Schoepfin's two wonderful catches. The score:

Innings.....1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 R.H.E.
Syracuse.....0 0 0 3 0 0 0 0 3 5 0
Yale.....0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 1 7 1
Batteries, Cottrell and Holmes; Coy, Tommers and Carhart. Umpire, Beecher.

GOLF ENTRIES MUST BE IN TODAY.
NEWTON, Mass.—The next amateur championship of the Massachusetts Golf Association starts next Wednesday at the Brae-Burn C. C. in West Newton, and entries must be in the hands of the secretary of the association before 6 p. m. today. Pairings for the championship will be made tomorrow.

BASEBALL FRIDAY AT 3.15 P. M.
CINCINNATI
National League, Columbus Ave. Grounds.
NAT. MON. TURN, CINCINNATI.
Tickets at Wright & Ditson's, 344 Washington st.; Connelly & Burke, Adams House; Canlin's, at Young's and Parker's.

ROAD MAPS AND W. B. Clarke Co. GUIDE BOOKS
26 & 28 Tremont St.

NEW YORK AND ST. LOUIS IN TIE

Chicago Defeats Boston in a Fast 12-Inning Game, While Philadelphia and Detroit Win.

AMERICAN LEAGUE STANDING.
	Won.	Lost.	P.C.
New York	27	11	.711
Philadelphia	27	13	.675
Detroit	20	16	.556
Boston	22	19	.537
Cleveland	16	20	.444
Washington	17	26	.396
Chicago	14	23	.383
St. Louis	8	32	.200

Games Wednesday.
Chicago 5, Boston 4, 12 innings.
Detroit 5, Washington 1.
Philadelphia 13, Cleveland 1.
St. Louis 4, New York 4, 7 innings.

Games Today.
Boston at Chicago.
Philadelphia at Cleveland.
New York at St. Louis.
Washington at Detroit.

New York and St. Louis played a 4 to 4 tie in the American league Wednesday, the game being called at the end of the seventh inning. Chicago defeated Boston in a 12-inning contest, 5 to 4, while Philadelphia beat Cleveland, 13 to 1, and Detroit won from Washington, 5 to 1.

GAME CALLED WITH SCORE TIE.
ST. LOUIS—The game between the New York Americans and St. Louis was called at the end of the seventh inning. The score was tied at 4 to 4. St. Louis evened up the score in its half of the seventh. For five innings Philadelphia did not allow a hit.

The score:
Innings.....1 2 3 4 5 6 7 R.H.E.
St. Louis.....0 0 0 0 3 0 1—4 3 3
New York.....0 0 0 0 0 0 4—4 5 2
Batteries, Bailey and Kilfinger; Warhop and Mitchell. Umpires, Connelly and Veen.

CHICAGO WINS IN TWELFTH.
CHICAGO—The Chicago Americans won Wednesday's game from Boston in the twelfth by a score of 5 to 4. French, Chicago's right fielder, was the particular star of the game, being brilliant in hitting and running.

The score:
Innings.....1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 R.H.E.
Chicago.....0 0 2 0 0 1 0 0 0—5 7 1
Boston.....0 1 0 0 0 0 1 0 0—4 10 7
Batteries, French and Payne; C. Smith, Wood and Carrigan. Umpires, Sheridan and Kerin.

CLEVELAND FOUND EASY.
CLEVELAND—The Cleveland Americans were easy for Philadelphia Wednesday, the latter winning, 13 to 1. Bender was effective, while Berger and Doane were hit hard. Twelve men went to bat in the seventh, Oldring and Collins making two hits apiece in the same round.

Innings.....1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 R.H.E.
Philadelphia.....3 2 0 0 0 0 2—13 17 2
Cleveland.....0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0—1 5 5
Batteries, Bender and Lapp; Berger, Doane, Koestner and Bemis. Umpires, Egan and Evans.

DETROIT HAS 11 IN A ROW.
DETROIT—Groom pitched good ball for five innings Wednesday, but weakened in the sixth, and Detroit made it three straight from Washington and 11 in a row.

Innings.....1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 R.H.E.
Detroit.....0 0 0 0 0 2 2 1—5 8 0
Washington.....

WEARING AGREEMENT ON PARK AND COPLEY SQUARE PROPOSALS

The differences between the Copley Square Trust and the Park Square Real Estate Trust over the proposed development of the old Art Museum site and the Park square property seem today to be in a fair way toward settlement, if the latest plans presented to Mayor Fitzgerald by representatives of the two trusts and the Boston Chamber of Commerce are carried out. A proposition was put before the mayor late Wednesday, whereby the city would be given about 15,500 square feet of land for street purposes.

By this plan, the city will have a wide-avenue running from Copley square to Park square. From Copley square to Berkeley street it will follow the line of the present St. James avenue, which will be considerably widened on its southern side. From Berkeley street to Arlington street, which will be extended to Columbus avenue, it will deflect slightly in the direction of Boylston street, and from Arlington street to Park square it will follow Providence street, enlarged to a 100-foot boulevard.

On the art museum site will be erected a large hotel. As a concession to the owners of the land, the main part of the front of the hotel will be built out to the street line, but the two corners bordering on Dartmouth street and Trinity place will be beveled off, thus practically eliminating any obstruction to travel.

In addition, by the ceasings of the Park square land trust, Dartmouth street and Trinity place will be widened 12 feet each, and Stuart street at the rear of the old art museum site, will be widened 25 feet, and may be continued, a 65-foot avenue, to Columbus avenue, coming out about opposite Ferdinand street.

The Copley Square Trust asks for a release of restrictions upon its proposed hotel, so that it may be built to the street lines and may be raised above the present 90-foot limit in height.

LOCAL AND TELEGRAPH BRIEFS.

SOUTH FRAMINGHAM—Arrangements have been completed for the annual meeting of the New England Chautauqua Assembly at Montwait, in this town, to be held this year July 19-20. Among the speakers, if Congress adjourns in time, will be Congressman Eugene N. Foss.

Dr. Charles Peabody, the archaeological expert, sent out by the Peabody museum of Harvard on a field expedition to the mound area of North Carolina, has returned to Cambridge, bringing with him many valuable relics.

Fire destroyed one of the storage sheds of the Continental Export Company's rendering plant on Spectacle island early today. Charles King, night watchman, discovered the blaze in the boiler room and woke the 25 employees, who live in nearby cottages. They tried to fight the fire, but it was found necessary to call the fire boat, engine 47.

The general council of the Society of Colonial Wars on Friday and Saturday will hold its annual meeting in Maine and visit the old castle Pemquid, part of old Ft. William Henry, built in 1692.

The city departments of Melrose are to adopt a new and uniform system of bookkeeping during the summer and by fall the system will be in working order. The new system will be patterned after that recommended by the state supervisor of statistics.

The board of directors of the Malden Y. M. C. A. was reduced from nine to five members and the board of trustees from five to three at a meeting at the Y. M. C. A. building Wednesday evening.

WELLESLEY—A competition for prizes aggregating $3000 for papers on business problems, to be conducted during the next academic year, was announced at Wellesley College today.

WAKEFIELD, Mass.—A warm controversy is on in this town between the members of the Merchants Association and the Lynnfield Central League (a town improvement association of Lynnfield). The local business men, adhering to the agreement which has existed for several years, have refused to give any advertising matter for the souvenir program which the league is publishing for its Old Home day celebration, June 17.

The new Mystic Valley parkway running from Main street, Medford, to the Mystic lakes between West Medford and Winchester, has been completed by the metropolitan park commission, and will be open to the public by the end of the week. The commission has taken away the large force of workmen who have been at work for several months and it now only remains for the official trip of inspection to be made before the gates are thrown open.

BRAINTREE, Mass.—Founders day will be observed at Thayer Academy Saturday afternoon. The address will be delivered by U. S. District Attorney Asa P. French.

KINGSTON, R. I.—Rhode Island State Agricultural College graduated 17 students today. The oration by former Governor George H. Usher was on "Stop a Minute." Gov. Aram J. Pothier, speaking on "Soil Culture in Rhode Island," declared that the present movement to recolonize farms in the state is the beginning of a new era for Rhode Island.

SPAIN-PORTUGAL PLOT SUSPECTED AMONG MASONS

Reports Declare Separate Masonic Organization Seeks to Form New Pan-Latin Republic.

(By the United Press.)

MADRID—Although the Vatican has denied the story that a warning was sent by a cardinal to King Alfonso and also to King Manuel of Portugal of a widespread plot for a pan-Latin republic, there is no longer much doubt, it is said, that such a conspiracy exists, or that it is backed by powerful interests, probably, in the minds of many, the European Continental Masons.

This organization is wholly different from the Masonic organizations of America, which may be expected soon to repudiate the Spanish and Portuguese lodges as they have already done those of France and Italy, on account of their participation in political and religious controversies.

No information relative to the alleged plot in Spain had been received at Masonic headquarters in Boston up to noon today. Oliver E. Roberts, librarian of the grand lodge of Massachusetts, was of the opinion that the report, in so far as it referred to the Spanish Masons, was without foundation. Mr. Roberts said that the Masons of America would not interfere.

Leon M. Abbott, of the law firm of Bates, Noy & Abbott and a thirty-third degree Mason, today said that the Spanish Masons govern themselves and that the Masons of the United States would not interfere in anything they did. The alleged participation of the Spanish Masons in a plot to destroy the existing government in the Iberian peninsula would not be sanctioned, however, said Mr. Abbott, by the American Masons, as it is not the policy of the latter to concern themselves with religious and political differences.

ALUMNI OF BROWN VOTE SECTARIAN FEATURES DOWN

Requirements as to Religion of Trustees and Fellows Is Opposed by 1785 Out of 2281 Graduates in Ballot.

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—Members of all denominations affected by the proposed change in the charter of Brown University whereby all sectarian requirements in the election of trustees, etc., should be eliminated, have recorded themselves overwhelmingly in support of the step, as is shown by a careful analysis of the poll of the alumni just taken by the Associated Alumni and the Brown Alumni Monthly. By the majority of 1785 in a total vote of 2281 to date the graduates favor the change. Only 5 per cent of all living Brown graduates are on record as opposed.

No question has interested the alumni of Brown so widely, and to no appeal for an expression of opinion relating to a policy of the college has there ever been so generous a response. The vote was on this report: "That the purpose of the founders of the university in the light of present conditions would be best fulfilled by the removal of specific denominational requirements from the charter."

The four denominations which the proposed elimination of sectarian restrictions directly affects, the Baptists, Congregationalists, Episcopalians and Friends, have unequivocally registered in favor of the change, with a vote of 1170 to 189. The charter provides that of the 36 trustees, 22 shall be Baptists, 5 Friends or Quakers, 4 Congregationalists and 5 Episcopalians, and that 8 of the 12 Fellows shall be Baptists or Antipaedobaptists.

REELECT MALDEN CHIEF OF SCHOOLS

At a special meeting of the Malden school board held Wednesday evening, Superintendent of Schools Henry D. Hervey was reelected for another year and his salary was increased from $2700 to $2800 per annum.

The committee voted to hold an exhibition of the work of the manual training department June 15, at the old high school building. The members of the committee were then assigned to the following schools to present diplomas at graduation time: High, Chairman Erskine F. Bickford; Belmont and Faulkner, Miss Hattie M. Wilcox; Maplewood and Linden, George H. Johnson; Center and Glenwood, Arthur W. Walker; Daniels, West and Emerson, Joseph Wiggins.

PAPYRIANS HOLD A MERRY OUTING

The Papyrus Club held its annual outing at the Belmont Spring Club, Belmont, Wednesday afternoon and evening. The Papyrians participated in various athletic contests, including baseball, tennis and golf after which a short play was given by club talent featuring in a humorous way public events of present interest.

TRAVELERS CONVENTION OPENS.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass.—Springfield, in gay attire, welcomed today the delegates to the fifteenth annual convention of the New England Association of United Commercial Travelers. The first of the three days sessions which opened this afternoon was well attended.

Brief News About the State

BEVERLY.

Thirty days before the state election Tuesday, Nov. 8, every voter in the city will receive a copy of the new charter which has been passed by the Legislature subject to a referendum. If the charter, which provides for a single branch, with one alderman from each ward and three elected at large, for a mayor with a two-year term and other changes from the present draft, is accepted, the city election in December will be held under its provisions.

City reports for the year 1909 will be out next week.

The Cameron Car Company Wednesday shipped one of its flying machine motors to Japan. It was purchased by a young Japanese at Harvard, who is planning to try it out on a machine of his own design when he returns to Japan for the summer.

Schools close for the vacation season on June 30.

BROCKTON.

The Rev. L. B. Coddling will give an illustrated lecture Friday evening in the Pearl Street Methodist church on "Ben Hur." Mrs. Everett M. Willis will furnish solos.

The Arion Club will hold its first annual meeting this evening at Frank A. McClaskey's studio.

The committee of arrangements for the senior class play at the high school Friday evening consists of Miss Susa W. Henry, Miss Cora U. Knowles, Miss Inez Packard, Miss Sarah Arnold, Benjamin S. Schubert, Joseph E. Hill, Stewart W. Gurney, George W. Washburn, Walter Gilday and Howard Gardner.

The Opportunity Club of the South Street Methodist church will go to Mayflower grove Saturday on an outing and camera hunt.

The Noddle Island cricket team will play against the Brockton team on the Brockton grounds Saturday afternoon.

BRAINTREE.

The Men's Club of the South Methodist Episcopal church Wednesday evening elected: President, I. Wendall Gammons; vice-president, Henry T. Cushman; secretary and treasurer, George O. McDonald; executive committee, I. Wendall Gammons, Henry T. Cushman, George McDonald, C. H. Brown, Fred A. Powell and Edwin A. Shaw.

The Rev. D. R. Freeman of All Souls church will deliver the address before the Firemen's Relief Association Sunday.

RANDOLPH.

The Woman's Alliance of the Church of the Trinity has elected: President, Mrs. W. B. Chubbuck; vice-president, Mrs. Albert Hawes; secretary, Mrs. Elizabeth K. Howard; treasurer, Mrs. Albert Porter.

Golden Star Rebekah lodge, I. O. O. F., will hold a memorial service in Odd Fellows hall Friday evening.

Children's day will be observed in the First Congregational church Sunday.

WALTHAM.

The commission on the building of a new city hall and public library building has announced that it will give a hearing in the council chamber of the city hall on the evening of June 16.

City Treasurer G. B. Willard has awarded a loan of $40,000 to the Old Colony Trust Company at 4.05 per cent discount.

The Wimodausis Masonic Association will hold its annual meeting this afternoon.

WEST BRIDGEWATER.

The annual breakfast of the Howard Club of Howard Seminary will be held in Boston Monday.

MR. WICKERSHAM URGES STUDENTS TO BE THOROUGH

BETHLEHEM, Pa.—"The besetting sin of our people today is superficiality," declared Attorney-General Wickersham in an address to the graduating class on the one hundred and twenty-fifth anniversary today of the Nazareth Hall Military Academy, from which Mr. Wickersham graduated. "We are too content with doing a thing as we call it 'well enough,' and fail to strive for thoroughness."

A few weeks ago I attended a banquet at which the great English general, Lord Kitchener, spoke. He declared that the thing that had most impressed him in inspecting West Point was the 'thoroughness with which the work of the cadets was done.'

JAPAN'S RARE ART CALLS PROFESSOR

Prof. Denman Waldo Ross of Harvard College and Joseph Lindon Smith, a Boston artist, have started on their journey to Japan, where a month will be spent before the round the world trip is continued. Dr. Ross, who spent several months in Japan last year, is again visiting to acquire rare objects of art.

COUNTERVAILING DUTY ON PULP.

WASHINGTON—The treasury department today invoked the countervailing duty, specified in the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill, against woodpulp and printing paper manufactured from wood cut on crown lands in Quebec prior to May 1, 1910.

SEEK TO PURIFY HOUGHS NECK.

The Houghs Neck Associates Wednesday evening at a meeting appointed a committee to wait upon Chief of Police Burrell and ask him to take immediate measures to drive objectionable clubs from the beach.

QUINCY.

The directors of the Woodward Institute for Girls have elected: Superintendent, Albert L. Barbour; principal, Frederick W. Plummer; teachers, Charlotte J. Burgess, Abbie O. Stoddard, Grace F. Burke, Mary W. Dinagan, Addie E. Towne, C. Louise Steele, Martha E. MacCarty, Georgianna C. Lane, John D. Buckingham and Susie T. Sprout.

Wollaston lodge of Masons has appointed a committee to consider the advisability of erecting a Masonic temple. It is proposed to raise funds during the summer months so that active operations may be commenced before the new year.

John Hancock lodge 224, I. O. O. F., conferred the first degree on three candidates Wednesday.

The music committee of the Bethany Congregational church gave a reception to Madame Beale Morey, the church organist, to members of the choir and to the boys' vested choir, in the chapel Wednesday evening. The Rev. Dr. Hardy was master of ceremonies.

The graduation exercises of the grammar schools will take place Wednesday.

MIDDLEBORO.

The Epworth League of the Methodist church has elected: President, Frederick Braly; vice-presidents, Mrs. A. E. Thomas, Mrs. J. E. Phillips, Mrs. Sarah Hunt; treasurer, Miss Gladys Sands; secretary, A. E. Thomas; chairman finance committee, John Feitch.

Middleboro high will play Abington high here Saturday afternoon.

A recital and concert was given by the pupils of Miss Abbie L. Warren in the Unitarian church Wednesday evening. The young people who took part were Randolph Brickett, Doris Wood, Helen Perkins, Madeline Burgess, Stella Norris, Ethel Shaw, Katherine Wilbur, Guy Brackett, Florence Shaw, Rose Jordan, Marion Thomas, Edna Klar, Myrtle Philbrook, Matilda Oneto, David Burgess and Maud Wesson. They were assisted by Miss Olive Whitely, violin soloist, and Miss Helen Leavitt, pianist.

WINTHROP.

The Rev. S. K. Gifford will preach in the Unitarian church children's Sunday, June 12. This church will be closed during July and August and extensive improvements made in the auditorium.

At the June meeting of the Historical and Improvement Association, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Baltzell, Mrs. A. W. Leonard and Miss Gertrude Belcher were elected members. The society will hold their regular meetings during July and August, but will not give any more suppers until September.

June 15 is the date set for another town meeting, when important matters will be voted on.

The Young Woman's Guild of the Episcopal church has added $200 to the building fund of the parish house as a result of their entertainment.

EASTON.

The Fromat Society is to hold its annual outing June 18 in Williams grove. The committee to provide sports consists of Clarence Anderson, Charles Olsen and Edward Anderson.

Mrs. Samuel J. Howes has invited the Kings Daughters of the Baptist church to a social at her home on Center street Friday evening.

Next Sunday will be observed at the Methodist church as children's day.

Word has been received that the post-office department on Tuesday advanced the postoffice at South Easton from the fourth class to the third presidential class, which will allow the postmaster a salary of $1000.

WHITMAN.

Invitations have been sent out for the graduation exercises of the high school in the town hall June 20.

The work of extending the water mains to Northville will begin in a few days. The citizens in that section will hold a celebration as soon as the water is introduced.

The shoe manufacturers in town are combining to secure lower freight rates. Mrs. C. W. Cushing has sold her residence on Temple street to W. V. Everson, who buys for occupation.

BRIDGEWATER.

A large number of graduates of the Bridgewater state normal school will attend the fifty-seventh reunion Saturday, June 18.

The graduating exercises of the model school will be held Tuesday afternoon, June 21.

The Owl Club will hold a dance Friday evening in the town hall.

The Epworth League of the Methodist church will entertain the East Bridgewater League in the local church Friday night.

ROCKLAND.

At Grand Army hall Wednesday evening, there was a joint debate between Hartstiff camp, S. of V., and Gen. George G. Meade camp of Abington.

Mrs. Harry S. Torrey entertained the Home Circle of the Congregational church Wednesday afternoon.

W. C. T. U. members were the guests of Miss Bertha Lewellyn Wednesday evening.

EAST BRIDGEWATER.

The Junior Epworth League will hold a social Friday evening in the church vestry.

The graduating exercises of the Allen school will be held Friday afternoon.

John Keith has been drawn as juror by the selectmen for the June term of the superior court at Plymouth next week.

WAKEFIELD.

Miss Hannah Ardill of the Franklin school will go to the first grade of the Lincoln school to take the place of Miss Agnes Anderson, resigned. Miss Fannie S. Knight will be transferred from the primary department of the Lincoln school to the first grade at the Woodville building. Miss Grace Hart of Plainfield, Mass., has been elected the successor of Miss Maude E. Claff as teacher of the fourth grade in the Greenwood school and Miss Camilla Moses has taken Miss Clara H. Frederick's place as teacher of Latin and Greek at the high school. Successors to Miss Maude E. Black, supervisor of drawing; Miss Minnie Clough of the ninth grade at the Lincoln building and Miss Ardill may be chosen at the school board meeting Friday night. Miss Killam of Haverhill is substituting as the drawing teacher.

Qm.-Sergt. James H. Keough of company A, sixth regiment, returned Wednesday from the German rifle tournament in New Jersey with a silver cup, three medals and $50 in cash. Musician George W. Chesley won $165 in cash and a trophy valued at $85.

Prof. Albert P. Morse of Wellesley College will give a lecture in the high school building tonight under the auspices of the Wakefield Improvement Association.

MEDFORD.

The Brooks commandery, U. O. G. C., entertained members of the grand lodge and neighboring lodges Wednesday evening, including Grand Commander William Blinn, Deputy Grand Commander Edmund L. Grundy of Melrose, Grand Keeper of Records W. O. Crowther, V. G. C. Mrs. Emma B. Chase, G. H. William W. Lansing.

This evening in Grand Army hall a union meeting of Sarah E. Fuller tent, D. of V., and Gen. S. C. Lawrence camp, S. of V., will be held.

The West Medford Woman's League has elected: President, Mrs. A. H. Harman; vice-president, Mrs. Thomas Foulkes; secretary, Mrs. John Hopkins; treasurer, Mrs. David W. Lawson; members of executive committee, Mrs. Frederick Blandford, Mrs. Julia Perkins, Mrs. N. P. Richardson, Mrs. John Wild and Mrs. Gilman B. Bolton.

CHELSEA.

The land at the corner of Everett avenue and Fourth street, on which the Frank B. Fay school was formerly located, containing 19,747 feet, has been sold by the city to Benjamin N. Cohen for $3000. The money will be used for edgestones.

Mr. and Mrs. William L. Davis of Parker street have tendered the use of their grounds for the annual cradle roll call of the Central Congregational church June 21.

The graduating class of the Shurtleff school has elected as class party reception committee: Fred A. Pitcher, Miss Eva S. Tyler, Miss Baker; as music committee, Ralph Manning, Ruth Watt, Hattie Elmquist; as floor director, Sumner Prior; as aids, John Coleman, Edward Cullen, Elmer Strongberg, Mollie Herbert, Iola Holland.

MALDEN.

Patrolmen Charles T. Costello and James J. Long have each been presented with a check for $50 for a recent capture.

The Monday Club industrial school held an exhibition of the cooking and sewing classes all day Wednesday.

A reception was given Wednesday to grand regent G. H. Wiley of the Royal Arcanum in Marcus and Esther halls under the auspices of Mystic Side council. Assisting the grand regent was the entire board of grand officers. Addresses were made by the grand regent, Gurney L. Hunt, regent of Mystic Side council; Past Grand Regent John J. Hogan of Lowell and Grand Vice-Regent Ernest W. Hobson of Palmer.

The annual baseball game between the high school and the alumni will be played on the athletic field Saturday afternoon.

DEDHAM.

The Dedham Institution for Savings has elected: President, Winslow Warren; vice-presidents, Gen. Stephen M. Weld and Clifton P. Baker; clerk and treasurer, Alfred Hewins; board of trustees, Augustus B. Endicott, A. Ward Lamson, Don Gleason Hill, John H. Burdakin, Winslow Warren, Henry D. Humphrey, Henry R. Guild, John L. Wakefield, Gen. Stephen M. Weld, Dr. Andrew H. Hodgdon, Judge Frederick D. Ely, Frederick J. Stimson, Clifton P. Baker, Cornelius A. Taft and Winthrop H. Wade.

The heirs of Samuel D. Cobb have sold their estate on Village avenue to Joseph Guild. The house and land has an assessed valuation of about $5000.

EVERETT.

Thomas J. Huey will be acting mayor for the balance of the week and a part of next week during the absence of Mayor Charles Bruce.

Wednesday evening the young women of Agatha chapter of Grace Episcopal church held a lawn party on the church grounds.

At the next meeting of the Board of Trade the subject for discussion will be "Suggested Changes for the Present City Charter."

This evening the Glendale Methodist Sunday school will give an entertainment in aid of the annual picnic at Lake Quannapowitt, Wakefield, June 25.

HANSON.

The members of Hanson Grange celebrated "Children's Night" Wednesday evening, under the direction of an entertainment committee composed of Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Calder and Mrs. Baker.

Copyright 1910
The House of Kuppenheimer
Chicago

What is "quality" in men's clothes?

IT'S in the fabric—the weave—the sheen—the soft, rich blending of colors—the shading of tones. It's in the draping—in graceful lines—symmetry, proportion. It is in a hundred details, hard to define, but easy to recognize.

Your own native sense of quality will substantiate all we say for Kuppenheimer Clothes.

There is something sufficiently and distinctively worthy in them that makes them stand high in the estimation of men who stand high in the estimation of their fellow men.

The newest summer styles are worth your while. At the better clothiers everywhere.

The House of Kuppenheimer

CHICAGO NEW YORK BOSTON

JOHN E. COUSENS COAL CO

781 COMMONWEALTH AVE. Telephone Brookline 1750, 1751, 1752

"Coal at Lowest Prices for the Year"

WOBURN.

The St. Charles parish will have its annual picnic at Pinehurst park, July 4. The Gabolotte Club is planning a weekend house party at Rockport, going down Thursday, June 16, and returning Monday, June 20.

The Ladies Industrial Society of the Baptist church will give a social and entertainment in the church vestry this evening.

A cadet club is being formed among the members of the St. Charles C. T. A. Society, and will begin drilling at once in order to be in the Fourth of July parade.

READING.

The boys of the Y. M. C. A. will go into camp the last two weeks in July, probably at Asbury grove, Hamilton, Mass.

"An Evening in Birdland," illustrated by stereopticon, will be the subject of a lecture in the Y. M. C. A. building, June 21, by Edward Avis, the naturalist, under the auspices of Gilman L. Parker's class of the Congregational Sunday school.

On Friday, June 17, the annual picnic of the Sunday school of the Christian Union church, will be held at Canobie Lake, N. H.

MELROSE.

Superintendent of schools John C. Anthony has been unanimously reelected by the school committee.

Children's day exercises will be held in the First Baptist church Sunday and at the evening service a concert is to be given.

The Melrose baseball team is to open its season Saturday at Pine Banks park with the sailors of the United States battleship North Dakota.

At a special meeting of the First Baptist church, Walter Newhall was elected treasurer to succeed Ernest L. Carr, resigned. Mr. Newhall has been assistant treasurer for 12 years.

A. C. Hallenbeck

Dry Goods, Notions,
Gents' Furnishings

6209 W. Harrison Street

OAK PARK, ILLINOIS

RAILROAD BUSINESS ASSOCIATION ISSUES PLEA FOR INDUSTRY

NEW YORK—The general executive committee of the Railway Business Association, which within its membership represents $800,000,000 of invested capital, which speaks for a group of industries giving employment to 1,500,000 workmen, and upon which 6,000,000 people depend for support, met here Wednesday and, at the close of its session, gave out a statement in part as follows, addressed to Congress, to the railways, to the shippers and to the public:

"The question of whether the railroads are entitled to a general advance in freight rates is now before the public. The merits of individual rates will come before the interstate commerce commission. During the period of uncertainty as to whether rates filed are reasonable or otherwise there will be a disturbance of industrial conditions. It is therefore of the greatest importance that the way shall be cleared for the speediest possible decision by the commission. To that end the Railway Business Association appeals."

"1.—To Congress: That the President of the United States having recommended a provision governing the power of the interstate commerce commission over freight rate changes, such provision be enacted forthwith, to go into effect upon its passage. By this recommendation of the President the powers and duties of the interstate commerce commission are to be greatly enlarged and in the present emergency it is decreed that the approval of hundreds of thousands of freight rates must be given by the commission before effectuation. It is deemed proper, therefore, to urge that serious attention be given the organization upon which the enormous demand for increased output is to be made. Nothing could be more disastrous to the railroads and all the commerce and industry of our country than to stake all that is proposed to be staked upon the commission, only to find that, with its organization, it cannot do the work within a reasonable time. We urge that such appropriation as may be found necessary be made to enable the commission to cope with their increased duties."

"2.—To the railways: That they facilitate the work of the commission by having their schedules so arranged and the reason therefor so clearly set forth as to require the least possible time to comprehend their scope and bearing, and that the officials of the railways acquaint the shippers more fully with the reasons for freight advances."

"3.—To the shippers: That they look upon the railways precisely as they would look upon any other concern for whose solvency the management and not the government is responsible. A going concern must have an adequate revenue. The present problem involves not merely the amount which the railway shall receive for carrying a consignment, but its ability to carry it at all. It embraces not alone the transportation efficiency, but general prosperity. We suggest to the heads of freight-paying enterprises that they study this question at first hand in the broadest way. By so doing they may conclude that an advance be for their own best interests."

"4.—To the public: That they frankly concede to the railways the necessity for adequate revenue and await with patience and good nature the findings of the commission as to the reasonableness of proposed rates."

"The members of the Railway Business Association have but recently emerged from a period of closed shops, idle men and disastrous losses, due to cessation of railway purchases. We contemplate with grave anxiety the possibility of undue restriction of railway revenues. Ours is not the plea of a special interest whose prosperity we would purchase at the expense of their interests, or of the general public. If our product is not bought the commerce of the country cannot be efficiently carried; if our men are wholly or partly off the pay roll, the stoppage of their outlays commensurate itself to millions more who make or sell them necessities."

"As the basis of our belief in the necessity of increased revenues for the railroads, we submit:

"Either the railroads stand alone among all other business enterprises in their ability to meet universal increases in cost of labor and material without advancing the prices of what they have to sell, or else an advance in rates is necessary."

Leaders Discuss Railroad Bill With the President

WASHINGTON—President Taft is assured by Senators Aldrich and Elkins that a satisfactory railroad bill will come from the House and Senate conferees to whom the pending measure is committed.

The President made it plain to the two senators, also to Senator Crane and other Senate and House leaders who called on him Wednesday afternoon and evening, that he favors retention of the capitalization control sections of the bill and reduction of the time which shall be allowed the interstate commerce commission to pass on and suspend increases of freight rates.

Commission Is Preparing for a Wrestle With Rates

The seven members of the interstate commerce commission today began to prepare for a long wrestle with the railroad rate increases. Just as soon as the railroad bill becomes a law the commis-

ENACTMENT STAGE IS REACHED TODAY

(Continued from Page One.)

upon petition of a savings bank or its trustee, approved by the bank commissioner, may approve or order a reduction of the deposit account of each depositor, whenever the value of its assets is less than the total amount of its deposits, so as to divide the loss equitably among the depositors, was adopted. The amendment offered by Mr. Denney was defeated and the bill was then ordered to engrossment.

Without debate or division the bill to provide punishment for making false returns to the railroad commissioners was ordered to a third reading.

On motion of Senator Crosby of Arlington all rules were suspended and the bill to authorize the appointment of town accountants, was given its several readings, engrossed, and sent to the House.

Senator Meany of Blackstone urged the passage of the milk transportation bill which has passed the House, and was opposed by Senator Turtle of Pittsfield, who moved substitution of the bill of the railroad committee, House 1746, leaving the subject to the railroad commissioners. Representative Conway of Boston offered in the House today an order providing that the attorney-general give the House his opinion as to whether the Massachusetts Agricultural College is a state institution, and whether the trustees have the right to purchase property in their own name and sell it to the state at an advance in price. The order was laid over until later in the day.

The committee on taxation reported a bill providing that the value of leasehold estates shall be deducted in assessing the tax on a corporate franchise.

The Mellen order for the investigation of the Lyman industrial school was adopted.

The House then resumed its debate on the East Boston waterfront bill, which provides for the expenditure of $3,000,000 in this development.

The committees of both the Senate and House to which various bills have been referred are endeavoring to make their reports today so that action may be speedily taken upon them and the Legislature prorogued.

Both branches of the Legislature are endeavoring to clear up their calendars of bills yet awaiting action, but the expressed intention of proroguing the Legislature Saturday seems hardly likely to be realized.

MADRIZ RETREAT REPORTS ISSUED

MANAGUA, Nic.—The Madriz administration has issued official reports that their forces under General Carraria retreated from their position near Rama to Muella de Los Bueyes, where they are to be concentrated.

WASHINGTON—The text of the reply sent by the Central American court of justice at Cartago to Estrada in Nicaragua, was today received at the state department. It is in part:

"Referring to your telegram addressed to this court, requesting its influence with President Madriz to the end that he adopt the mediation of the United States, this tribunal will do what is possible, with the delegate from Guatemala."

The cruiser Prairie, which sailed from Colon with 200 additional marines from the isthmus, is expected to arrive at Bluefields today.

DIAZ RADICALISM CAUSES PROTEST

MEXICO CITY—President Diaz' action in booming the candidacy of Minister General Ramon Corral as his vice-presidential candidate and in having Francisco Madero, the opposition candidate for President, arrested at Monterey on political charges, has aroused resentment.

All of the officials have received instructions to prevent public gatherings unless they are friendly to Diaz and Corral, and these instructions are being carried out to the letter.

SYRACUSE DEFENDS WAITE

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—Carlton C. Wilber, registrar of Syracuse University, has given out a signed statement saying there is no doubt of Dean H. Waite's eligibility to compete in the intercollegiate games. Waite entered the Fine Arts College in the second semester of the college year, 1908-1909. He returned to college during the past year and finished the prescribed course.

THE REV. F. W. SANDFORD HERE

The Rev. Frank W. Sandford arrived in the harbor early this afternoon from Portland with a party on board the yacht Kingdom. Those on board refused to comment upon the purpose of the visit.

CYCLONE DAMAGE $300,000.

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—It is believed today that the damage caused by the cyclone which swept Missouri between Kansas City and St. Louis Wednesday night will amount to at least $300,000.

sion will start the machinery to determine the reasonableness of the proposed advances.

Traffic managers of the eastern trunk lines are having a conference with officials of the interstate commerce commission today. While the conference is held behind closed doors, it is understood to deal with the filing of tariffs with the commission.

AVIATOR HOPES FOR NON-STOP RECORD

(Continued from Page One.)

attempt to travel 125.3 miles without a stop he not only will have broken Paulhan's world's record for continuous cross-country flight, but will have driven his biplane a total of 223.8 miles during the day, 21 miles more than has ever been made by one aviator in one day.

Mr. Hamilton expects to leave Governors island at about 7 a. m. Saturday. From the island itself he will swing over the Hudson river and fly above that stream to the Pennsylvania railroad station. There he will turn inland, at a height of probably 1000 feet, and pick up a special train engaged by the New York Times. The distance from Van Cortlandt park to Philadelphia is a little more than 100 miles, so that in the round trip Mr. Hamilton, if successful, will cover more than 200 miles across country.

M. Paulhan's flight from London to Manchester was 186 miles, made in two ascents. Mr. Curtiss' trip from Albany to New York was about 150 miles, made in three flights. If Mr. Hamilton succeeds on Saturday he will break all existing records for aeroplane flights across country and between two set terminals.

En route to Philadelphia Mr. Hamilton intends to follow closely the tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad. Should still air prevail next Saturday, Mr. Hamilton expects to travel 50 miles an hour.

The machine which he will employ is the one he has used since the Los Angeles meet last January. It is the same machine with which Mr. Curtiss won the international speed prize at Rheims last summer. The planes of this machine are 30 feet long and 4½ feet wide, with the same depth between them. It has new ailerons 4 feet long and 2 feet 11 inches wide. The elevating plane and the rudder will be reworked. The engine is of the V type, with eight cylinders, 4 by 4 inches, developing a rated horsepower of 50. The propeller, which is directly connected to the crankshaft of the engine, develops a thrust of 270 pounds at 1200 revolutions. It is 7 feet long with a pitch of 6½ inches. A special gasoline tank of 30-gallon capacity will be installed for the flight.

OTTAWA, Ont.—The government has under consideration the making of a grant to assist Messrs. Baldwin and McCurdy, the Canadian aviators. It is not intended to purchase an aeroplane but if the work is encouraged by the government there will be conditions that the machines may be utilized for the mutual benefit of the makers and of the militia.

Some time ago it was announced that the government would purchase an aeroplane from Baldwin and McCurdy, but the present plans evidently do away with this project. That the McCurdy-Baldwin type of aeroplane is a success was evidenced during last winter when they made many long and successful flights over the ice at Baddeck, N. S. Major Maunsell, director of the engineering branch, department of militia, on behalf of the government, paid a visit to Baddeck and was the first official to make a flight in one of the machines.

PARIS—Leon Morane Wednesday flew in an aeroplane from Paris to Etampes, 40 miles, in 49 minutes.

PARIS—The first cross country military aeroplane flight was accomplished today by Captain Marconnet and Lieutenant Fiquet, who flew in a biplane from Chalons to Vincennes, 106 miles, in 2 hours and 30 minutes. This is, also, the second best record for a two-passenger flight, the record being held by Daniel Kinet and a companion, who on May 15, flew for 2 hours and 51 minutes.

MINNEAPOLIS—Promoters of the Twin City aviation meet at the state fair grounds, June 22-25, will meet late today to decide upon a proposition to have Minor Heir, the fastest harness horse in the world, Glenn Curtiss, who holds the world's record for speed as an aviator, and Barney Oldfield, holder of the world's record for automobile speed, compete in a race. The horse is to encircle the half mile track twice while the automobile will do two miles on the mile track, the aeroplane also making the circuit of two miles.

HARVARD BIPLANE TESTS POSTPONED

The Harvard Aeronautical Society today decided to postpone the first trial of the biplane Harvard I. from Friday morning to Monday morning at 4 o'clock. A tent has been erected on Soldiers field in which the aeroplane is to be kept until the trials are completed, and the machine will probably be moved to its new quarters today. The motor will be tested and final preparations made in the tent.

It is the intention of J. V. Martin, who is to pilot the biplane on its first flight, to hold trials on Soldiers field every morning next week, so that the machine will be thoroughly tested before entering any airship meets this summer.

MOTORS INCREASE IN CONNECTICUT

According to the register issued from the office of the secretary of state motor vehicles in Connecticut have increased by 3138 since the previous report. The previous report showed 7700 registered automobiles. The new report shows 10,838, an increase of 2300.

In motor cycles, the previous report showed 1217; the new report gives their number at 2155, an increase of 938.

HEAD OF TELEPHONE COMPANY WILL PAY FOR FARM TEACHING

THEODORE N. VAIL.

President of telephone concern will be financial sponsor of agricultural and industrial school.

Theodore N. Vail, president of the American Telephone & Telegraph Company, will act as the financial sponsor for an agricultural and industrial school to be located at Lyndonville, Vt. While Mr. Vail is now in Europe, the plans have been worked out, largely by his secretary, John W. Titcomb, and the announcement will be made soon of the plans.

As Mr. Vail is a multi-millionaire, the success of the project is assured. Residents of Vermont eligible for admission to any approved high school will be admitted to this department of the Lyndonville institute.

The agricultural and industrial school will be made a part of the present institution. This will be the first institution of its class to add an agricultural department.

JUDGE REBUKES BOTH ATTORNEYS IN KELIHER CASE

Court Admonishes the Lawyers Against Indulging in so Frequent Wordy Tilts.

Judge Clarence Hale in the United States court today had occasion to admonish counsel during the trial of William J. Keliher on the charge of complicity in looting the National City Bank of Cambridge because of the continued tilts between them.

The admonition came after Attorney Coakley for the defense had requested from the government two papers desired in the case, which a witness stated that he had given to the government detectives, and which the government attaches of the district attorney's office declared they had never seen.

Mr. Coakley replied, making an inference that the government was endeavoring to suppress evidence in the case, Lou words between Mr. Coakley and the district attorney then passed, and they were interrupted by the judge.

Later on one of Mr. French's staff found the papers in his office and they were put in evidence.

The witnesses for the defense this forenoon all gave testimony to establish the fact that there was a John R. Marshall, and that George W. Coleman had repeatedly said that Keliher had no knowledge of where Coleman was securing money with which to play faro.

Thomas A. Shea and John Stevens, employees of the Beacon building, and J. J. Eardley were placed on the stand during the latter part of the forenoon session, and Mr. Coakley had nine witnesses ready to take the stand in the afternoon.

STUDENT HELD FOR GRAND JURY.

Seward Churchyard Simons, the Harvard student, who is charged with having cut off some of the hair of Lillian St. Angelo, waived examination before Judge Fallon of the South Boston district court today and was held for the grand jury. His bonds were placed at $300.

AMNESTY IN CUBA.

HAVANA—President Gomez has signed the bill amending the amnesty act of 1909. Through it many public officials, who were sentenced to terms of imprisonment of less than eight years or are awaiting trial, are released.

PLAYGROUND CONGRESS MEETS.

ROCHESTER, N. Y.—Activities for girls and playground administration were the subjects at today's session of the playground congress, among the speakers being Dr. Thomas F. Harrington of Boston.

SIR GEORGE NEWNES PASSES ON.

LONDON—Sir George Newnes, one of the best-known publishers in England, passed on today. He founded the Westminster Gazette and the Strand Magazine.

MOTOR TRUCK DELIVERY WITHIN FIFTY MILES

Our Motor Trucks deliver purchases direct to the customer's house, anywhere within fifty miles of Boston.

No crating and uncrating, no rough handling, no delay. Careful and obliging workmen set up each piece in the place desired.

A satisfaction and convenience to customers from out of town or those buying for summer houses.

PAINE FURNITURE COMPANY

48 Canal Street

Between North Station and Haymarket Square

FIFTEEN THOUSAND DOLLARS MORE FOR BOSTON UNIVERSITY

The amount reported for the Boston University campaign fund at the noon luncheon today at Lorimer hall, Tremont temple, was $15,576.65. This makes the grand total subscribed so far $302,211.65. The various terms retan as follows:

Team 1, Fred S. Retan, $20; team 2, the Rev. A. A. Stockdale, $317.50; team 3, E. W. Lord, $540.15; team 4, Francis P. Luce, $630; team 5, Chester O. Dorchester, $150; team 6, E. O. Fiske, $47; team 7, Mrs. Durrell, $5100; team 8, C. E. Spaulding, $50; team 9, Mrs. H. D. Boyd, $5175; Bowne memorial, $47; Medical Society, Dr. Charles Leeds, $1000; law school, $300; trustees, $2200.

George A. Dunn, one of the trustees of Boston University, presided at the largest dinner yet held by the committee for the $400,000 endowment fund for the university. Mr. Dunn auctioned off the diamond pin and ring given yesterday. Dean Beller of the theological school made the first offer of $20 for the diamond ring, providing it should go to the first theologian to become engaged. The ring was sold for $27. The pin for $10.50. E. Ray Spore bid the pin.

Some of the larger gifts reported were: Mrs. Emily L. Jeffs $2500, Moses W. Merrill of Newton $500. The class of 19000 from the Medical school $500. In the next two days $87,788.35 must be pledged. The committee felt confident of success for many promises not yet down in black and white have been made to the leaders of the campaign.

Dr. William H. Waters of the medical school addressed the gathering. He said the alumni had never showed so much enthusiasm. Many promises had been made for the fall, for their endowment fund does not close June 11.

Dr. Huntington reported the gift of $50 from one of the Harvard faculty, an additional gift of $5000 from one who gave $5000 yesterday and $5000 from a friend who had already given $1000.

Today Dr. Huntington goes to New York, where a committee of Boston University alumni are awaiting him. A banquet of Boston University graduates will be held Saturday night. The returns from this reunion will be telegraphed in Saturday night to the evening meeting in Tremont Temple. There will be no luncheon at noon in Lorimer hall on Saturday, but the workers will be busy all day and the reports will be brought in Saturday evening when the campaign fund for $400,000 for Boston University closes.

JULY TURNERBUND WILL BRING MANY

FITCHBURG, Mass.—Great preparations are being made here for the turnfest under the oversight of the New England Turnbund. The event will occupy four days, beginning July 2.

SUGAR REFINERY FOR TEXAS.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—One of the largest sugar refineries in the South will be established in the course of the present year by the Texas Sugar Refining Company, recently incorporated under the laws of Delaware with a capital of $1,000,000. The plant will be located at Texas City, Tex., and will occupy an area of 12 acres. It is expected that the establishment will be in operation by Jan. 1, 1911, and that 800 barrels of refined sugar per day will be its initial capacity.

Y. W. C. A. PUPILS TO GET DIPLOMAS

The graduation exercises of the commercial school of the Boston Young Women's Christian Association will be held Tuesday evening, June 14, at Lamson hall, 40 Berkeley street. Dr. G. F. Durgin will speak on "The Key to Wealth" and 76 diplomas will be awarded.

At the recent meeting of the board of managers highly favorable reports were presented by all the departments of the association.

In the training school for household services Mrs. Roache has resigned as principal and Miss Hayden has been appointed as her successor.

Miss Eleanor Jones was elected a new member of the association board of directors.

NEW COMMISSION QUALIFIES TODAY

A special meeting of the executive council was held this forenoon at the State House to qualify the members of the new Massachusetts commission on workingmen's compensation. Chairman James A. Lowell of Newton and Commissioners Saunders of Clinton and Parks of Fall River qualified and left Boston on the 1 o'clock train for Chicago, where they will represent Massachusetts in the conference to be held tomorrow and Saturday with similar commissions from Illinois and New York. Messrs. Henry Howard of Brookline and Magnus W. Alexander of Lynn will qualify later. Mr. Alexander at present is in Europe.

LAWYERS SPEAK FOR SUGAR MEN

NEW YORK—Clarence Lexow spoke today in the sugar trust employees' dock in the Williamsburg superintendence of the Williamsburg docks in the sugar trust employees' trial. He was followed by John B. Stanchfield for Charles R. Heike, the secretary of the trust, who declared that Heike's duties were so manifold that he could have known nothing of the frauds. Mr. Stanchfield was followed by Henry L. Stimson, special assistant attorney-general, who closed for the prosecution. The case goes to the jury late today.

PORTO RICAN CITIZENSHIP.

WASHINGTON—Protracted debate on the bill to give citizenship to the Porto Ricans consumed all of Wednesday in the House. Tullio Larrinaga, the delegate from Porto Rico, uttered a vigorous protest against the pending bill on many grounds, but principally because it does

FRIENDS OF EXPOSER OF THE SUGAR FRAUD FAVOR A BIG REWARD

NEW YORK—The report from Washington that Richard Parr, special agent of the customs department, will receive only $100,000 for his work in unearthing the mammoth sugar frauds, has met with considerable opposition among Mr. Parr's friends here, who declare that between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000 would be nearer a fair reward.

The government, they say, recovered several million dollars as the result of his exposure, in addition to overthrowing a fraudulent system and thereby saving itself untold millions of dollars in the years to come.

Mr. Parr will go to Washington next week to talk the matter over with Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh, who is finally to determine the amount to be paid. It is said there is no limit to the amount Mr. Parr can be paid and that Secretary MacVeagh is inclined to be liberal. Mr. Parr's friends declare $100,000 would not show liberality. Mr. Parr himself positively declines to discuss the amount of the reward, though he expressed great satisfaction over the ruling of Attorney-General Wickham that he alone was entitled to whatever reward is to be paid.

His superiors say that Mr. Parr is a most efficient, capable, honest officer and there is not one of them who does not hope he will be liberally rewarded.

TRIAL TO BE HELD AT WASHINGTON

PHILADELPHIA—The six men arrested on April 2 charged by the government with conspiracy in connection with the operation of alleged bucket shops in the District of Columbia were ordered removed to Washington today.

Judge McPherson in the United States district court here decided that the defendants can be taken to that city by the federal authorities for trial. An appeal was taken immediately to the supreme court of the United States.

ARGUMENTS ON RUSSELL JURY.

Arguments will be made before Judge Rugg of the supreme judicial court Tuesday, June 14, on a motion to frame issues for a jury in the William Blake Russell will case, in which Judge George F. Lawson of the Middlesex probate court, East Cambridge, has rendered a decision adverse to the Dakota claimant.

Rosenwald & Weil
CHICAGO
COUPON TO MAIL.

ROSENWALD & WEIL, Chicago, Ill.
Please send me names of dealers in "Cheerful Clothes" and auto dusters in my neighborhood.

Name.....
Town..... State.....

PLAYHOUSE NEWS

"CHANTECLER" IN ENGLISH.

The large number of Americans who are not familiar with French are having an opportunity to become acquainted with Rostand's novel drama, "Chantecler," for it is to be printed in four instalments of Hampton's magazine, beginning with the June number.

In the first instalment, which is entitled "The Evening of the Pheasant Hen," Chantecler, lord of the barnyard, appears. Chantecler is the most talked of character in the small domain. Hens, pecking the ground, gossip about him. He is heralded by the excited comments of hens, ducks and turkeys. A pigeon, who has arrived, properly humble, longs for the favor of seeing only his comb. The blackbird, who takes prominence in the play, appears as a sort of man about town, talks slang and sneers at Chantecler. Chantecler is admired by the dog, detested by the cat. Chantecler is the adored of his old foster mother, an ancient hen who sits in a nest nearby.

In the first instalment appears the now famous hymn to the sun, which follows:

"O, thou that driest the tears of the mearest among weeds,
And dost of a dead flower make a living butterfly—
Thy miracle, wherever almond trees
Shower down the wind their scented shreds,
Dead petals dancing in a living swarm—
"I worship thee. O Sun, whose ample light,
Blessing every forehead, ripening every fruit,

Entering every flower and every hovel,
Pours itself forth and yet is never less,
Still spending and unspent—like mother's love!
"I sing of thee, and will be thy high priest,
Who disdainest not to glass thy shining face
In the humble basin of blue suds,
Or see the lightning of thy last farewell
Reflected in an humble cottage pane!

"Thou smilest on the sunflower craning after thee,
And burnishest my brother of the vane,
And softly sifting through the linden trees
Strewest the ground with dappled gold,
So fine there's no more walking where it lies.

"Through thee the earthen pot is an enameled urn,
The clout hung out to dry a noble banner,
The hayrick by thy favor boasts a golden cape,
And the rick's little sister, the thatched hive,

Wears, by thy grace, a hood of gold!
"Glory to thee in the vineyards! Glory to thee in the fields!
Glory among the grass and on the roofs,
In eyes of lizards and on wings of swans—
Artist who making splendid the great things
Forgets not to make exquisite the small!

"Tis thou that cutting out a silhouette,
To all thou beamest on dost fasten this dark twin,
Doubling the number of delightful shapes,
Appointing to each thing its shadow,
More charming often than itself.

"I praise thee, Sun! Thou sheddest roses on the air,
Diamonds on the stream, enchantment on the hill;
A poor, dull tree thou takest and turnest to green rapture,
O Sun, without whose golden magic things
Would be no more than what they are!"

CHICAGO NOTES.

At the Princess theater this week an entirely new play is to be seen. It is called "Baby Mine," and was written by Miss Margaret Mayo. Miss Marguerite Clark is offered as a star in the piece, and Otis Harlan is principal comedian.

"The Bohemian Girl" will be the attraction next week at McVickers' theater with the Aborn company singers.

Miss Mary Manning is having an excellent success in "A Man's World" at the Garrick. "The Fortune Hunter" will continue indefinitely at the Olympia.

"The Gay Hussars" is in its final week at the Chicago Opera House.

NEW YORK NOTES.

The last week of long runs is announced for "Alias Jimmy Valentine" at Wallack's, and "The Bachelor's Baby" at the Criterion.

"Seven Days," perhaps the funniest farce seen in New York in years, is to remain at the Astor until Oct. 16, when the New York cast will go to Boston for a long run.

The Spooner family, Miss Edna May, Miss Cecil, and Mrs. Mary G., is having a successful stock season at the Grand Opera house, Brooklyn. This week the bill is "Magda."

THEN AND NOW.

It is a familiar incident to hear sighs for the "good old days of great plays and great acting." It is very easy to lose sight of the art of the present in looking too insistently at the art of the past.

Great performers there undoubtedly were in the past—the unapproached Booth, the versatile Davison, the tragic Miss Cushman, Miss Neilson of the lovely Viola and Rosalind, Warren with his 700 comic roles (in plays not five of which now exist). These were among the best of the good old days, of which most of us have seen glorious examples in the acting of Joseph Jefferson and Henry Irving.

But we have our mountain peaks, too. Richard Mansfield really belongs to us, and he was one of the greatest actors of all time. Bernhardt belongs to us, for she changes with the development acting undergoes constantly. Forbes-Robertson is as fine an example of an exalted character and fine intelligence employed in the actor's part as can be found in this or any other age. Miss Julia Marlowe is of us, and she is of "the royal line," as Mr. Huneker has so beautifully said.

EDMOND ROSTAND.

Author of "Chantecler," probably the most talked of drama in history.

What of Miss Edith Wynne Mathison, whom Miss Mary Anderson at her best could scarcely rival?

To be sure, we are weak in Shakespearean actors, for we now have many good plays besides those of the bard, and no longer must make him the meat of the feast as those of the past were forced to do. There is little possibility, anyway, of comparing the minor modern actor trained to imitate a human being as closely as may be in the natural, modern plays, and the declamatory, ceaselessly gesticulating "first old man" and "emotional lead" of the old stock companies. While speaking of stock companies, it is interesting to remember that in the New theater company, New York, we have a stock organization of the highest talent ever permanently gathered together in this country.

It is also impossible to compare the plays of now with those of the past. The modern drama, which calls upon its observer for thought, compelling every auditor to examine his own motives in the light of those represented on the stage, was practically unknown in the good old days. Our stage of today is one of realistic sentimentalism, whereas the American stage of, say 1880, was one of theatrical sentimentalism.

This may be seen by the handling of the familiar stage situation arising out of misunderstanding between husband and wife, by Bronson Howard, over 20 years ago, in "The Young Mrs. Winthrop," and Clyde Fitch five years ago in "The Girl with the Green Eyes." In both plays the husband secretly helps the wife's brother out of a disgrace, and in keeping the fact from the wife that she may not be made unhappy arouses her unfounded jealousy. That is as far as Howard went, but Fitch seized the opportunity of making his comedy a little analysis of petty jealousy, showing how it "grows by what it feeds on"—suspicion only—and how it may eventually disrupt a loving family. Fitch's comedy is one of the finest of modern times, in certain respects. Mr. Howard's is distinctly on the shelf.

The mechanics of theatrical effect are ever the same, but these very mechanics take on new meanings with the passing of years. After Moliere's profound arrangements of the foibles and vices of the last half of the seventeenth century in France there was a long period of inanity and pseudo romance (looked at with our eyes), before Dumas, Ibsen, and Augier came along to write plays in terms of life, not stage trickery. This interim had played that doubtless satisfied the needs of its people.

Without trying to draw too elaborate illustration from history, it may be confidently stated that every period has had the quality of drama that the majority of its people desired. It is absurd to sigh for the plays of the past, for most of the people of now do not want them. In English, Shakespeare, the immortal, the always young, alone lives. Of all other English plays written before 1850, Sheridan's "The Rivals" and "The School for Scandal," and Goldsmith's "She Stoops to Conquer" are the only pieces that are genuinely entertaining to modern audiences, and the most devout classicist must admit, to himself at least, that these comedies have many wastes of fossil humor in them.

Spasmodic revivals are made of Knowles' "Virginia," "The Hunchback," and Lytton's "The Lady of Lyons," three rather silly plays for which only the most authoritative acting can compel respectful attention. All-star casts must be employed to make them endurable.

Undoubtedly there were great actors in the past, but since we can no longer enjoy their performances why not let them rest in honored peace? Undoubtedly "Virginia," "The Love Chase" and "A New Way to Pay Old Debts" were great plays in their day, but they no longer seem great or even passably interesting to most of us now. George Colman is of more value to a large section of the playing public of the present than Massinger, Knowles and Lord Lytton put together. If playgoers had to choose between having all the comedies of Sheridan, Goldsmith, Chapman and Congreve on the one hand, and the comedies of Bernard Shaw or Barrie on the other, what would the choice of the majority be?

Happily, no such choice need be made. Let us rejoice in the past, and let us rejoice in the present too. In condoling over plays and acting it is no longer possible to witness it should not be forgotten that the present offers many opportunities to enjoy the finest pleasure the art of the theater can give.

FINNISH MEASURE TO BE ADOPTED BY THE RUSSIAN DUMA

ST. PETERSBURG.—The opponents of the Finnish bill giving the Duma legislative authority over Finland have abandoned the fight. This action insures the adoption of the measure as a whole. That the government view with regard to the bill for the reorganization of the Finnish legislative business did not commend itself to all of those who might be expected to support it is evidenced by two pronouncements which have just been published, both emanating from unexpected quarters.

The first comes from no less a person than M. Kokovtsov, the minister of finance, who is strongly opposed to the bill. In his opinion Finland's autonomy is recognized by the Russian fundamental laws and has been repeatedly confirmed by former czars; in these circumstances the sovereignty of the state cannot be extended to Finland in the same way as to other parts of the empire. Whilst he considers the Finnish Diet quite capable of safeguarding the interests of the country, he does not believe that the inclusion of five Finnish representatives in the Duma and of one in the council of the empire would guarantee the adequate protection of Finnish interests in matters of general imperial legislation. The imperial legislative bodies are overburdened as it is and unable to deal with all the bills before them, and the inclusion of complex Finnish business would result in the indefinite postponement of such business, to the great detriment of Finland. In these circumstances M. Kokovtsov counsels that in the discussion of Finnish affairs in the imperial legislative bodies a larger number of Finnish deputies should take part than is provided for in the bill, and that the sphere of the proposed general imperial legislation should be limited.

The other statement comes from the charitable organization connected with the Russian Greek Orthodox parish in Helsinki and is contained in the report issued on its fortieth anniversary. It appears that the Russian opponents of Finnish autonomy have endeavored in the past to create feeling against the Finns by circulating charges to the effect that Russian Orthodox priests are constantly insulted by the Finns in the grossest manner. The report, however, stigmatizes as baseless and unjust the statement that Russians cannot live in Finland, and asks whether there is one parish in Russia where the ordinance regarding parish charitable organizations has been carried out even approximately as it has been in Helsinki among a population of different faith.

And it goes on to say: "Respect for the law, a sense of civil duty, liberty of speech, assembly and association have been the fundamental conditions of Finnish life from ancient times until now. Destroy these conditions and you change the whole soil. . . . The soil of Finland, which is so favorable to our work, is being shaken. Law and liberty, under the shadow of which our tree, too, has grown, are threatened with destruction. . . . Most distressing of all is the fact that it is Russians who are preparing to demolish Finland."

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR SOCIETY PASSES ITS TWENTY-FIFTH YEAR

The United Society of Christian Endeavor has increased in a marked degree, and the financial standing of the society was never so strong as at present, according to reports read at the twenty-fifth annual business meeting held in Tremont Temple late Wednesday.

The meeting was of special interest since it marked the completion of the first quarter century of the United Society, and a review of the 25 years since the organization was formed makes a remarkable showing. Within that time the number of societies has increased from 253 to over 73,000 in all the world. In every Protestant evangelical denomination and in every country the world around the society is found, it was reported.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, the Rev. Francis E. Clark, D.D., LL.D.; general secretary, William Shaw; treasurer, H. N. Lathrop; editorial secretary, Amos R. Wells; auditor, George W. Coleman.

GERMANY ORDERS VATICAN PROTEST

BERLIN.—In the Prussian Diet today three interpellations were addressed to the government asking what it intended to do in answer to the Pope's recent encyclical regarding the tercentenary celebration of the canonization of Cardinal St. Carlo Borromeo, in which today's speakers declared the Pope had abused Protestant monarchs and Protestantism generally.

MONITORIALS

By Nison Waterman

GOOD SUMMER SHOOTING.

When T. R. from his foreign trip is safe at home once more, He'll think of Africa jungles where
He heard the lion roar,
The hippo and the rhino, too;
And it may be that then
The longing will come over him
To go and hunt again.
Well, if it shall, to Canada
He can repair for fun
And on the swift St. Lawrence find
Rare targets for his gun:
For those who journey down that stream
Are ready to declare
They find it lively sport, indeed,
To shoot the rapids there.

The Anglo-American fisheries dispute is being argued at The Hague this week, but no matter which side wins it is not likely to make any difference in the price of fish this coming Friday.

HO, FOR IDITAROD!

Once more toward Alaska
The gold hunters chase;
To get a "cool million"
They're sure that's the place.

With the treasury report of the circulation of money showing that every man, woman and child has 14 cents more than he or she had a week ago, no one ought to view the future from a pessimistic standpoint. Business is looking up.

REAL RICHES.

Fiddlely—Is it considered good luck to find a horseshoe in the road?
Dee—Yes, but not near so much so as it is to pick up a $75 automobile tire.

Speaker Cannon is still of the opinion that there is a marked difference between insurgents and real gentes—in the matter of party loyalty.

WHAT SHE SAW.

Eight-year-old (who has become interested in the city newspaper discussion regarding pure milk)—Mama, do you think the farmer with whom we boarded last summer supplied us with pure milk?
Mama—Yes, indeed; I am sure he was an honest, upright man.
"Well, I don't know what to think about it, for I remember correctly I saw him several times giving water to his cows."

With the biggest and most elaborate horse show ever held in the world's largest city in progress in London this week, it is obvious that the noblest of quadrupeds is losing none of his social and ornamental popularity no matter to what extent motor vehicles are tending to restrict his usefulness.

PROSECUTOR GARVEN DISHES THE HOPES OF PACKERS' TRUST

TRENTON, N. J.—When the four applications of Prosecutor Garven for the dissolution of the Chicago meat companies were called by the supreme court on Wednesday, counsel for the meat packers informed the court that arrangements had been made with Mr. Garven to postpone the proceedings until the court of errors and appeals had rendered a decision on the question whether or not the meat packers should produce their books for the benefit of the Hudson county grand jury. The court then declared the cases off for the term.

Later in the day, however, when Mr. Garven was told of the arrangement, he said he had never consented to such an agreement and that he was ready to argue the cases when called by the court. At the solicitation of the prosecutor the cases were then placed on the calendar as ready and if reached they will be argued at this term of court.

WITHDRAWS NAME FOR AUDITORSHIP

Representative A. P. Langtry of Springfield will not be a candidate for the state auditorship, according to a statement from him made public today. Mr. Langtry further announces that it would give him great pleasure to go to the state convention and make the nominating speech for the present incumbent. This statement was made in view of the announcement recently that State Auditor Henry E. Turner will be a candidate for re-nomination this fall on the Republican state ticket, and because the name of Mr. Langtry has been mentioned in connection with the nomination.

ORDERS WARSHIP READY ON JUNE 30

Capt. John C. Fremont, commandant of the Charlestown navy yard, has given orders that the work on the battleship Vermont be completed by June 30, and the machinery division, which has nearly all of this work in hand, is making every possible effort. The men of the Vermont will participate in the parade on Bunker Hill day and the marines at the navy yard barracks have also received orders to join in the march.

The collier Ajax is expected at the yard this evening. She left Hampton Roads today.

BROCKTON HIGH GRADUATION. BROCKTON, Mass.—At the graduating exercises of the high school June 22 the speaker will be Dr. W. H. P. Faunce of Brown University. Headmaster Charles T. C. Whitcomb will entertain the senior class on class day June 21.

Wakefield's High School Graduating Class to Issue an Elaborate Year Book

LEO E. BOURDON.
Editor of Wakefield high school seniors' Year Book, which is to be distributed tomorrow.

WAKEFIELD, Mass.—The Year Book published by the graduating class of the high school will be ready for distribution tomorrow. It contains 52 pages and is said to be the most pretentious publication of the kind that the high school students have ever issued.

The illustrations, including the cover design, were done by William Harrington of the class of 1911. Among the illustrations are groups of the faculty, the class baseball team and battalion.

Literary contributions are by the students of the high school and include many original short stories by members of the class. The editorial staff is as follows: Editor-in-chief, Leo E. Bourdon; assistant editors, Gertrude Tingley, Winifred Watkins and Effie Fay; exchange editor, Miss Frances Holmes; business managers, Leo E. Bourdon, Mary Morse, Janette Mayent; advertising managers, Walter Hickey and Arthur Cade.

MR. PROCTER RENEWS OFFER.

NEW YORK.—The Times today says: With many indications of preserving as much secrecy as possible, a special meeting of the board of trustees of Princeton University has been called for this morning at Princeton to receive and act upon a renewal of the offer of William C. Procter of Cincinnati to give $500,000 to the University Graduate school.

Mr. Peary Completes Tour of Europe

Explorer leaves Berlin today for London and will sail Saturday.

COMMANDER AND MRS. PEARY AND THEIR SON.
The photograph was taken at Berlin on Mr. Peary's first visit there a few weeks ago and is the latest likeness of the American explorer.

BERLIN.—Commander Robert E. Peary, discoverer of the north pole, has completed his European tour and left for London today. He will sail for home on the steamship Mauretania on Saturday, arriving in New York June 16, two days ahead of the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria, which will bring Mr. Roosevelt. Mr. Peary will pass the summer at his home on Eagle Island, Casco Bay, Maine, probably arriving there about July 1.

Commander Peary delivered his lecture on the north pole discovery here Wednesday evening through an interpreter to a crowded house.

The explorer has submitted to Ambassador David Jayne Hill the legal suit, which Rudolph Francke, who was associated with Dr. Frederick A. Cook in polar exploration, has brought against him for $10,000. The affair is left in the ambassador's hands. The amount of the suit is estimated as half the value of furs and walrus and narwhal teeth which Mr. Francke bought from natives in the Arctic regions, upon arrangement with Dr. Cook that they should share them half and half.

According to Mr. Francke Commander Peary demanded the entire collection as the price for transporting him to America. Mr. Francke claims Mr. Peary set aside a part of the collection to present to former President Roosevelt. The papers in the suit were served on Commander Peary at a hotel Wednesday evening.

PORTLAND, Me.—English newspapers received here describe a model of a ship such as was used by Arctic explorers in olden times, made entirely of silver and weighing 100 ounces, which was presented to Commander Peary at Edinburgh by the Royal Scottish Geographical Society. The model stands about two feet high and is mounted on wheels.

On one of the sails is engraved the following inscription: "The representation of a ship such as was used by John Davis, Henry Hudson, William Baffin, illustrious Arctic navigators of the olden times, has been presented by the Royal Scottish Geographical Society in token of congratulation, admiration and recognition to Robert Edwin Peary, American citizen, an explorer of the frozen Arctic, not less daring than his daring predecessors, who was the first to attain that noble goal so long sought by innumerable bold mariners, the north pole."

WAR DEPARTMENT INTENDS TO HELP MOTOR BOAT MEN

That motor boats are held up an unreasonable length of time on the Neponset river by failure to open promptly the Neponset bridge is the gist of a letter received by Col. Frederic V. Abbot, local army engineer, from A. H. Needham of Dorchester. Colonel Abbot will take up the subject with City Engineer William Jackson in an effort to have conditions remedied if they are found to be as reported.

The war department, it is said, intends to assist as much as possible motor boat enthusiasts this summer and will listen to complaints of irregularities in the opening or closing of bridges. But in order that persons may not make wrong complaints, the department officials in Boston are prepared to send copies of the regulations for the opening and closing of drawbridges to all who apply for them.

OPPOSES BRIDGE ON CHARLES RIVER

A report intended to temporarily retard progress on Congressman S. W. McCall's bill allowing the construction of a drawless bridge over the Charles river between Cambridge and the Harvard stadium was sent today to Brig.-Gen. William Marshall, chief of engineers, by Col. Frederic V. Abbot, local army engineer.

This report, it is stated, will be sufficient to cause the war department to ask that the bill be held over to the next session of Congress. The report deals with some of the reasons why navigation above the bridge should not be cut off, and Colonel Abbot informs his chief that he will later have data and statistics, which he believes will cause the bill to be adversely reported.

NON-POLITICAL AGREEMENT.

BERLIN.—According to the Berliner Tageblatt, a non-political Franco-German agreement has been concluded, and has already produced very good results.

BON VOYAGE
Violets, roses and other cut flowers ready for immediate delivery to any of the steamships leaving this port.
Newman & Sons
34 TREMONT ST. Tel. Main 4110.

BOSTON OPERA HOUSE
ABORN COMIC OPERA CO.
THIS WEEK—"THE MIKADO"
NEXT WEEK—"MILK AND HONEY"
Wed. Mat. 25 and 50c. Evenings and Sat. Mat. 25, 50 and 75c.
Good Orchestra. Seats at 50c.

In the heart of LOS ANGELES
HOTEL LANKERSHIM
SPECIAL SUMMER RATES
(EUROPEAN PLAN)
ONE OF THE NEWEST AND FINEST HOTELS IN CALIFORNIA
Broadway at Seventh Street
COOPER & DAVIS, Lessees.

Hotel Somerset
Commonwealth Ave. and Charlesgate East, Boston
EUROPEAN PLAN
Terrace Restaurant open during summer months
Bookings for Fall and Winter can be made now. Special inducements to permanent guests
TRANSIENT RATES
Room Without Bath, 2.00 per day up
Room With Bath, 2.50 per day up
Parlor Bedroom and Bath, 4.00 per day up
Complete equipment for Balls, Banquets, Concerts and Social Events of all kinds.
FRANK C. HALL, Manager

Advertisements
Intended to appear in all editions of Saturday's Monitor
Should reach The Monitor office
Not Later Than Friday Afternoon
To insure proper Classification.

SOPHOMORE BEAUTY BEARS DAISY CHAIN AT VASSAR COLLEGE

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y.—The famous daisy chain opened the commencement season at Vassar College this week.

Never were class day exercises held under more auspicious circumstances. The skies were clear and the bright sunlight made the green lawns and abundant shrubbery on the college grounds a picturesque setting. The crowd of visitors was larger than usual on Tuesday as the fame of Vassar's show day has gone abroad with the result that the occasion is no longer regarded as an exclusive event for relatives and friends. In addition to Vassar's large family the crowds on Tuesday numbered hundreds who were drawn to the pretty spectacle by holiday reasons.

In accordance with the time honored custom the daisy chain was borne by 24 of the prettiest girls in the sophomore class. One of the two leaders was a Poughkeepsie girl, Miss Elizabeth F. Ralston; the other was Miss Elizabeth W. Thomas of New York city. The beauty of the girls was intensified by their simple white gowns, and with the lovely daisy chain they certainly offered a charming picture.

Besides the leaders the daisy chain bearers were Miss Marie P. Alden, Brooklyn; Miss Edith C. Brown, Philadelphia; Miss Hazel Brown, Levee, Minn.; Miss Margaret Burnham, Bryn Mawr, Pa.; Miss Caroline Congdon, Omaha; Miss Kate G. Fowler, New York city; Miss Julia E. Hand, Brooklyn; Miss Caroline Hooker, Watertown, N. Y.; Miss Helen Jackson, Colorado Springs, Col.; Miss Virginia H. Kelley, Cleveland; Miss Mary S. Lewis, Wilkesbarre, Pa.; Miss Helen F. McWilliams, Staten Island; Miss Josephine A. Pearce, Cleveland; Miss Marguerite Record, Minneapolis; Miss Armine Riely, San Antonio, Tex.; Miss Jeanette M. Schoolcraft, Schenectady; Miss Katherine Silver, East Orange, N. J.; Miss Marjorie Stewart, Worcester, Mass.; Miss Mary L. Sweeney, Detroit; Miss Florence F. Taylor, Montclair, N. J., and Miss Martha Wellington, Troy, N. Y.

The marshals of the class day processions were: Sophomore, Miss Clara S. Bull of Pasadena, Cal.; Junior, Miss Helen R. Noyes of Milwaukee; senior, Miss Irene L. Niles of Brooklyn. Following the senior class march came the class president, Miss Gertrude C. Lovell of Scranton, Pa., and Miss Charlotte S. Hand of Brooklyn, chairman of the class day committee.

The speakers of the day were Miss Cornelia Gordon, Frankfort, Ky., class historian; Miss Helen H. Hosterman, Springfield, O., senior orator; Miss Beatrice Wellington, Troy, N. Y., junior orator; and Miss Marion M. Brown, class song leader. The colors of the seniors made a lovely contrast to the white of the other girls' dresses. Miss Brown made a hit with her leading of the singing.

The class day exercises closed with the rendering of the true song, the music by Miss Evelyn Lucille Castle of Milwaukee, and the words by Miss Sarah Elizabeth Babson of Gloucester, Mass. The president's reception was given in Main hall.

The college graduated 227 young women on Wednesday. President Taylor announced among other changes the retirement of Miss Frances A. Wood as librarian after 43 years' service. Miss Wood's successor is Miss Amy L. Reed '92, of New Rochelle. The trustees voted to continue the limit of 1000 students for another year at least.

New England girls took a prominent place in the commencement exercises. Miss Margaret A. Hobbs of Portland, Me., a graduate, was awarded a scholarship from the Chicago school of civics and philanthropy, a research student ship, so-called.

Miss Ruth Evelyn Marceau of Wollaston, Mass., was one of the commencement speakers. Miss Margaret E. Tibbels of Wallingford, Conn., was head usher. Among the other ushers were Miss Elizabeth A. Kittredge, Concord, N. H.; Miss Jessamine M. White, New Haven; Miss S. Ruth Murns, West Newton, Mass.; Miss Elinor Prudden, Brookline, Mass.; Miss Nightingale, Wellesley Hills, Mass.

The Resort Center of the "Vacation Land of America" is in Vermont

The Green Mountain State, and along the shores of charming

Lake Champlain

The direct route to these resorts and to

Montreal

is via the through trains of the Rutland R.R.

For a copy of "Across the Islands and Beyond," call at City Ticket Office, 25 Washington St., or send 4 cents in stamps to Geo. F. Parsons, R. F. D. 344, Washington St., Boston.

Homestead of Massachusetts Masons

Beautiful estate, formerly a summer hotel, purchased upwards of a year ago by the Masonic fraternity.

"OVERLOOK," THE HANDSOME MASONIC HOME AT CHARLTON.

Modern and finely appointed structure secured by the payment of $50,000 when it was thrown upon the market by the failure of the hotel project for which it was designed. The grand lodge has just created a new board to have control and management of the establishment.

(Continued from Page One.)

grand master and recording grand secretary, ex-officio, and of nine other members to be designated by the grand master. Upon their appointment the Masonic home committee shall be discharged and all its powers vested in the board.

The income of the Masonic home fund and all income from other funds in the hands of the Masonic education and charity trust available for the support or maintenance of the home, by vote of grand lodge or the terms of any bequest or gift, and also all amounts collected for the equipment or furnishing of the home, are thus appropriated to be expended by the board.

Chairman Blake of the home committee, at an earlier stage in the proceedings, presented a progressive report. The cash to date, he said, was $107,360, but this does not include the amount at hand for furnishing the rooms, nor the sums in the hands of the women's auxiliaries which have been such a great factor in arousing enthusiasm. The votes from the grand R. A. chapter and grand council, R. and S. M., are not embraced in the total mentioned. Then there are donations from lodges constantly being received, and many of these have not closed their accounts.

The recommendation came from the committee that a board of relief be established to have charge of the administration of the home, and it was this idea, crystallized into a resolution, that was adopted by the grand lodge.

It was stated that of the property of William J. Tilley of Quincy, nearly all of which had been bequeathed to the home, the grand lodge will take about 60 per cent, by arrangement with his relatives.

Grand Master Flanders announced that he had forwarded to the Duke of Connaught, grand master of England, condolence on the passing away of King Edward, former grand master. A reply to that message was read from Grand Secretary Lettworth of England.

Grand Secretary Davis referred to the fact that the grand lodge had as one of its treasures in the archives a lock of hair of President Washington, an honored member of the craft. He drew attention to a bust of Washington and pedestal that stood in the east and said that it was intended as another memorial of the first President. It is understood that the donor was the senior living past grand master, Most Worshipful Samuel C. Lawrence.

A committee to whom the subject was referred deemed it inexpedient to act in regard to regulating life memberships in lodges, as they are considered the better able to judge of their desires in the matter.

The communication occupied about two hours. The attendance of the craft was nearly 200.

The grand officers present comprised Dana J. Flanders, M. W. G. M.; the Rev. Dr. William H. Rider, R. W. D. G. M.; William M. Belcher, as R. W. S. G. W.; Walter F. Medding, R. W. J. G. W.; Charles H. Ramsay, R. W. G. T.; Thomas W. Davis, R. W. R. G. S.; William L. Richardson, R. W. C. G. S.; Edward N. West, R. W. D. G. M. first district; George H. Munroe, R. W. D. G. M., second district; Frank T. Barron, R. W. D. G. M., third district; William F. Schellenbach, R. W. D. G. M., fourth district; George C. Flett, R. W. D. G. M., fifth district; R. Walter Hilliard, R. W. D. G. M., sixth district; Benjamin J. Hinds, R. W. D. G. M., seventh district; Arthur W. Beckford, R. W. D. G. M., eighth district; Charles B. Marble, R. W. D. G. M., ninth district; Arthur

D. Prince, R. W. D. G. M., eleventh district; Charles W. Schuler, R. W. D. G. M., thirteenth district; Fred F. Dexter, R. W. D. G. M., seventeenth district; Charles A. Barton, R. W. D. G. M., nineteenth district; Arthur E. Fairbanks, R. W. D. G. M., twentieth district; J. Fayette Stone, R. W. D. G. M., twenty-second district; George A. Cox, R. W. D. G. M., twenty-third district; Hartley L. White, R. W. D. G. M., twenty-fourth district; Charles W. Stodder, R. W. D. G. M., twenty-fifth district; Henry W. Mason, R. W. D. G. M., twenty-sixth district; Charles T. C. Whitcomb, R. W. D. G. M., twenty-seventh district; Edward Kendrick, R. W. D. G. M., twenty-eighth district; the Rev. Edward A. Horton and the Rev. Dr. R. Perry Bush, G. C.; Harry P. Ballard, G. M.; Chauncey E. Peck and Frederick L. Putnam, G. L.; Herbert F. Morse, S. G. D.; Walter A. Davis, J. G. D.; Walter H. Smith, S. G. S.; Roscoe E. Learned and Olin D. Dickerman, G. S.; Charles L. Purinton, G. P.; William H. Gerrish, G. O., and George W. Chester, G. T.

The permanent members present were: Most Worshipful Samuel C. Lawrence, Charles T. Gallagher, Edwin B. Holmes and J. Albert Blake, P. G. M.; Rt. Worshipful William H. Emerson, Henry A. Belcher, Charles M. Green, Everett C. Benton, Albert L. Harwood and William H. L. Odell, P. D. G. M.; Rt. Worshipful John A. McKim, George H. Rhodes, Forrest E. Borker, David T. Remington, Henry J. Mills, Edward F. Smith, William M. Belcher, Charles I. Litchfield, Elias P. Morton, William H. H. Soule, Edward G. Graves, Joseph H. Gleason, Allen T. Treadway, William B. Lawrence, Daniel W. Lawrence, William F. Davis, Melvin M. Johnson, Charles S. Robertson, Albro A. Osgood and Henry G. Jordan, P. G. W.

What Other Editors Are Saying

THE selected editorial comments today deal with the question of the conservation of the natural resources of the United States:

NEW YORK TIMES—Every ton of coal left in the ground is in a perfectly safe place, and available to those who will come after us. Every ton dug out of the earth is consumed, and cannot be consumed again. It is better to give than to receive, to conserve than to exploit. In a week the eagle eye of the great conservator will be upon us, and the sound of his gnashing teeth will fill the land, and the whirling of the big stick will dazzle our eyes.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH—Other countries have organized forces of guards for all forests. Why not the United States? We have forest rangers in the national reservations, but they are not sufficient in number to protect the reservations.

ROCHESTER DEMOCRAT AND CHRONICLE—The time would appear to be ripe for the United States department of agriculture to adopt a sane system of forest conservation by obtaining revenue from forests rather than by giving them away in a wholesale fashion.

WASHINGTON HERALD—Our use of our forest lands, of our coal deposits, of our natural gas and oil reservoirs is almost criminal in its wastefulness. With all our ingenuity for harnessing nature we allow the water power of the land to fall unused. A national introspection and the taking of an accounting with ourselves might prove beneficial to the nation as a whole.

DETROIT (Mich.) FREE PRESS—One generation slashes the pine and the next rises up and spends tens of millions in "conservation of the forests." One generation saps the nourishment out of the land and abandons the farms to another set of men who talk of "fertilization, irrigation and restoration." Some of us are everlastingly tearing down and building up—because we have no occupation of systematic good.

SALT LAKE (Utah) TRIBUNE—The radical difference between those who are engaged in a sentimental crusade for conservation and those who want conservation put on a lawful basis is that the first named want this conservation to go on without authority of the law, while the second want it founded in the law.

NEW ORLEANS TIMES-DEMOCRAT—So far as the conservation principle is concerned it may be safely assumed, we think, that the lumbermen favor it as strongly as their fellow citizens in other walks. Upon the just and proper methods of regulation or legislation to enforce that principle opinions differ sharply. Neither the laymen nor the lumbermen are agreed among themselves.

SPOKANE SPOKESMAN-REVIEW—If government owned natural resources are to be conserved for the benefit of future generations, as well as for the use of this generation, it is essential that the government retain the same authority to dispose of their use during future generations that it exercises over their use during this.

ATLANTA (Ga.) JOURNAL—It is time for the South to wake up on this great conservation issue. Thus far she has shown comparatively little interest, but she has as much, if not more, to lose or gain, than New England or the West. Each state should have its forestry commission, cooperating with the national department, and, most important of all, southern representatives and senators should work and vote for success of needful legislation.

PROVIDENCE (R. I.) JOURNAL—Senator Nelson of Minnesota, chairman of the public lands committee, jousts vigorously with a scarecrow when he vociferates against "a conservation that ties up the natural resources and which would retard development by this generation."

Today's Navy Orders

The following navy orders were posted today at the Charlestown navy yard:

Lieutenant Commander I. C. Wetteng to temporary duty in charge navy recruiting station, Omaha, Neb.

Lieutenant Commander A. A. Pratt, to the armored cruiser Colorado as navigator.

Lieutenant Commander H. T. Baker, detached from the armored cruiser Colorado.

Lieut. P. B. Dungan to the transport Buffalo as executive and navigator.

Ensign H. J. French, retired to home.

Ensign D. P. Morrison, to the battleship Kansas.

Midshipmen T. E. Van Metre, L. Welsh and C. D. Gilroy to the battleship North Dakota.

Assistant Surgeon A. C. Stanley, detached to the battleship Virginia and granted leave three months.

Paymaster A. M. Pippin, detached the gunboat Petrel and continue other duties.

At the Railway Terminals

The new freight house which the Boston & Maine road is erecting at East Cambridge is ready for the roofers and tinmiths.

The New Haven road provided special service from South station last night for the Marston transatlantic party via New London and New York city.

A Boston & Maine road official train, consisting of two cars, occupied by Superintendent Robinson and staff, left North station this morning for the purpose of inspecting the entire Southern division and its branches.

A. W. Martin, manager of the Boston Terminal Company and superintendent of the Boston division of the New Haven road, with headquarters at South station, left Boston this morning for a three weeks' trip to the principal cities of the West as far as the Pacific coast.

The Massachusetts railway commissioners have arranged to leave Springfield at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning, using the Boston & Albany road's special train for a trip over the Central New England road as far as the state line and return.

The passenger department of the Boston & Albany road has arranged for special service from South station at 1:25 o'clock this afternoon for the accommodation of the Massachusetts Library Club en route to Princeton, Mass., via Worcester and the Boston & Maine road.

President Finley's Southern railway private car 102, occupied by Mrs. Finley and daughter, passed through Boston early this morning en route from Washington, D. C., to Enfield, N. H., via the Pennsylvania, New Haven and Boston & Maine roads.

President Tuttle of the Boston & Maine road and President Mellen of the New Haven road, accompanied by the directors' party, will arrive at North station on their special train from Maine Central points tomorrow afternoon.

SPEAKER WALKER TENDERS DINNER

Speaker Joseph Walker gave a dinner at the Brookline Country Club to the Governor and Lieutenant-Governor, the House chairmen of committees, the members of the committee on rules, and the State House reporters Wednesday evening. The occasion was one of good fellowship and the making of speeches was expressly forbidden, but there were a few transgressions.

Governor Draper was paid a tribute by his secretary, William A. Murphy, who represented him. Mr. Murphy predicted the Governor's reelection by a big plurality this fall.

Men's Shoe Section, Street Floor, Main Store

The Newest Lasts in High Grade Tan Shoes for Men

The latest styles in Men's Summer Footwear are shown here in profusion. variety of new models, scientifically made on easy, comfortable lasts, fashioned from the very best leathers, equal to the finest custom made product at far less than custom made prices. Read these items.

Men's 5.00 Russia Tan Ties

Men's Tan Russia Calf 2-Hole Ties, with ribbon lace, modelled to please the young man of fashion. Price

5.00

Style and Quality

5.00

Men's 5.50 Tan Oxfords

Vici Kid Regular Oxford; made on combination wide toe last, built for comfort.

Men's 6.00 Tan Russia Calf Oxfords

Blucher and Regular Oxford; hand welts, made on ultra lasts, both medium and wide toes.

3.50 and 4.00 Pilgrim Ties

Tan Russia Calf, 3-hole ties, Blucher and regular Oxfords; also Blucher Boots, 10 styles to select from; toes ranging from the narrow to the full wide round effect.

MEN'S GRAY HORSEHIDE AND WHITE BUCK TENNIS OXFORDS—Arch supporting shank, spring heels, Goodyear sewed double welt, best quality rubber soles, toes with tips, but not with boxes. Price.....

6.50

MEN'S ENGLISH REGULATION GOLF SHOES—Tan Russia calf oxfords and low cut boots with short spikes in soles and heels; welt soles and strapped vamps; the official shoe used in all match games in England.

Seamless Oxfords 6.00

Low Cut Boots 7.00

Jordan Marsh Company

REAL ESTATE NEWS

L. C. Page & Co., Inc., publishers, which concern made an offer for the estate of the late George F. Parkman at 33 Beacon street, which the city council refused to accept, has purchased the large four-story brownstone-front dwelling at 51 Beacon street and will occupy for business purposes. The location is opposite the Common, and included in the purchase is a small house in the rear on Branch street and a total land area of 3000 square feet. The property is assessed on a valuation of $45,000, of which amount the land's share is $27,000. The grantor is W. Orison Underwood and the broker in the transaction was J. Murray Howe, 28 State street.

A number of other large transfers have just been made in the city proper, an important one being the sale of the property known as the Hotel Tivoli, numbered 888 to 890 Washington street, South End, taxed on a valuation of $35,000. The new owner is Jonathan Weatherbee and the seller is the John C. Daley estate. The structure is a large four-story brick one and there are 1425 square feet of land rated by the assessors as worth $25,600. Henderson & Ross, Kimball building, were the brokers.

Contracts have been signed for the sale of the estate at the corner of Falmouth and West-Newton streets, Back Bay, owned by the American Pneumatic Service Company and occupied by the Welch Motor Company. It comprises a one-story brick building and 8361 feet of land. The total assessment is $33,000, of which $25,000 is on the land. The property has been sold by order of William H. and Oakes Ames and Gilmer Clapp, for the directors, to Samuel Frensdorff, who will raze the building and erect in its place a fireproof garage of three stories and basement, having over 20,000 feet of floor space. In the sale Alexander S. Porter represented the grantor and David A. Yuill & Co. the purchaser.

The property numbered 376 Tremont, corner of Cornhill street, South End, comprising a three-story brick building and 953 feet of land, all assessed on a valuation of $12,400, of which $600 is the rating on the land, was sold by Annie Feinzig to Frederick O. Marshall. The property numbered 407 to 413 Main street, corner of Albion place, Charlestown, has changed ownership. The purchaser is Hattie G. Johnson, and the title given by James J. Smith. The total assessment is $19,300, with $9100 the rating on the 6343 square feet of land. There are three frame and a brick building, containing store and apartments.

ROXBURY—DORCHESTER.

A block of frame buildings numbered 482 to 486 Dudley street, corner of Shirley street, Roxbury, has been conveyed to Henry A. Bragg by Charles S. Glidden. The rating is $13,900 and $7100 of this amount is on the 5000 square feet of land.

Clarence H. Lewis, Easton building,

CHANGE CHESHIRE REPUBLICAN SOON

KEENE, N. H.—Articles of incorporation have been filed with the city clerk here, by the Cheshire Publishing Corporation, which has been organized to take over and carry on the business of the Cheshire Republican, of this city, one of the oldest weekly newspapers in New Hampshire.

The incorporators are: Robert E. Faulkner, Walter L. Goodnow, John E. Benton, George E. Shor and Dr. Burton C. Russell. Mr. Shor is from Boston and will be the editor and manager.

LUTHER LEAGUE WILL CONVENE

EASTON, Mass.—A Luther League convention will take place in this town June 25 and 26 and delegates will be entertained from all over this part of the state. The male-chorus and choir of the Swedish Lutheran church will take part.

MEDWAY FARM SOLD.

The Chapin Farm agency has sold for the owner, Samuel Butler, his estate situated on Main street, West Medway, Norfolk county, comprising two acres of land, with choice fruit trees, a two-story dwelling, containing seven rooms finished in hardwood with bath and other modern conveniences, a large stable, a poultry plant and numerous outbuildings situated within a short distance of the Charles river. The estate was sold to L. E. Tracy of Greenville, Me., who has already taken possession. The price paid is not made public, but was in excess of the assessed valuation.

BROOKLINE CHANGE.

C. H. Lewis has purchased from the P. A. Whitwell estate the property at 1018 Beacon street, Brookline, consisting of a brick dwelling and 3900 feet of land, the latter taxed for $8000, with a total assessed value of $25,000. J. H. Lyons, 15 State street, was the broker.

BUILDING NOTICES.

Notices of intention to construct, alter or repair buildings were posted in the office of the building commissioner of the city of Boston today as printed below. Location, owner, architect and nature of work are named in the order here given:

Austin st., rear, front st.; B. & M. R. R.; wood car-cleaver's office.

Adams st., 722; H. A. Killoree; wood dwelling.

Teneue st., 76; John McShane; wood fruit stand.

Gladstone st., 196; G. B. Penochetti, F. A. Norcross; alter dwelling.

Charles st., 9; H. G. Garrett et al; alter manufacture.

Baker's alley; G. Stable; t. d. dwelling.

North st., 190-192; G. Stable; t. d. dwelling.

Washington st., 788-877; John Flint estate; alter mercantile.

Randolph st., 7; rear; J. C. Pushee & Sons, alter manufacture.

Sleeper st., 35-37; Boston Wharf Co.; t. d. mercantile.

Brookford st., 46; J. A. Ross; alter dwelling.

Cohasset st., 48, rear; M. M. McLeod; alter carpenter shop.

Heath st., 94-98; Israel Brilliant; alter dwelling.

COUNT VON BERNSTORFF AT UNION.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y.—The one hundred and fourteenth annual commencement of Union College was held Wednesday with the honorary chancellor's address on "German University Life" by Count von Bernstorff, German ambassador to the United States, upon whom was conferred the honorary degree of doctor laws.

A TRIP AROUND THE WORLD

BY MEANS OF PICTURES AND SHORT SKETCHES ALONG AN INTERESTING ROUTE IS NOW ONE OF THE SEVERAL ENTERTAINING FEATURES TO BE FOUND ON THE Boys' and Girls' Page

of

THE MONITOR

EVERY SATURDAY

IN THE

CAMERA CONTEST

For the most acceptable photograph received from its youthful readers each week The Monitor will give one dollar.

The photographs sent in may be of children at play, school scenes, historic places, picturesque views, quaint houses, city or country scenes, either characteristic or unusual. Blueprints are not available. If a descriptive story of not over 200 words is sent in and published, it will be paid for. Put a title on the picture, write your name and address plainly and enclose stamps if you wish photograph returned. Forward to "Children's Page," The Christian Science Monitor, Boston, Mass., Falmouth and St. Paul Streets.

Latest Market Reports Produce Quotations Shipping

SOUTHERN RAILWAY MAY BREAK RECORD IN YEAR'S TRAFFIC

Indications That Surplus Will Be Well Ahead of That of Last Year, but No Likelihood of Dividends.

IN EASY POSITION

NEW YORK—Southern Railway is going to break all records for business this year. By the end of June it should have total gross of $57,100,000 or thereabouts.

In 1906-07 Southern increased its revenues more than $3,000,000 over previous year. The total for the 12 months was $56,657,000. In the following year there was a drop of $5,000,000 from this high record and in 1908-09 a recovery of only $600,000.

In the first 10 months of the current year, or up to May 1, revenues were $4,000,000 above those for corresponding period of 1908-9. With the increase steadily continuing, there is little reason to doubt that the $57,000,000 mark will be passed in the next three weeks. These gains would not mean anything if the road were not being operated economically. In 1907, when earnings were the largest in the life of the property, expenses were so heavy that there remained only $2,290,000 for surplus after charges, whereas, in the year before that, with $3,000,000 less business, surplus was $5,220,000.

Indications are that the current period's surplus will be well ahead of last year's. Estimating ten months other income and charges on the basis that prevailed in the first half year, there would appear to have been a balance of approximately $3,500,000 at the end of April.

While it is difficult to get a line on the entire year's results, owing to the sudden changes which have been taking place in the past month, it is worth noting that on the ten months' showing Southern should have net earnings by the end of this month of about $16,775,000.

EUROPE WILL FURTHER HELP TO FINANCE OUR RAILROADS

Negotiations Have Not Been Broken Off, Notwithstanding Recent Uneasiness in American Commercial Circles; and Plenty of Funds From Abroad Expected.

NEW YORK—In the opinion of bankers most closely in touch with affairs in European investment markets, further assistance may be expected from those sources in financing requirements of American railroads.

There was a brief period, following uncertainties of last week's railroad situation, when financial interests were apprehensive lest such further assistance might be indefinitely postponed. The White House conference has served thus early to remove most, if not all, of this apprehension.

Two facts stand out: First, that, notwithstanding all of last week's uneasiness, the negotiations in progress several weeks between Harriman bankers and German financial interests for sale of a substantial amount of Southern Pacific bonds were apparently not interrupted; second, that the immediate turn of events warrants temporarily suspended, notably, those contemplating sale of $17,500,000 Michigan Central debentures in France.

Two weeks ago we estimated amount of American securities which had been offered exclusively in Europe since Jan. 1 at $120,500,000, made up as follows: $50,000,000 St. Paul debentures, $10,000,000 Big Four debentures, $8,500,000 Lake Shore notes, $10,000,000 Baltimore & Ohio notes, $17,000,000 Seaboard Air Line adjustment bonds, $15,000,000 New York Telephone bonds and $10,000,000 Great Northern bonds.

Various smaller issues bring the total of corporation bonds exclusively purchased by those markets up to, say, $130,000,000, which will be increased to $175,000,000 with definite closing of both Southern Pacific and Michigan Central transactions. In addition to corporation issues, Europe has also absorbed $40,000,000 New York city revenue warrants since Jan. 1, and shared participation in other offerings of about $175,000,000.

While James J. Hill has denied that he intends to open negotiations for sale in Europe of $80,000,000 bonds, the amount mentioned in Paris cables of a fortnight ago, it is still believed there may be some significance in this connection in his present trip over the lines in company with a representative of prominent English financial interests.

Settlement of question of the Hill financing, together with definite announcements regarding negotiations covering St. Louis & San Francisco and Missouri, Kansas & Texas bonds would mark conclusion of all transactions which have been the subject of discussion during the past two months.

The German money market is probably less favorable for sale of new bonds at this time than either the French or English money markets, due to the greater activity of German industries. German investors can be counted on to take substantial amounts of our bonds on favorable terms, although not in position to absorb them in such large amounts as the French.

As for the outlook in the American market, investment bankers are of the opinion that, while there are some factors which will tend ultimately to improve demand for high-grade securities, summer dullness is likely to be somewhat more acute than for several years.

NEW YORK—In the opinion of bankers most closely in touch with affairs in European investment markets, further assistance may be expected from those sources in financing requirements of American railroads.

There was a brief period, following uncertainties of last week's railroad situation, when financial interests were apprehensive lest such further assistance might be indefinitely postponed. The White House conference has served thus early to remove most, if not all, of this apprehension.

Two facts stand out: First, that, notwithstanding all of last week's uneasiness, the negotiations in progress several weeks between Harriman bankers and German financial interests for sale of a substantial amount of Southern Pacific bonds were apparently not interrupted; second, that the immediate turn of events warrants temporarily suspended, notably, those contemplating sale of $17,500,000 Michigan Central debentures in France.

Two weeks ago we estimated amount of American securities which had been offered exclusively in Europe since Jan. 1 at $120,500,000, made up as follows: $50,000,000 St. Paul debentures, $10,000,000 Big Four debentures, $8,500,000 Lake Shore notes, $10,000,000 Baltimore & Ohio notes, $17,000,000 Seaboard Air Line adjustment bonds, $15,000,000 New York Telephone bonds and $10,000,000 Great Northern bonds.

Various smaller issues bring the total of corporation bonds exclusively purchased by those markets up to, say, $130,000,000, which will be increased to $175,000,000 with definite closing of both Southern Pacific and Michigan Central transactions. In addition to corporation issues, Europe has also absorbed $40,000,000 New York city revenue warrants since Jan. 1, and shared participation in other offerings of about $175,000,000.

While James J. Hill has denied that he intends to open negotiations for sale in Europe of $80,000,000 bonds, the amount mentioned in Paris cables of a fortnight ago, it is still believed there may be some significance in this connection in his present trip over the lines in company with a representative of prominent English financial interests.

Settlement of question of the Hill financing, together with definite announcements regarding negotiations covering St. Louis & San Francisco and Missouri, Kansas & Texas bonds would mark conclusion of all transactions which have been the subject of discussion during the past two months.

The German money market is probably less favorable for sale of new bonds at this time than either the French or English money markets, due to the greater activity of German industries. German investors can be counted on to take substantial amounts of our bonds on favorable terms, although not in position to absorb them in such large amounts as the French.

As for the outlook in the American market, investment bankers are of the opinion that, while there are some factors which will tend ultimately to improve demand for high-grade securities, summer dullness is likely to be somewhat more acute than for several years.

Today's Produce Market

PRICES FIGURED ON A WHOLESALE BASIS.

Arrivals.

Steamers Cymric from Liverpool, Winifred from Liverpool and Iberian from Manchester.

Steamer Greenbrier from Port Limon with 28,000 stems bananas for United Fruit Co.

Steamer Gloucester from Norfolk with 6800 cwt cabbage, 170 bbls peas, 110 bbls beans, 1700 bbls potatoes.

Steamer Katadin from Jacksonville with 445 cwt pineapples, 2 cwt egg plant, 424 cwt squash, 150 cwt tomatoes.

The Norfolk steamer due here tomorrow has 1000 cwt cabbage, 3750 cwt beans, 100 bbls beans, 3000 bbls potatoes.

Steamer Nicholas Cuneo from Sama for Boston with bananas for W & C R Noyes. Due Monday, June 13.

Boston Receipts.
Apples 9 bbls, strawberries 13,650 cwt, other berries 90 cwt, peaches 120 cwt, watermelons 1 cwt, cantaloupes 1 cwt, California oranges 3903 bbs, lemons 2 bbs, bananas 28,000 stems, California cherries 2071 bbs, California apricots 746 bbs, California plums 40 bbs, California grape fruit 453 bbs, pineapples 2605 cwt, potatoes 22,748 bu, onions 503 bu.

Fruit Sale Tomorrow.
H. Harris Co. will sell tomorrow at 1 p. m., at 227 State street, oranges and lemons per stem Canopic. Fruit to be examined at pier 44, Charlestown.

New York Fruit News.
The steamers Ultonia, with 8600 bbs Palermo lemons, and Taormina from Naples, etc., have arrived.

The only auction sale Wednesday was that of California oranges. There were 22 cars sold. A very strong and active market and prices averaged about 10c higher than Tuesday. In some cases there was a little higher advance, but the average was not over 10c.

The cargo of the steamer Citia di Palermo, 31,400 bbs lemons, will be sold today.

PROVISIONS

CHICAGO MARKET.
July wheat 95½; July pork 22.50; July lard 12.45; hog roots 13.00; prices 9.50@9.70; cattle market steady; receipts 5500; beefs 5.80@5.70; cows and heifers 2.00@2.15; Texas steers 5.35@5.30; stags and feds 4.60@5.00; western cattle 5.50@5.70.

Local Poultry Receipts.
Today 598 pigs; last year 812 pigs.

Boston Prices.
Flour—Mill shipments, spring patents $5.00@5.50, clear $4.20@4.50, winter patents $5.25@5.50, straight $4.85@5.25, clear $4.50@4.85, Strauss patents in June $5.10@5.50, rye flour $3.85@4.05, graham $4.40@4.60.

Corn—Carlots, on spot, No. 2 yellow 60½@70c, steamer yellow 60@60½c, No. 3 yellow 68½@69c; to ship from the west, No. 2 yellow 60@60½c, No. 3 yellow 68@68½c.

Oats—Carlots, on spot, No. 1 clipped white 47½@48c, No. 2 45½@46c, No. 3 45@45½c, rejected white 43@44c; to ship from the west, 40 to 42 lbs, clipped white 46@46½c, 38 to 40 lbs 44@44½c, 36 to 38 lbs 43½@44c, barley mixtures 41½@43½c.

Cornmeal and oatmeal—Cornmeal, ordinary $1.32@1.37 100-lb bag, kiln dried $1.31@1.35, granulated $3.30@3.50, bolted $3.20@3.40; oatmeal, rolled $4.50@4.80, cut and ground $4.00@5.25.

Milled—To ship from the west, spring bran $21.25@21.75, winter bran $22.50@23, middlings $22.50@26.50, mixed feeds $23@26, red dog $20@25.50, cottonseed meal $32.50@33; linseed meal $35.00@34, gluten feed $28.00, hominy feed $24.75, stock feed $25.75.

Hay and straw—Hay, western choice $25, No. 1 $23.50@24, No. 2 $21@22, No. 3 $18.50@19; straw, rye $15@15.50, oat $10.

Butter—Northern creamery 20@20½c, western 20@20½c.

Eggs—Fancy nearby hennessy 28@29c, eastern, best, 25@26c; western, 23@25c; Cheese—New York twins, extra, 15½@16c; Vermont twins, extra, 15@15½c; medium, choice, per bu, $2.40@2.45; medium, choice, hand picked $2.40@2.45; California small white $3.30@3.35.

Potatoes—Green Mountain, per 2 bu bag, 70@75c; Florida, new, No. 1, per bbl, $2.25@3.25.

Sweet Potatoes—Jersey, per bbl, 50@55c; N. Carolina, per bbl crate, $2.50@2.55; Onions—Texas, $1.75@2; Egyptian, per bag, $2.75@3.

Asparagus—Native giant, per box, 3 doz, $6@7; common per box, $4.50@5.50; New Jersey, per dozen bunches, $3@4.50; Pennsylvania, $2.50@3.50.

Poultry—Nearby broilers 32@35c, choice northern and eastern fowl 20c, roasting chickens, 4 to 5 lbs, 28@30c; western fowl 18@19c.

Fruit—Apples, per bbl, $3@5; pineapples, $1.50@2.25; strawberries, 8@12c; muskmelons, per crate, $2@5.

DAIRY PRODUCTS
Boston Receipts.
Today, 15,135 lbs 6804 bbs 684.913 lbs butter, 3638 lbs local cheese, 8414 cwt eggs; 1000, 15,361 lbs 7916 bbs 851.827 lbs butter, 9430 lbs local 373 bbs export cheese, 11,580 cwt eggs.

Wednesday, 1010, 10,587 lbs 2608 bbs 577.394 lbs butter, 1385 bbs local 500 bbs cheese, 8630 cwt eggs; 1000, 4604 lbs 1300 bbs 255.750 lbs butter, 2685 bbs local cheese, 8438 cwt eggs.

New York Market.
Butter—Cream spec str mk 20½c, 28½c; cry str mk 28½c, 28½c; cry ex str mk 28½c, 28½c, free del; cry ex str mk str 1st afternoon, 28c, cry 1st 27½c, fact 1st 23½c, 23½c; cry spec str tomorrow 28½c; sales 72 cry spec 40 cry spec str mk 28½c, 25 cryh str mk 28½c, 20 cry spec str mk 28½c, 40 cry spec str mk 28½c, 25 cry spec str mk 28½c, 42 cry ex str mk 28c; receipts 12,812.

Eggs—Northern Ohio extra firsts, 21c, 20½c; northern Iowa extra firsts, 21½c; northern Ohio or northern Illinois firsts, 20½c, 19½c; northern Indiana firsts, 20½c, 20c; Michigan firsts, 20½c, 20c; Minnesota firsts, 20½c, 20c; No. 1 dirties, 17½c; fresh gathered firsts seller the week, 20½c; northern Ohio extra firsts seller tomorrow, 21½c. Sales—200 northern Ohio firsts, 20c; 250 Indiana firsts, 20c, cartage allowed; 200 Illinois firsts, 20c; 100 Iowa firsts, 20c; free delivery; 100 Iowa extra firsts, 20½c, free delivery. Receipts, 22,502.

Today's New York Market by Telegram.
Butter mkt unsettled; western cry spec 28½c, western cry ex 28c@28½c. Cheese mkt quiet at 14c.

Egg mkt steady; storg pkt ex lats 21½c, storg pkt lats 20½@21c, regular pkt fresh lats 20½@21c; regular pkt fresh lats 19½@20c.

New York Receipts.
Today, 12,812 pkgs butter, 3898 bbs cheese, 22,502 cwt eggs; 1909, 5694 pkgs butter, 4800 bbs cheese, 18,534 cwt eggs. Wednesday, 1910, 14,411 pkgs butter, 9097 bbs cheese, 27,680 cwt eggs; 1909, 13,377 pkgs butter, 3993 bbs cheese, 24,433 cwt eggs.

Other Markets.
ST. LOUIS, Mo.—Egg market June 8 weak at 17½c.

CHICAGO, Ill.—Butter market June 8 firm; extra 27c, No. 1 package stock 21½c; receipts 14,333. Egg market steady; prime firsts 18½c, firsts 17½c, ordinary firsts 16c; receipts 22,223.

PAUL MORTON IS OPTIMISTIC
NEW YORK—Paul Morton, president of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, called for Europe Wednesday on the Lusitania, expecting to be gone until August. Mr. Morton declined to say anything on insurance matters, but concerning business he stated that if the people would watch the crops everything would come out all right. Explaining this remark, he stated that the crops this year would be the principal factor in the country's prosperity. Mr. Morton was accompanied by some other officials of the Equitable.

Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, also was a passenger on the Lusitania. He will be gone until September, and during his stay abroad will make a study of the political situation in England. He will attend the one hundredth anniversary of the founding of the University of Berlin and will also be present at the closing sessions of the fisheries conference before the arbitration tribunal at The Hague. Mr. Butler said that in his opinion this country has never before been on such a prosperous basis.

PORTLAND LIGHT EARNINGS REPORT
The Portland Railway, Light & Power Company reports earnings for the month of May and for five months ended May 31 as follows:

Month of May.
Gross earnings $496,435
Operating expenses 197,109
Net earnings $299,326
Fixed charges, including taxes 132,968
Surplus $166,358

Five months ending May 31.
Gross earnings $2,108,733
Operating expenses 920,777
Net earnings $1,187,956
Fixed charges, including taxes 650,560
Surplus $537,396

Month of May.
Gross earnings $496,435
Operating expenses 197,109
Net earnings $299,326
Fixed charges, including taxes 132,968
Surplus $166,358

Five months ending May 31.
Gross earnings $2,108,733
Operating expenses 920,777
Net earnings $1,187,956
Fixed charges, including taxes 650,560
Surplus $537,396

Month of May.
Gross earnings $496,435
Operating expenses 197,109
Net earnings $299,326
Fixed charges, including taxes 132,968
Surplus $166,358

Five months ending May 31.
Gross earnings $2,108,733
Operating expenses 920,777
Net earnings $1,187,956
Fixed charges, including taxes 650,560
Surplus $537,396

Month of May.
Gross earnings $496,435
Operating expenses 197,109
Net earnings $299,326
Fixed charges, including taxes 132,968
Surplus $166,358

Five months ending May 31.
Gross earnings $2,108,733
Operating expenses 920,777
Net earnings $1,187,956
Fixed charges, including taxes 650,560
Surplus $537,396

Month of May.
Gross earnings $496,435
Operating expenses 197,109
Net earnings $299,326
Fixed charges, including taxes 132,968
Surplus $166,358

Five months ending May 31.
Gross earnings $2,108,733
Operating expenses 920,777
Net earnings $1,187,956
Fixed charges, including taxes 650,560
Surplus $537,396

Month of May.
Gross earnings $496,435
Operating expenses 197,109
Net earnings $299,326
Fixed charges, including taxes 132,968
Surplus $166,358

Five months ending May 31.
Gross earnings $2,108,733
Operating expenses 920,777
Net earnings $1,187,956
Fixed charges, including taxes 650,560
Surplus $537,396

Month of May.
Gross earnings $496,435
Operating expenses 197,109
Net earnings $299,326
Fixed charges, including taxes 132,968
Surplus $166,358

Five months ending May 31.
Gross earnings $2,108,733
Operating expenses 920,777
Net earnings $1,187,956
Fixed charges, including taxes 650,560
Surplus $537,396

Month of May.
Gross earnings $496,435
Operating expenses 197,109
Net earnings $299,326
Fixed charges, including taxes 132,968
Surplus $166,358

Five months ending May 31.
Gross earnings $2,108,733
Operating expenses 920,777
Net earnings $1,187,956
Fixed charges, including taxes 650,560
Surplus $537,396

Month of May.
Gross earnings $496,435
Operating expenses 197,109
Net earnings $299,326
Fixed charges, including taxes 132,968
Surplus $166,358

Five months ending May 31.
Gross earnings $2,108,733
Operating expenses 920,777
Net earnings $1,187,956
Fixed charges, including taxes 650,560
Surplus $537,396

Month of May.
Gross earnings $496,435
Operating expenses 197,109
Net earnings $299,326
Fixed charges, including taxes 132,968
Surplus $166,358

Five months ending May 31.
Gross earnings $2,108,733
Operating expenses 920,777
Net earnings $1,187,956
Fixed charges, including taxes 650,560
Surplus $537,396

Month of May.
Gross earnings $496,435
Operating expenses 197,109
Net earnings $299,326
Fixed charges, including taxes 132,968
Surplus $166,358

Five months ending May 31.
Gross earnings $2,108,733
Operating expenses 920,777
Net earnings $1,187,956
Fixed charges, including taxes 650,560
Surplus $537,396

Month of May.
Gross earnings $496,435
Operating expenses 197,109
Net earnings $299,326
Fixed charges, including taxes 132,968
Surplus $166,358

Five months ending May 31.
Gross earnings $2,108,733
Operating expenses 920,777
Net earnings $1,187,956
Fixed charges, including taxes 650,560
Surplus $537,396

Month of May.
Gross earnings $496,435
Operating expenses 197,109
Net earnings $299,326
Fixed charges, including taxes 132,968
Surplus $166,358

Five months ending May 31.
Gross earnings $2,108,733
Operating expenses 920,777
Net earnings $1,187,956
Fixed charges, including taxes 650,560
Surplus $537,396

Month of May.
Gross earnings $496,435
Operating expenses 197,109
Net earnings $299,326
Fixed charges, including taxes 132,968
Surplus $166,358

Five months ending May 31.
Gross earnings $2,108,733
Operating expenses 920,777
Net earnings $1,187,956
Fixed charges, including taxes 650,560
Surplus $537,396

The Cunarder Saxonia, Captain Pentecost, is due to arrive next Thursday morning. She sailed from Liverpool Tuesday and took her departure from Queenstown at 2 p. m. Wednesday. On board are 72 saloon passengers, 365 second cabin and 1068 steerage.

The German steamship Bethania, Capt. H. Meyerdiereks, from Hamburg, brought Wednesday afternoon over 12,000 tons of merchandise. Half of her cargo will be discharged here and the balance taken to Baltimore. Her Boston consignments include machinery, toys, hats, fancy goods, postal cards, musical instruments and souvenir crockery.

Following are the arrivals of fishing vessels at T wharf this morning, with their fares in pounds: George E. Lane, Jr., 13,000, Arbitrator 20,000, Edward A. Rich 15,000, Ethel B. Penney 16,000, Katherine & Ellen 34,000, Matiana 35,000, Margaret Dillon 20,000, Josie & Phoebe 53,000, Mary DeCosta 17,000.

Dealers' prices of fish at T wharf today follow per hundredweight: Haddock $5.85@6.25, large cod $6.75@7.25, small cod $4.75@5.25, large hake $3.75, small $1.75, pollock $4.25.

PORT OF BOSTON.
Arrived.
Str Cymric (Br), Howarth, Liverpool May 31 and Queenstown June 1, mds passengers to White Star line.

Str Iberian (Br), Jago, Manchester May 27, mds to Fredk Leyland & Co.

Str Winifred (Br), Shepherd, Liverpool May 29, mds passengers to Fredk Leyland & Co. Ltd.

Str Greenbrier (Br), Rathbun, Port Limon, C R, May 31, fruit to United Fruit Co.

Str Prince George (Br), McKinnon, N S, mds passengers to J F Masters.

Str Gloucester, McDorman, Norfolk, mds passengers to C H Maynard.

Str Yale, Gilbert, New York, mds, passengers to Albert Smith.

Str Belfast, Curtis, Bangor, Me.

Str Governor Dingley, Bluff, Portland, Me.

Str City of Gloucester, Linneken, Gloucester, Mass.

Tug Cumberland, Svendsen, Baltimore, tow bgs 14 and 25, do, and 7 from Washington.

Tug Plymouth, Hansen, Port Johnson, tow bgs CRR of NJ 7.

Tug F E Richards, Miller, tow bgs R & R L Co 4, 5 and 7, latter for Lynn.

Tug Lenape, Lloyd, Philadelphia, tow bgs Kohinoor for Lynn, Robeson for Salem and Manatway for Blideford.

Tug John A Hughes, from New York, tow bgs I D Fletcher.

Tug Tamaqua, Isaksen, Newburyport.

Tug H A Mathis, Ross, Gloucester, tow fishing sch Fannie Belle Atwood.

Sch Clara E Comee, Parker, Bangor via Gloucester, lumber for Curtis &

The advertisements upon this page are inserted free and persons interested must exercise discretion in all correspondence concerning the same.

SPACE IS NOT GIVEN ON THIS PAGE TO ADVERTISEMENTS FOR PERSONS WANTED TO ADVERTISEMENTS SOLICITING BUSINESS PATRONAGE

EASTERN STATES

SITUATIONS WANTED—MALE

SALESMAN 10 years' experience established through East, New York state, and Baltimore, Md., and has good connection with reliable house. L. J. BELLE, P. O. box 171, Southampton, L. I. 14

TEACHER desires work during the summer; would work for expenses. Address FRANK, Perry, N. Y. 13

TRAVELING SALESMAN desires position; excellent personality. EDWIN NICHOLS, 6232 Columbia ave., West Philadelphia, Pa. 14

SITUATIONS WANTED—FEMALE

ATTENDANT desires employment in retail family in New York city; prefers to live at home. Address 18, 5302 Madison bldg., New York. 10

HAPERON desires position with young

ERK, 25 years' business experience, a typewriter, etc. desires position of bookkeeper; good home; wages $25; references. MRS. D. TAITE, 174 E. 7th St., New York. 10

14
15
16
17
18
19 20
21
22
23
24
25
26
27
28
29
30
31
32
33
34
35
36
37
38
39
40
41
42
43
44
45
46
47
48
49
50
51
52
53
54
55
56
57
58
59
60
61
62
63
64
65
66
67
68
69
70
71
72
73
74
75
76
77
78
79
80
81
82
83
84
85
86
87
88
89
90
91
92
93
94
95
96
97
98
99
100
101
102
103
104
105
106
107
108
109
110
111
112
113
114
115
116
117
118
119
120
121
122
123
124
125
126
127
128
129
130
131
132
133
134
135
136
137
138
139
140
141
142
143
144
145
146
147
148
149
150
151
152
153
154
155
156
157
158
159
160
161
162
163
164
165
166
167
168
169
170
171
172
173
174
175
176
177
178
179
180
181
182
183
184
185
186
187
188
189
190
191
192
193
194
195
196
197
198
199
200
201
202
203
204
205
206
207
208
209
210
211
212
213
214
215
216
217
218
219
220
221
222
223
224
225
226
227
228
229
230
231
232
233
234
235
236
237
238
239
240
241
242
243
244
245
246
247
248
249
250
251
252
253
254
255
256
257
258
259
260
261
262
263
264
265
266
267
268
269
270
271
272
273
274
275
276
277
278
279
280
281
282
283
284
285
286
287
288
289
290
291
292
293
294
295
296
297
298
299
300
301
302
303
304
305
306
307
308
309
310
311
312
313
314
315
316
317
318
319
320
321
322
323
324
325
326
327
328
329
330
331
332
333
334
335
336
337
338
339
340
341
342
343
344
345
346
347
348
349
350
351
352
353
354
355
356
357
358
359
360
361
362
363
364 365
366
367
368
369
370
371
372
373
374
375
376
377
378
379
380
381
382
383
384
385
386
387
388
389
390
391
392
393
394
395
396
397
398
399
400
401
402
403
404
405
406
407
408
409
410
411
412
413
414
415
416
417
418
419
420
421
422
423
424
425
426
427
428
429
430
431
432
433
434
435
436
437
438
439
440
441
442
443
444
445
446
447
448
449
450
451
452
453
454
455
456
457
458
459
460
461
462
463
464
465
466
467
468
469
470
471
472
473
474
475
476
477
478
479
480
481
482
483
484
485
486
487
488
489
490
491
492
493
494
495
496
497
498
499
500
501 502
503
504
505
506
507
508
509
510
511
512
513
514
515
516
517
518
519
520
521
522
523
524
525
526
527
528
529
530
531
532
533
534
535
536
537
538
539
540
541
542
543
544
545
546
547
548
549
550
551
552
553
554
555
556
557
558
559
560
561
562
563
564
565
566
567
568
569
570
571
572
573
574
575
576
577
578
579
580
581
582
583
584
585
586
587
588
589
590
591
592
593
594
595
596
597
598
599
600
601
602
603
604
605
606
607
608
609
610
611
612
613
614
615
616
617
618
619
620
621
622
623
624
625
626
627
628
629
630
631
632
633
634
635
636
637
638
639
640
641
642
643
644
645
646
647
648
649
650
651
652
653
654
655
656
657
658
659
660
661
662
663
664
665
666
667
668
669
670
671
672
673
674
675
676
677
678
679
680
681
682
683
684
685
686
687
688
689
690
691
692
693
694
695
696
697
698
699
700
701
702
703
704
705
706
707
708
709
710
711
712
713
714
715
716
717
718
719
720
721
722
723
724
725
726
727
728
729
730
731
732
733 734
735
736
737
738
739
740
741
742
743
744
745
746
747
748
749
750
751
752
753
754
755
756
757
758
759
760
761
762
763
764
765
766
767
768
769
770
771
772
773
774
775
776
777
778
779
780
781
782
783
784
785
786
787
788
789
790
791
792
793
794
795
796
797
798
799
800
801
802
803
804
805
806
807
808
809
810
811
812
813
814
815
816
817
818
819
820
821
822
823
824
825
826
827
828
829
830
831
832
833
834
835
836
837
838
839
840
841
842
843
844
845
846
847
848
849

THERESA HELPER wishes position in a newspaper. Address: 1007 1/2 Ave.
 Roberts, Brooklyn, N. Y. 9
 ROBERTSON, 287 Clarkson ave.
 Brooklyn, N. Y. 9
 RYBARSKY makes sole charge of a business in good financial condition and with good management. Excellent references. Address: 1000 W. 18th St., Apt. 10,
 Manhattan, N. Y. 11
 SAMUEL M. SNEY, former U. S. Army
 Major, 218 W. 60th st., New York, N. Y. 13
 SULLIVAN, School Teacher, experienced in all branches of teaching, desires position as a teacher in a high school. Excellent references furnished. Address: 1000 W. 18th St.,
 Apt. 10, Manhattan, N. Y. 11
 T. L. LON, Gen. Del., Pittsburgh, Pa. 13
 TROENEGRAHER wishes position in a newspaper. Address: 1000 W. 18th St.,
 Apt. 10, Manhattan, N. Y. 11
 W. M. DALBY, 3306 Arch st., Philadelphia, Pa. Phone 1510 Preston. 13
 ZIMMERMAN, long practical experience in newspaper work as secretary,
 copy editor, and proof reader. Excellent references. Address: 1000 W. 18th St.,
 Apt. 10, Manhattan, N. Y. 11
 ZIMMERMAN, long practical experience in newspaper work as secretary,
 copy editor, and proof reader. Excellent
 references. Address: 1000 W. 18th St.,
 Apt. 10, Manhattan, N. Y. 11

690 E. 134th St., New York city. 11
FACILITIES would like position as companion to lady traveling abroad. C. M. B., 11
Y. 92d St., New York. 11
YOUNG WOMAN desires position as secretary, companion, assistant in literary work. Write: Mrs. E. S. 2063 Metropolitan bldg., New York. 11

CENTRAL STATES

SITUATIONS WANTED—M. E.

OVERSITING MAN desires position: 7 s' experience Chicago. State street and dry department stores; highest references; splendidly furnished. A. H. F., 14
East 50th St., Chicago. 14
BOOKKEEPER (married), 8 years' bookkeeping and office experience, desires position. References furnished. Write: Mrs. J. H. 14
East 50th St., Chicago. 14

tion. J. E. LOWERY, 428 Columbia
Cleveland, O. 15
TILER OR VALET (50) would like to study electricity temperature, roughly competent; references. FRED-ERICK WOERNER, 6808 Euclid ave.
Cleveland, O. 15
FATHER WOULD like position; good to own repairs; 4 years experience; or family who would appreciate good
MR. MARTIN, 4425 Drexel bldg.,
Cleveland, O. 14
ERK (24), experienced in renting, collecting and general real estate office work, like position in that line or any general work. Address J. A. HANSEN,
ELECTOR, 4139 Michigan ave., Chicago 19
ELECTOR desires position in Indianians, Ind., with bank or retail house. A.
MOORE, 931 North Illinois st., Indian-

EMPANION desires position with lady child 3 or 4 hours daily. MRS. E. R.
 WIKEN, 3018 Lexington st., Chicago. 10
EMPANION-SECRETARY desires position in school, educational, musical and general office work. Pleasant, societable, willing and cheerful; city or country;
 references. MISS LEONORE
 SEIDER, 313 East 17th st., New York 18
HEATSMAN desires position on heat-venting and plumbing; five years' experience; will work for $20 a week. For further particulars apply to LEO A. PEREIRA, 22
 W. Erie st., Chicago. 11
ELECTRICAL ENGINEER desires execucution; product designing, testing, estimating, lect. course desired; $2500 mo.
 to start; 5 years' experience. R 539,
 Tor Office. 9
EMPLOYMENT of any kind desired or offered. Write to Mrs. J. J. O'Connell, 10

EMPLOYMENT desired in accountant's by man, 23, to learn business; well-educated, reliable, industrious. NELS
1333 Stewart av., Chicago 12. 15

EMPLOYMENT desired for colored boy
w/old during vacation months. MRS.
EWIS, 6712 State St., Chicago. 15

ENGINEER, age 30, married, desires position in power plant, experience in power and velocity, can handle Corliss automatic, valve, simple, compound and triple-expansion engines, turbines, steam and dynamos motors. J. STANLEY HADLEY, Col-13

ARMER—Reliable middle aged married desires position: Swiss, thoroughly experienced with live stock, willing and handy with tools. JOHN E. HARR, 3804
mond av., S. E. Cleveland, O. 13

ENTURE DESIGNER, first class, deposition; good also on interior decoratwill start for $150 per month. For information write to EEO A. FERREIRA, 21
Lille st., Chicago. 11

ENGINEER desires position with young company or railroad; can give good
S. F. HARWOOD, 1109 E. 9th
Bloomington, Ind. 9

GH SCHOOL BOY wants position for year. EDDIE FRUTIG, 308
Wood av., Detroit, Mich. 11

WYER actively engaged in practise, of Chicago firm, wishes position at corporation, bank, etc.; previous practising manager, branch office of large refereces, etc. H. A. B. A., 40
Pearson st., Chicago. 11

RSERY GOVERNORS (North German) position; last airline charge for children from 3 years up; good traveler; best all references. FRANKLIN HARTMAN,

6, 60th st., German Governesses Home,
New York. 13

PRIVATE SECRETARY of considerable experience will be in line for position about 1; best of references; Gregg system hand; strictly temperate. Address C.
HMS, Association Hall, Champaign, Ill. 9 ditional Want Advs. on Next Page

DINNER FOR FORMER PRESIDENTS NOT TO DEAL WITH POLITICS

(Continued from Page One.)

letter the former President states that he has made no arrangements to participate in political gatherings and cannot do so at the present time.

The first move on the part of the English Conservatives to make capital of Mr. Roosevelt's Guildhall address will be taken next Monday, according to an announcement today by Sir Henry Dalziel that he will ask Foreign Secretary Grey whether the government has lost confidence in Sir E. Grey, the British agent and consul general of Egypt. The query is expected to force the government to either give its approval or disapproval to his administration.

The Roosevelt's last day in England is being spent with Sir Edward Grey at New Forest, where they enjoyed an old-fashioned outing together. The former President, accompanied by Sir Edward, will walk Friday from New Forest to Southampton station, where they will meet the special train which is to convey Mrs. Roosevelt, Kermit and Ethel Roosevelt, and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth from London. At Southampton they will find waiting a special tender chartered by the line to convey them to the steamship Kaiserin Augusta Victoria, anchored in the Solent.

Dorchester house, the residence of Ambassador Reid, was the scene Wednesday of two functions in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt—a reception in the afternoon to the members of the Pilgrims and American societies, and a farewell dinner at night. Several hundred persons attended the dinner, including most of the prominent members of the American colony.

Ambassador and Mrs. Reid and former President and Mrs. Roosevelt received at the head of the grand staircase. The guests included the archbishop of Canterbury; Sir Edward Grey, the foreign secretary; the Duke of Portland, Lord Curzon of Kedleston, Bishop Brent of the Philippine islands and Lord Alverstone.

At the luncheon at Col. Arthur Lee's, Mr. Roosevelt met two Englishmen of very widely separated politics, the Earl of Selborne, former high commissioner in South Africa and governor of Transvaal, who has returned from his post, and David Lloyd-George, chancellor of the exchequer. Others at the luncheon were Sir Horace Plunkett of the department of agriculture in Ireland, Sir Alfred Pease and W. W. Jacobs, the writer, who was invited to attend on Mr. Roosevelt's special request.

Land Parade to Be Omitted in Mr. Roosevelt's Welcome

NEW YORK—There will be no general land parade as a feature of the reception to Theodore Roosevelt when he lands in New York the morning of June 18, according to the latest decision of the Roosevelt reception committee. This change is made because of the enormous number of requests for positions in the parade from organizations throughout the country.

Instead of being assigned in a monster parade, the clubs and societies will now be stationed at various points along Fifth avenue, from which they will have ample opportunity to see former President Roosevelt as he passes up the avenue accompanied by his escort.

The mayor's committee of 300 will assemble at the Battery not later than 8 a. m. and proceed on a revenue cutter to quarantine, where the former President will leave the steamship for the revenue cutter, which will head a line of boats to be assigned to their respective positions. A naval procession will pass up North river on the west side to a point about opposite Twenty-third street, then circle towards New York, and will go down the east side of the river and land at the Battery about 11 o'clock. A reception stand will be erected at pier A, Battery park, at which point the former President will be met by Mayor Gaynor, who will deliver the address of welcome, and it is hoped the former President will respond.

After these exercises the guest and his escort will proceed up Broadway and into Washington square and thence up Fifth avenue to Fifty-ninth street in the following order: Mounted police, police band, rough riders, former President Roosevelt in carriage, entire reception committee in carriages.

As applications from organizations throughout the country are received, positions will be assigned to them on Fifth avenue by the committee or by General Roe, who will have general charge.

HOME MISSIONARY WOMEN CONVE

WHITMAN, Mass.—The Woman's Home Missionary Society of the New Bedford district held its annual convention Wednesday in the East Whitman Methodist church. A large delegation was present, representing nearly every society in the district. After service conducted by Miss A. Gertrude Briggs of Attleboro, the address of welcome was given by the Rev. O. L. Griswold and the response by President Mrs. S. L. Warren of New Bedford, who was chairman.

Mrs. Sherman E. Ellis of Attleboro gave a talk on "What Constitutes a Modern Auxiliary." The annual roll call took place and reports were read. After a dinner at noon the afternoon session was opened by Mrs. I. W. Streeter of New Bedford. The principal address was given by Miss Agnes L. Newhall on "Missions in Alaska."

WISCONSIN PROGRAM IS TO LAUD MR. TAFT AND BAR INSURGENTS

(Continued from Page One.)

the substitution thereof of a one-man despotism.

In his address Wednesday night Vice-President Sherman pleaded the cause of regular Republicanism and urged the insurgents to return to the fold.

He paid a handsome tribute to President Taft, saying:

"I believe that with the people's better understanding of the real purposes and interest of our great and sincere President, who is striving with all the energy which he possesses to keep the promises made by himself and his party; I believe when truth and facts have displaced falsehood and fiction, people, not only in Wisconsin, but throughout the United States, will give their hearty endorsement to that party which has during all these years stood like a bulwark for liberty, for honor and for progress."

President Taft Loses Stanch Friend in Iowa

DES MOINES, La.—While the defeat of Warren C. Garst, progressive, by Gov. B. F. Carroll, regular Republican, for the gubernatorial nomination at Tuesday's primaries is regarded as rather a stinging blow at the prestige of Senators Cummins and Dooliver, by whom Mr. Garst was supported, the real victory of the progressive element over the "standpatters" is accepted here today in the decisive defeat for the congressional nomination of the present incumbent, J. A. T. Hull, by Judge Prouty, a progressive.

This is looked upon as a slap at the administration and the President, as Mr. Hull was one of the staunchest supporters of the regulars in Congress.

The "standpat" Republicans are endeavoring to get some joy over the re-nomination of Mr. Carroll and the two Republican candidates for Congress, Walter I. Smith and C. A. Kennedy, against whom the insurgents, under the leadership of Senator Cummins, made their strongest fight. The regular Republicans will control the state convention, having a bare majority of the 1400 delegates.

Representative Hull has been in politics, state and national, since his retirement from the army in 1893. He has served for 10 consecutive terms in Congress and is at present chairman of the House committee on military affairs.

MONTPELIER, Vt.—Chairman Frank C. Williams of the Republican state committee, denying a report that no gubernatorial candidate in the pending campaign could expect the support of the state organization unless he favored a certain candidate for United States senator, says:

"The Republican state committee of Vermont is not now and never has been an instrument to further the candidacy of any person until the convention makes its choice, and then it expects to do what it has always done—put in two months of hard work without pay to advance the interests of the Republican party."

PERRE, S. D.—Latest returns indicate that it will take an official count to settle the question of the governorship on the Republican ticket and the vote is also close on the members of Congress. No one expected such a close vote in South Dakota. It was known that the insurgents were making gains there, but the returns today indicate that, at the very worst, they have been beaten by only a few votes.

CHICAGO—"We are trimming them up gradually and surely," said United States Senator A. B. Cummins of Iowa today when asked what he thought of the result of the primary in his home state. "The progressives have reduced the 'stand-patters' to three districts in Iowa and we have the state convention by a large majority, so you can see for yourself how we are coming on," he continued.

PLANS FOR CRUISE OF MILITIA ISSUED

WASHINGTON—Beckman Winthrop, assistant secretary of the navy, in charge of naval affairs, has issued a set of instructions to Admiral Schroeder regarding the handling of the Atlantic coast naval militia on their practice cruises on July 23 to 30.

Eight ships of the fleet—the Connecticut, South Carolina, Michigan, New Hampshire, Minnesota, Rhode Island, Nebraska and Virginia—will embark the New York militia either at Ambrose channel light or Tompkinsville and land them at the same place.

CORPORATION TAXES $2,539,897. TRENTON, N. J.—Irvine E. Maguire, secretary of the state board of assessors, has filed with the state controller a preliminary schedule of the corporation taxes of 1910, and this shows aggregate taxes of $2,539,897.70 assessed against 7143 miscellaneous corporations.

NEW FACTORY FOR GILSUM. KEENE, N. H.—Herbert E. Adams of Gilsum has arranged to build a two-story wooden factory for the manufacture of chairs on the site formerly occupied by the Gilsum Woolen Manufacturing Company plant.

SEND DREADNOUGHT MODEL GIFT. QUINCY, Mass.—A 12-foot model of the new dreadnought North Dakota has been modeled here and sent to Secretary of the Navy George von L. Meyer.

OLD BAPTIST CHURCH TODAY OBSERVES ITS DATE OF FOUNDATION

WEST BRIDGEWATER, Mass.—The Baptist Society of this place today celebrated its one hundred and twenty-fifth anniversary. The first part of the day was devoted to a reunion of the members. Later exercises opened with a devotional service led by the Rev. F. B. Cressay of Cambridge, a former acting pastor of the church. The address of welcome followed by the Rev. Wallace Bassett, pastor of the church. The historical review was given by Mrs. C. T. Williams. Brief addresses followed by the Rev. Willard E. Waterbury, field secretary of the Massachusetts Baptist Missionary Society, and the Rev. R. O. Sherwood of Attleboro.

Services will be held in the church this evening. The Rev. C. R. Powers will give the scriptural reading and prayer. The Rev. A. W. Smith of Boston will deliver the retrospective address and the Rev. M. F. Johnson of Roxbury will speak on "Past, Present and Future." There will be songs by Miss Lucy W. Revere and cornet solos by Walter R. Pratt of Brockton.

The Baptist church in West Bridgewater was formed in Cohasset and was organized June 7, 1785, a branch of the Middleboro Baptist church. The society continued to hold services for about 48 years, when it was declared extinct by an ecclesiastical council Feb. 19, 1833.

Services were continued at Cohasset until September, 1885, when the building was made over into a dwelling. Services were held in a hall, and in 1888 work was begun on the present structure in West Bridgewater. The new building was dedicated April 18, 1889.

The church has now 53 resident members. The following have served as pastors of the church: Elder Robinson, 1786-1797; James Reed, 1797-1798; Elder Hinds, 1798-1800; Elder Valentine W. Rathburn, 1800-1812; Elder Lovell, 1812-1814; Elder Amasa Smith, 1814-1816; the Rev. Flavell Shurtliff, 1817-1820, from 1820 to 1827 the pulpit was supplied; Elder Matthew Bolles, 1827-1829; from 1829-1838 there was no settled pastor; the Rev. Caleb Pease, 1838-1841; Samuel S. Leighton, 1841-1842; the Rev. Caleb Benson, 1842-1844; Peleg S. Whitman, 1845-1846; the Rev. Jeremiah Kelley, 1846-1847; the Rev. Silas Hall, 1847; the Rev. A. W. Carr, 1849-1851; the Rev. G. S. Stockwell, 1851-1853; from 1853 to 1859 church closed; the Rev. Samuel Hill and the Rev. Cephas Page served till 1871; the Rev. Joseph Barber, 1871-1876; the Rev. H. Beaman, 1876-1879; the Rev. J. W. Dick, 1880-1882; the Rev. L. F. Fitts, 1883-1885; the Rev. George B. Laughton, 1887-1894; the Rev. E. M. Bartlett, 1894-1897; the Rev. Wesley L. Smith, 1897-1909; the Rev. Wallace Bassett, 1909.

MEXICAN PRESIDENT USES UNITED STATES OFFICERS IS CHARGED

WASHINGTON—Charges that President Diaz of Mexico is able to use officers of the United States government in persecution of his political enemies will be made tomorrow before the House committee on rules, which is considering a resolution of Representative Wilson of Pennsylvania to create a joint investigating committee.

It is expected to be shown that Wall street interests owning concessions in Mexico worth $800,000,000 given them by Senator Diaz have forced American officers to persecute mercilessly those Mexicans in the United States who oppose President Diaz. John Kibbe Turner and L. Gutierrez de Lara, his coworker, and Mexican author and lawyer, will produce documentary evidence which they believe will substantiate their charges.

Following are the statements upon which they base the allegations that the laws in America are stretched to accommodate Senator Diaz.

The Guggenheims control the entire copper output of Mexico. The Continental Rubber Company, which controls 15 per cent of the world's output of rubber and in which John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is said to be the largest stockholder, is in control of nearly all of the rubber producing land in Mexico. The Standard Oil Company has a monopoly of all the petroleum business in the republic.

The Southern Pacific Railroad Company and the Harriman heirs control three fourths of the railway lines in Mexico. The sugar trust has gained a practical monopoly of the best sugar business in Mexico through recent exclusive concessions granted by Senator Diaz.

The Wells-Fargo Express Company has a monopoly of the express business in Mexico. Mr. Turner declares that all these financial interests so heavily indebted to Mr. Diaz have paid their obligations by bringing pressure on the federal government to accomplish his ends, pleading danger to American capital unless his wishes are complied with.

"There are a number of ways adopted by the agents of the Mexican government to persecute political refugees," said Mr. Turner today. "The ultimate idea is either to have them returned to Mexico, where they are quickly disposed of, or to have them incarcerated, harassed and persecuted in the United States."

Classified Advertisements

RATES—One insertion, 12 cents a line, three or more insertions, 10 cents a line. Telephone your advertisement to 4330 Back Bay, or, if preferred, a representative will call on you to discuss advertising.

FARMS FARMS

VIRGINIA FARMS HELP FEED THE PEOPLE

BUY A FARM WHERE THE YIELD IS BOUNTIFUL AND THE MARKETS ARE NEAR. COME TO VIRGINIA, THE LAND OF HISTORIC PAST AND OPPORTUNITY PRESENT.

We have for sale in the most beautiful part of Virginia and in one of the most productive sections of the United States, farms of all sizes.

SMALL FARMS, $750 AND UP

TERMS $100 CASH; BALANCE IN FOUR YEARS.

LARGE FARMS, $3000 TO $50,000

ON EASY TERMS.

This farm section is located between the ocean and Chesapeake Bay, within twenty-four hours' delivery distance of twenty million people. Here you will find cool summers, mild winters and the most attractive surroundings. Let us send you full particulars regarding the way in which you may become a land owner in this splendid section, how to make money out of this land and the same time be satisfied with the ideal business conditions. Write today.

ROWE & CO., Real Estate Brokers, 415-416 DICKSON BLDG., NORFOLK, VIRGINIA.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

Here is a choice summer or permanent home which can be bought at a bargain. Large commodious house of 9 rooms and bath, hot and cold water, broad piazza, detached, large barn and carriage house, beautiful lawns, nice fruit, choice shrubs and some fruit trees; over an acre of land; pleasantly located; 15 minutes to post-office, 3 miles to the city. Must be sold as owner wishes to join her relatives in the West. Address MRS. ANNIE J. HAM, South Berwick, Me.

Farms Throughout New England

$300 to $50,000—Circular free by post. brings it. Dept. 78, P. O. F. LELAND, 113 Devonshire st.

FOR SALE—Five acres, Ithaca, N. Y., on new state road; fine hillside for home; in college town; shade; no buildings; price reasonable. Box 3, Champaign, Ill.

OFFICES TO LET

DESK ROOM FOR RENT—Large space well lighted, second floor of office building. Apply to Janitor, 93 Broad st.

APARTMENTS TO LET BOSTON AND BROOKLINE

Just completed, 7 and 8 rooms, all improvements, all outside rooms; two minutes to steam and electric, 15 minutes to South Station, 20 to North Station, 10 to South Brookline, cor. Stratmore rd., Brookline. Tel. Brookline 2190.

WINTHROP HIGHLANDS

Nicely furnished 6 rooms and bath apartment on boulevard overlooking the ocean; location and view unsurpassed; now ready for occupancy. Call 21 Grover ave., Winthrop Highlands, or E. C. DAVIS, 75 State st., Boston.

PART or all of 7-room furnished suite; all improvements; central heating; bath; address R. 507, Monitor office.

APARTMENTS TO LET—ALANTIC CITY, N. J.

REASONABLE TO SMALL FAMILIES—Five rooms and bath, furnished apartment; location central; 2 short blocks from beach; 3 from station; southeast exposure; all outside rooms; ocean view from every window; elevator. Address Press R. 199, Atlantic City, N. J.

FURNISHED APARTMENTS—N. Y.

FOUR bright, sunny rooms, with bath; view of Hudson; convenient to subway; piano; machine; tel. ROSE, 615 W. 155th st.

FINANCIAL

IF YOU HAVE $5000 to invest, with services, in merchandise brokerage business, call on J. H. ROSE, 202 Walnut pl., Philadelphia.

WANTED—A loan of $10,000 at eastern rate of interest, for building of a house in Devils Lake, a fast growing town. Address EDGAR LA RUE, Devils Lake, N. Dakota.

FEDERAL CLERKS PROTEST IDEA OF ADVANCED HOURS

Raise Great Hullabaloo in Washington Until President Denies the Truth of Such Reports.

WASHINGTON—A most extraordinary feeling has prevailed among the regular residents of Washington for several days. Somebody gave currency to the rumor that President Taft was about to issue an order increasing the length of a day's work in the government departments from seven to eight hours and the effect upon the permanent population of the town was remarkable.

The government clerk used to begin work at 9 a. m. and quit at 4 o'clock, and when President Roosevelt advanced the working hour to 4:30 p. m., he was universally voted a tyrant and he never was popular in Washington after that. But this latest project, making the day run from 8:30 to 5 o'clock, with half an hour at noon for lunch, has stirred the clerks to the depths.

The chief reason against it, as quoted in interviews, is that clerks would have no time to shop. Getting out at 4:30 p. m., they are alleged to have just time to go to the stores. But getting out at 5 o'clock would mean that they would then have to hasten home for dinner.

President Taft says he has never had any such idea in mind and doesn't know a thing about how or where the report started.

AUSTRALIA SAVES MONEY IN BANKS

LONDON—It appears, according to the saving banks returns, that about 44 per cent of the inhabitants of South Australia deposit money in the savings banks, the average credit to each working out at £40.1.10, showing an increase of £11.5 each over the returns last year, while the excess over last year is more than £6,588,732.

GETS COMMISSION IN SCOUTS. William P. Kelleher of Boston has been placed in command of company 11, Philippine scouts, at Manila, P. I. Mr. Kelleher, who was given a commission in the scouts two months ago, was formerly a member of the Boston fire department.

FARMS FARMS

VIRGINIA FARMS HELP FEED THE PEOPLE

BUY A FARM WHERE THE YIELD IS BOUNTIFUL AND THE MARKETS ARE NEAR. COME TO VIRGINIA, THE LAND OF HISTORIC PAST AND OPPORTUNITY PRESENT.

We have for sale in the most beautiful part of Virginia and in one of the most productive sections of the United States, farms of all sizes.

SMALL FARMS, $750 AND UP

TERMS $100 CASH; BALANCE IN FOUR YEARS.

LARGE FARMS, $3000 TO $50,000

ON EASY TERMS.

This farm section is located between the ocean and Chesapeake Bay, within twenty-four hours' delivery distance of twenty million people. Here you will find cool summers, mild winters and the most attractive surroundings. Let us send you full particulars regarding the way in which you may become a land owner in this splendid section, how to make money out of this land and the same time be satisfied with the ideal business conditions. Write today.

ROWE & CO., Real Estate Brokers, 415-416 DICKSON BLDG., NORFOLK, VIRGINIA.

ROOMS

LARGE pleasant rooms, with table board; overlooking ocean. Apply 86 Summit ave., Winthrop Highlands. Tel. 341-3 Winthrop.

TO LET—At Winthrop Highlands, pleasant corner rooms, with board; 15 minutes from station; 5c. fare to Boston. 45 Grover ave.

2 CARLETON ST.—Furnished room; convenient to Falmouth; private family; bath; toilet; hot and cold water; 8c.

14 HUNTINGTON AVE., suite 2—One furnished room; private family. Tel. Back Bay 1299-5.

ROOMS—NEW YORK

THE CONNEAUT, 371 CENTRAL AVE., CORNER 97th ST. Ideal summer home; dining room top floor; roof promenade; elevator; service home cooking. A. K. DICK, Manager.

190 CLAREMONT AVE.—Sunny, modern apartment, 6 rooms, furnished, single or couple; kitchen privileges; tel.; one block 125th st., subway, near Grant's tomb. FENN, King janitor's bell.

YOUNG business woman wanted by small family; room southern exposure; home-like; moderate. RAINIER, 497 Park pl., Brooklyn, N. Y.

ROOMS—CHICAGO

421 ELLIS AVE., CHICAGO—Attractive furnished 2 rooms, kitchen, bath, private; with board; reasonable. "L. I. C. and Indiana."

SUMMER BOARD

WANTED—Few persons who appreciate quietness and refinement, can obtain summer board on pleasant farm at seashore; 2000 ft. above sea level; fresh air, sea breezes, bathing, plenty milk, cream and eggs. C. B. DAVIS, Vinna Haven, Me.

MASON, N. H., 1 hour from Boston, large farm, home cooking, especially fine for children; terms $7 per week. Address MRS. A. W. SCHRAEP, Box 62, Mason, N. H.

THE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR

Classified Advertising Columns bring results. A telephone call to 4330 Back Bay will give you information as to terms.

CENTRAL STATES

SITUATIONS WANTED—MALE

SALESMAN with city and road experience desires position representing manufacturer. References: Chicago, Ill. Address MRS. M. S. CHRISTIAN, Science Monitor, 750 Peoples Gas Bldg., Chicago.

SALESMAN, 47 years of age, who has had extensive experience practically his entire business career and been connected with one of Chicago's largest packing houses for the last 11 years. Has a position in similar line of work. C. K. PECK, 2430 E. 74th st., Chicago, Ill.

SALESMAN, 5 years' experience, desired position with first-class house; any regular line; can furnish references; traveling preferred. JOHN C. LEWIS, 341 West 93d pl., Chicago.

STENOGRAPHER (35) desires position; experienced; stenographic experience; several years in general office work; strictly temperate; steady; willing to begin with moderate salary. References: J. L. MILLER, 3822 Congress st., Chicago.

STRUCTURAL DESIGNER, experienced, desires position, $25 per month; wish to work for architect. Address: LEO A. PEREIRA, 218 LaSalle st., Chicago.

YOUNG ATTORNEY, self-educated, recently admitted to the bar, progressive and energetic, 10 years' commercial experience, references furnished. Address: J. E. K. REEKE, 1718 State st., Milwaukee, Wis.

CENTRAL STATES

SITUATIONS WANTED—FEMALE

COMBINATION STENOGRAPHER AND CLERK desires position; 10 years' experience; references furnished. Address: MISS E. N. GREEN, 6442 Lake ave., Chicago.

COMPANION desires position with elderly couple; no objection to leaving the city. MISS E. N. GREEN, 6442 Lake ave., Chicago.

COMPANION desires position during summer months; refined; high school student. HELEN J. WHEELER, 116 Callahan ave., Peoria, Ill.

COMPANION desires position, or will travel with elderly people; good reader; kind disposition and cheerful. MISS J. C. REEKE, 1202 N. Canal st., Alexandria, Ind.

SITUATIONS WANTED—FEMALE

COMPANION desires position with elderly lady; music; refined; will refer to references. ELIZABETH M. RICHARDSON, 5557 Madison ave., Chicago.

COMPANION desires position with an elderly couple; no objection to leaving the city. MISS E. N. GREEN, 6442 Lake ave., Chicago.

SITUATIONS WANTED—FEMALE

WOMAN PRINTER, union, wants position as assistant to job or ad man; competent, thorough, reliable. MRS. E. L. GORDON, 611 Commercial st., Emporia, Kan.

SITUATIONS WANTED—FEMALE

ORGANIST desires position in church of western city. MRS. NELLIE W. MCCLINTOCK, 1047 East 9th st., Salt Lake City, Utah.

TUTOR—University student desires position as tutor during summer; grammar and high school subjects. HELEN ALLEN, 275 St. Louis st., Denver, Colo.

SITUATIONS WANTED—FEMALE

WOMAN PRINTER, union, wants position as assistant to job or ad man; competent, thorough, reliable. MRS. E. L. GORDON, 611 Commercial st., Emporia, Kan.

SITUATIONS WANTED—FEMALE

ADVERTISING MAN desires position; 30 years old and married; thoroughly trained in writing, editing, and managing; willing to accept any kind of an advertising appropriation; steady habits and hard worker; will go anywhere; moderate salary to start; excellent references. JOHN F. BRADBURY, 903 S. East ave., Baltimore.

CIVIL ENGINEER desires employment, working on calculations, maps, reports on Southern properties. R. H. G. 724 West Poplar st., San Antonio, Tex.

DENTAL—Young man, good all-round dental mechanic, desires position as private dentist. NATHAN EISENSTEIN, 400 W. Saratoga st., Baltimore.

SITUATIONS WANTED—FEMALE

COMPANION OR CHAPERON, refined American, desires position; any locality; best references. MISS E. HERDMAN, 803 E. 1st st., N. W. Washington, D. C.

EMPLOYMENT wanted at home by a young married woman who has a good common school education; work through mail will work for small wages. C. A. S. 190, Apalachicola, Fla.

PIANO MUSIC TEACHER desires position in a boarding school; salary $50 per month; best credentials. References: MRS. ALICE COFFMAN, "Maple Heights," Woodstock.

TEACHER desires position for summer instructing small children; competent, capable. NORA GREENE, Atkins, La. 13

SITUATIONS WANTED—FEMALE

COMPANION OR CHAPERON, refined American, desires position; any locality; best references. MISS E. HERDMAN, 803 E. 1st st., N. W. Washington, D. C.

EMPLOYMENT wanted at home by a young married woman who has a good common school education; work through mail will work for small wages. C. A. S. 190, Apalachicola, Fla.

PIANO MUSIC TEACHER desires position in a boarding school; salary $50 per month; best credentials. References: MRS. ALICE COFFMAN, "Maple Heights," Woodstock.

TEACHER desires position for summer instructing small children; competent, capable. NORA GREENE, Atkins, La. 13

SITUATIONS WANTED—FEMALE

COMPANION OR CHAPERON, refined American, desires position; any locality; best references. MISS E. HERDMAN, 803 E. 1st st., N. W. Washington, D. C.

EMPLOYMENT wanted at home by a young married woman who has a good common school education; work through mail will work for small wages. C. A. S. 190, Apalachicola, Fla.

PIANO MUSIC TEACHER desires position in a boarding school; salary $50 per month; best credentials. References: MRS. ALICE COFFMAN, "Maple Heights," Woodstock.

TEACHER desires position for summer instructing small children; competent, capable. NORA GREENE, Atkins, La. 13

SITUATIONS WANTED—FEMALE

COMPANION OR CHAPERON, refined American, desires position; any locality; best references. MISS E. HERDMAN, 803 E. 1st st., N. W. Washington, D. C.

EMPLOYMENT wanted at home by a young married woman who has a good common school education; work through mail will work for small wages. C. A. S. 190, Apalachicola, Fla.

PIANO MUSIC TEACHER desires position in a boarding school; salary $50 per month; best credentials. References: MRS. ALICE COFFMAN, "Maple Heights," Woodstock.

TEACHER desires position for summer instructing small children; competent, capable. NORA GREENE, Atkins, La. 13

Houses for the Summer

TO LET—For the summer months, whole or part of nicely furnished cottage house; suitable for Boston and beaches. Address L. J. J. 36 Sprague st., Malden, Mass.

SUMMER RESORTS

NANTASMET BEACH

Cottages for sale and rent; new, well furnished, modern conveniences; all portions of the beach; early applications will secure best selections. Particulars on request.

SWITHIN & MERRILL

422 & 423 OLD SOUTH BLDG., BOSTON. SURE SIDE P. O. BLDG., NANTASMET.

BUSINESS CHAMBERS

FINEST STUDIO IN BOSTON

With living room combined. Artists' studio, business chambers, en suite or single. Especially adapted to use of practitioner, ladies' tailor, dressmaker or dentist. Every convenience. Rent reduction until Sept. 1. ALLEN, HALL & CO., 384 Boylston st.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS

AN EASY WAY TO OWN A PIANO. RENT a fine new piano of us for three months, six months of a year, and we will allow all money paid toward the price, and then, after two years time, you may pay the balance; over 100 pianos to select from; see us or write us. CHARLES S. NORRIS, 181 Tremont st., Boston.

PLAYER-PIANOS AT ALL PRICES. $500 BUYS a small-sized one that plays all standard music; easy terms if wanted. CHARLES S. NORRIS, 181 Tremont st., Boston.

KRANICH & BACH PLAYER-PIANO

SLIGHTLY USED in demonstration; 88-note; San Domingo mahogany; nothing better; $250 discount; see this beautiful instrument. See it at once! CHARLES S. NORRIS, 181 Tremont st.

PIANOS FOR SUMMER COTTAGES. TO RENT at lowest rates; if a second-hand piano will do, we have 25 genuine bargains in all makes; $100 buys a good one. CHARLES S. NORRIS, 181 Tremont st., Boston.

HOUSEHOLD NEEDS

SUFFOLK STORAGE WAREHOUSE CO. 100 Northampton st., Tel. Rox. 323. Storage for furniture, household goods, etc. Estimates furnished free of charge. Most complete and up-to-date service in Boston. Our booklet explains. Send for it.

M. A. CARRIER, Plumbing, steam and gas fitting. 53 Norway st., Boston; tel. 232-3 B. B.

NOTICE

CITY OF BOSTON, Office of the Clerk of the Board of Aldermen, do hereby give notice that the Executive Committee of the City Council will hold a public hearing on the petition of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, for a release of the restrictions on land formerly used for the Museum of Fine Arts, at the Aldermen's Chamber, City Hall, Friday, June 10, at 2:30 o'clock P. M. By order of the Chairman, JOHN F. DEVER, Clerk of the Council.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Four terms tuition—Brown's Business Colleges; will sell entire or in terms very reasonably. Address Box 3, Champaign, Ill.

CLOTHING

WANTED—Cast-off clothing all kinds, ladies' and gents'; also personal property, old gold, silver, antiques; will call; pay cash. See GROOT, 195 Pleasant st., Tel. 251-2 Oxford.

SALES

SPECIAL CASH SALE. No. 4 Underwood machine, in proper order. Worth $80. Immediate delivery at $40. Address: 1200, Monitor office.

YOU CAN RENT 3 MONTHS FOR $5.00. Sell on any terms—Rem. 30. S. M. SMITH & E. M. W. MACHINE CO., 38

THE HOME FORUM

THE GARDEN CITIES OF ENGLAND

THE most perfect city I have ever seen or heard of is the famous garden city of Bourneville, a suburb of Birmingham, England, says a writer in Country Life in America. I was simply transported by the happiness and beauty of the place, and I believe it gives the people more for their money than any other city on earth. Any one who has cherished some noble vision of a glorified humanity would be intensely interested to see Bourneville, for part of Bellamy's "Looking Backward" is here realized.

Can you imagine yourself living four miles from a city the size of Pittsburgh in a suburban town of about 5000 inhabitants, where there are no saloons and never can be any slums, noise, dirt, crowding, factory smells, billboards or streets torn up for gas lighting or sewers? Wouldn't you like a chance to play golf, tennis, cricket, bowls or hockey under ideal circumstances at a cost of a few cents a day?

Would you not be satisfied with the social life of a community that has splendid schools, churches, bath, gymnasium, meeting house, and one-tenth of its whole area given up to parks and playgrounds? And what would you say to a handsome brick house of seven rooms and a bath, with an eighth of an acre already planted with fruit trees, vines and lawn, at the rental of $12.30 a month? How can such superb opportunities be given at so low a cost? Bourneville was founded by George Cadbury, the cocoa manufacturer, and only 42 per cent of the renters at Bourneville are employees of the factory. The others came from anywhere and everywhere, and many of them spend their days in Birmingham. Consequently the social life is that of a normal, mixed community—not merely industrial or suburban.

Bourneville really pays. The city's chief source of income is rent. Everybody pays 8 per cent on the investment actually made in his house and lot. The city's income doubles every five years (it is now 15 years old) and in 50 years (at this rate it will have an annual income of about $5,000,000. And since it will never have to pay back Mr. Cadbury's gift of about $775,000, the city will have a large sum available for building other cities like Bourneville.

The most important idea in all these garden cities is that represented by Letchworth, a suburb of London, 34 miles north of the metropolis, but reached by the best trains in less than an hour, for Letchworth has shown how we may build cities fully up to the Bourneville standard without depending on gifts. When I saw Letchworth in 1908 the city was less than five years old. Yet it had a population of 6000, and there were 21 factories. It comprises 3818 acres, 2500 of them, or 65 per cent, being perpetually reserved for an agricultural belt.

Thus the people of Letchworth will always be sure of a broad country scene, even if London should build up solidly around it. Moreover, they will receive profits from this land because it will be rented to market gardeners and dairymen. This is in addition to the regular park system, for 200 acres are devoted to public parks and playgrounds, including an 18-hole golf course.

Letchworth can never be crowded. The population is limited to 35,000, an average of nine persons to the acre for the whole tract, or 23 per acre for the townsite. Twelve families to the acre is the maximum, and even in this case every family has a lot equal to 36.3x100 feet, which gives the poorest residents a fair sized garden, and is 45 per cent better than the typical city lot of New York.

A Peculiar Lake

It is said that the natives living near the shores of Lake Van, which is situated on the Persian frontier, utilize the waters of that unusually beautiful inland sea for washing their clothing without even the slightest thought of soap in connection therewith. The water is strongly impregnated with a potash of some kind, which renders it soft and soapy, as though there had been dissolved in it a large quantity of soap. Lake Van is some 60 miles long and ranges from 20 to 30 miles in width. Around the lake are situated many rich farms, while bustling little villages are in plenty, chief among them being the thriving city of Van. There are a number of sailing boats on the lake engaged in traffic, which appears to be very heavy, but the boats are of such unwieldy construction that they can only sail before the wind, and frequently a boat is compelled to wait a week or 10 days for a favorable breeze.—Washington Herald.

Making Not Money but Men

A story about a schoolmaster.

THERE is a pretty story in the current Scribner that gives a picture of the yearly reunion at the house of a certain schoolmaster. Two of his "boys" are interested to discuss their former master; these are a judge and a magnate: two boys for whom a direful end was prophesied of yore by all but this beloved teacher, from their inability to keep out of trouble at school. These two sitting in a corner agree that their old teacher is one of the most brilliant men they have known, that in any other profession but that of teaching he would have stood a prominent figure before the world. Because the material in which he worked was the young life and thought of boys instead of the magnate's stocks and bonds or the financial schemes and various nefarious practices of maturity, that have exercised the judge's abilities, he has stood underrated, overlooked all his life. His financial return for the outlay of all his heart and character as well as mind in the service of young lives is nothing by comparison with the worldly successes of his two friends, and yet these men talking it over are both agreed that his has been the larger work and his the higher prize.

So they lay a pretty plot and on the following Christmas morning the teacher finds his table flooded with letters from his old boys. They tell now and again of some word or act of their old master's that had turned the current of their young purpose aright, or had steadied failing courage; they all show what of himself the teacher had given to each, show him a messenger of good to them all.

And we are to infer that the schoolmaster lived happy ever after in knowing that his quiet years of making men had been at least as much service to human kind as if he had spent them making money.

A Hungarian Painter

An interesting exhibition of paintings in Buffalo not long ago was that of the work of Louis Mark, the Hungarian painter. Color in splendid mass seems to be the keynote of his work. He does not psychologize, say his critics, but is frankly a painter, setting things forth for the beauty there is in them, rather than the subtler meanings or traits of character in his subjects. His fame rests chiefly on his portraiture, though his landscapes are much praised. His interiors are carefully decorative. The arrangement of a bouquet of flowers or the placing of a vase shows that he does not consider these objects as accessories, but was glad to utilize their form and their color for their own sake. Mr. Mark has painted five portraits since he came to America. One is a portrait of Commander Peary, showing the Arctic explorer in his furs, a striking likeness, made by Mr. Mark from a sketch and one sitting.

Hope seems to ride this morning on the wind
And joy outshines the sun.
—Procter.

The Great Bell of Kyoto

VISITORS to the quaint old Japanese town of Kyoto never fail to bring away with them a vivid recollection of the fine bell which adorns the Chion In temple. They probably begin their acquaintance with it as they sit in their hotel garden on the first evening after their arrival. At about 5 o'clock, it may be, they become aware of a rich harmonious pulsation gradually pervading the air; rising and falling with slow cadence. The sound is musical, though incredibly deep in tone; it is in fact the measured reverberation of some immense bell.

Inquiries are made, and an expedition is planned to the temple next morning. A picturesque path through the woods and a flight of ancient mossy steps lead to a small spur of the hill behind the town on which the bell stands. It was built in 1618, and consists merely of a framework of massive timbers supporting the enormous bell a few feet from the ground. No attempt has been made to enable the ponderous object to be swung, but a heavy beam is hung in a horizontal position level with the rim and with its end toward it, so that it can be swung against it like a battering ram. The note thus produced can be heard all over the town, and in calm weather, for many miles out in the surrounding country. The bell is said to be 10ft. 8in. high, 9ft. in diameter at the mouth and 9½in. thick, its weight being computed at 74 tons.

A JAPANESE BELL.
Built in 1618. A heavy beam is swung against the bell in order to make it ring.

HEREDITY

Why bowest thou, O soul of mine,
Crushed by ancestral sin?
Thou hast a noble heritage
That bids thee victory win.

The tainted past may bring forth flowers,
As blossomed Aaron's rod,
No legacy of thin annals
Heredity from God. —Conley.

In Siam

The government of Siam is that of a hereditary, absolute monarchy, but the King can nominate a successor other than his eldest son. The ministers of foreign affairs, state, interior, justice, war, finance, public instruction, and public works form an advisory cabinet. There is also a legislative council, whose duty it is to revise, amend and complete the legislation of the country.—San Francisco Argonaut.

CHILDREN'S DEPARTMENT

Baseball His Vacation

The other day Secretary MacVeagh was talking with Assistant Secretary Hilles. "Did you know," said Mr. Hilles, "that among your clerks in the treasury is the father of organized baseball in America?" "No," replied Secretary MacVeagh. "Who is he?" "Nick Young," said Mr. Hilles. "He is a clerk in the office of the auditor of the state department, and has been here for many years. He organized the first professional baseball association in America in 1871, and for years was president of the National league." Secretary MacVeagh expressed a desire to meet Uncle Nick and the latter was called in. Uncle Nick is entitled to 30 days' annual leave, but he has never taken it all at one time. He takes it piecemeal, an hour at a time. He quits his office at 3:30 instead of 4:30 every time the Washingtons play ball there, so as to take in the game.—Chicago Journal.

PICTURE PUZZLE

Seen at the circus.

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S PICTURE PUZZLE.
Current.

The Prince and the Caddie

As a young man King Edward attended classes at Edinburgh University, and played his first game of golf. During the latter—at Musselburgh—Tom Brown, a renowned caddie of those days, carried the prince's clubs. Seeing, on one of the greens, his employer give the ball a push instead of the legitimate tap, he at once let the future king know his fault. The result was a reproof from the prince's escort, Sir J. G. Baird, to which Tom, to his royal highness' amusement, at once retorted, "But the prince must learn, for if he had done that in a match he'd have lost the hole!"—Pall Mall Gazette.

Ice Cream and Fudge

If Dolly Madison, the inventress of ice cream, is to have a place in the Hall of Fame, what is to be done with the discoverer of "fudge"?—Scranton Tribune-Republican.

An Intelligent Map

This is an age of enterprise, and contrivances which add to our pleasures are just as much to the front as those which facilitate business, says the American Register of London.

An excellent invention, very much in vogue on the other side of the Atlantic goes by the name of "The Jones Live Map," and is intended for the use of motorists. As its name would imply it is a movable arrangement and shifts with the action of the wheels, letting the driver know exactly what part of the country he is approaching. Such instructions as "Elbridge," "Pass road on right," "Take right fork," are given, the great utility of which is obvious. The motorist is thus independent of guide books or chance information, and all the work of keeping track of the road is done by this wonderful little contrivance, which is about the size of a talking machine disc.

It is a round piece of printed cardboard in a glass covered case and is connected with the front wheel of the car. To adjust it the driver has simply to throw back the glass face and insert the map of the road that has been decided upon.

Nearly five hundred of these maps have been published by the Automobile Touring Club of America, and we understand that Mr. Wilby of that club is coming over to Europe this summer to make maps and discs of the same kind of England and also of France.

The problem of life is not to make life easier, but to make men stronger.—David Starr Jordan.

"THE DESIRE OF ALL NATIONS"

WHILE the words of the prophet Haggai, "The desire of all nations shall come," apply directly to the building of the temple by Zerubbabel and Joshua, following the captivity in Babylon, they may be very properly applied to the building of the true temple, "not made with hands," which the material structure was but a type. In our short-sightedness we may often feel discouraged because the fulfillment of prophecy seems to come slowly; but had we the prophetic vision to discern the footsteps by which human thought is prepared for spiritual progress, we should see much in present human conditions to encourage us.

"The desire of all nations shall come," the prophet declared. This surely means that every individual must sometime arrive at the place where a desire for oneness with God is stronger than all earthly attractions. So long as a man believes that happiness may be gained through the fleshly senses, he is not ready for the things of Spirit. It is only when these senses fail to give pleasure that he turns from them as unworthy of his further confidence, and seeks higher joys. His discontent with material things comes gradually, and his desire for spiritual things is likewise of gradual development. The prophet Isaiah says, "Line upon line, line upon line; here a little and there a little."

It might here be asked why there are so many discordant, discontented mortals in whom the desire for spirituality seems lacking. It is because they have failed to find in the lives and actions of professing Christians those evidences of peace and good will, coupled with the power to relieve the distressed of earth, which attended the ministry of the Master and his early followers? Again, a man may feel himself a slave without believing freedom possible; or, believing it possible, he may not be willing to pay the price for freedom. In the first place there must be a longing for freedom, and this must be succeeded by willingness to follow the path of deliverance, no matter what the cost. The children of Israel suffered long from the cruel bondage in Egypt before they were ready for deliverance; but the time finally came when they were ready to encounter the possible hardships of the desert rather than to suffer the bondage longer, and then Moses was sent of God to deliver them.

In the history of the race, whenever the oppression has been so severe as to cause a general cry for deliverance, a deliverer has appeared; but how many times, if he brought a spiritual message, only the few were willing to hear and follow. Moses struggled with a rebellious people, the prophets suffered every indignity, and Jesus was rejected by his own nation, and led to crucifixion, for using in his practice God's remedy—the only permanent remedy—for sin, sickness and death. The need for help has always been felt, but the method practised by the one divinely qualified to deliver men has been misunderstood and resisted by so many that the reformer's pathway has been thorny and the reformation slow.

All through the centuries, the prayers of the few—"the salt of the earth"—have risen in behalf of Israel; but the prayers of all Israel are necessary to redeem Israel. This quickening of universal consciousness is seemingly a slow process, but it is going on hourly, and must continue until the consummation, when "they shall all know me (God), from the least of them unto the greatest of them." Just as with the individual the desire for holiness must precede and accompany the struggle to gain it, so with the masses the desire and the struggle must become universal before salvation is universal. This does not imply that right petitions on behalf of others are not beneficial, or that the lives and labors of the faithful few have not borne precious fruits of Spirit. No honest prayer has been vain, no unselfish deed has gone unrewarded by the Father—they have all filled their own important place in hastening the coming of the kingdom; but the penalty for sin must be paid by the sinner, and there is no chance for substitution in this warfare.

In answer to a great desire, a universal need, Christian Science has entered the arena of modern life, and proclaimed its mission as a deliverer from every form of bondage. It does not undertake to establish a new mode of salvation, but declares the identity and continuity of the Christ-way. It is evident that, as Christ is "the same yesterday, and to-day, and forever," the method of salvation has not changed. If Jesus showed the only way to save mortals during his ministry, it remains the only way now. If the salvation he practised reached not only the sinner, but restored the sick and the dying to health and life, and these were the works of the Father then, are they not the works of the Father now?

Christian Science answers this question in the affirmative, and restores the seamless robe of the healing Christ to the touch of suffering mortals. It reveals the ever-present God "who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases." It says to those dead in trespasses and "A Great Pacific Confederation"

According to the Paris Matin, it is understood that during the recent meeting of monarchs in London, the German Emperor referred, during a conversation with M. Pichon, the representative of France, to the advantage of the great nations of Europe remaining closely united in the interests of humanity and civilization, and cooperating in forming a "great pacific confederation."

May Day in Turkey

May day in Constantinople is celebrated in a somewhat unusual, but certainly very picturesque, manner. As is generally known, May day in this country falls 13 days later than in western Europe. It is the custom on this date to exchange gifts of flowers as an expression of good-will, in addition to which the Greek schools are given a holiday, and the doors of the Greek houses are hung with wreaths of leaves or flowers.

At a Bargain

Howell—Does your wife care anything about baseball?

Powell—She never did until one day when she heard me say that they were going to play two games for one admission.—Judge.

The Christian Science Monitor

Published daily, except Sunday, by

The Christian Science Publishing Society

Falmouth and St. Paul Streets,
Boston, Mass., U. S. A.

Publishers of "The Christian Science Journal," "Christian Science Sentinel," "Der Herold der Christian Science," and other publications pertaining to Christian Science.

ARCHIBALD McLELLAN, Editor-in-Chief.
ALEXANDER DODDS, Managing Editor.
All communications pertaining to the conduct of this paper and articles for publication must be addressed to the Managing Editor.

Entered as Second Class at the Postoffice at Boston, Mass., U. S. A.

TERMS
Single copies, 2 cents. By carrier in the Greater Boston newspaper district, 12 cents the week.

SUBSCRIPTIONS BY MAIL
PREPAID

In the United States, Canada and Mexico:

Daily, one year.....$5.00
Daily, six months.....3.00

In all other countries additional postage at the rate of $3.00 yearly is required.

All checks, money orders, etc., should be made payable to The Christian Science Publishing Society, Boston, Mass., U. S. A.

The Christian Science Monitor will be found on sale at all newsstands in New England, and in Christian Science Reading Rooms throughout the world.

Rates for advertising will be furnished upon application to the business department.

The publishers reserve the right to reject any advertisement.

Long Distance Trunk—Back Bay 4530
Eight Trunk Lines.

Eastern Advertising Office, Suites 2002 and 2003, Metropolitan Building, 1 Madison Ave., New York City.

Western Advertising Office, Suite 750 Peoples Gas Building, Michigan Ave., and Adams St., Chicago.

European Bureau, Suites 23 and 24 Chen House, Surrey St., Strand, London.

The Blue Goose

"As the first flock approached my companion called them 'brant.' I knew that this could hardly be correct, because brant are not known to reach the Gulf of Mexico," says Herbert Job in Outing. "They were, however, smaller than the big Canada geese and had shorter necks. Besides, many in the flock, more than half, I should think, had the head and neck distinctly white, and it was such as these that we picked up."

"Subsequent investigation proved that they were the blue goose, which is called in the manuals of ornithology an uncommon bird. The strangest thing of all was that, both on this morning and on my entire trip, nearly all the various flocks of geese which came near enough to be examined were largely composed of this same 'uncommon' species. I should say that three-quarters of them were probably of this kind."

"This fact is surprising and perhaps throws new light upon our present knowledge of the species. The blue goose is rare on the Atlantic coast, and in the eastern part of the Gulf of Mexico. Collectors in the regions to the south of this, as in Texas, seem to know little about it."

Protected

Oh! troubled toiler on a landless sea
Behold! the Christ comes o'er the waves to thee,
And lulls the storm of unreality
With "Peace be still."

And in the presence of that Holy Calm
Art thou secure from every false alarm,
Protected 'neath the Almighty arm
Of wondrous Love.

—Grace A. Boughton-Leigh.

Short Story Writers

WITH the increase in the number of magazines and the consequent growth of the demand for short stories there is small chance nowadays for literary talent to languish unrecognized, in the opinion of John S. Phillips, editor of the American Magazine.

"The short story of today is really an evolution from the short story of the days of the old weekly story paper," said Mr. Phillips recently. "Such publications have been replaced by the magazines, which print fiction of a much better grade and which are more widely read. The demand for the short story has been gradually increasing ever since I have known anything about the publishing business, a matter of 20 odd years."

"There used to be a demand for short stories in the newspapers of 20 years ago and a considerable number of them used to be printed. There is a great field for the short story writer today. It is far less circumscribed than used to be the case, and as the years go by there is more liberality as to material and manner of handling a theme. Nowadays any field is worth justification if you can do it well, that is, if you can make an ideal expression of the life of that field which is so generalized that in a little piece of it you reader gets a good picture of the whole. Any problem, any question of life you may attempt if you can treat it with a master touch."

"The market price of the short story has gone up, but it is difficult to speak in figures. The time, the place, the author and the editor must be considered, and then comes the appraisal. There is no set rate for space as in the newspapers. It is an inexact valuation, you might say, as so many considerations enter into it. Yes, there are a good many men who make a good living writing stories."

Mr. Roosevelt Receives a Washington Relic

On the occasion of the recent visit of Mr. Roosevelt to Copenhagen an old lognette which belonged to George Washington, originally purchased at an auction sale in America in 1802, was presented to him. It has been in the possession of a Danish family for upwards of 100 years—a curious relic, the frame of gold representing a serpent biting its own tail, symbolic of eternity. Mr. Roosevelt has also been presented with some valuable specimens from the Royal Danish China Manufactory.—Exchange.

Anger flashes: love shines.—T. T. L.

THE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR

"First the blade, then the ear, then the full grain in the ear."

EDITORIAL

Boston, Mass., Thursday, June 9, 1910.

Government and Railroads

THE news that the eastern and central railroads at a conference with Mr. Taft agreed to suspend all proposed increase in freight rates until the passage of the railroad bill, is significant not for its immediate meaning but as showing a spirit of accommodation and a desire to play fair that would not have been shown a quarter of a century ago. It may be answered to this that they showed this spirit under the implied threat of proceedings in equity and that they have been taught the necessity for improved conduct by the proceedings had when Mr. Roosevelt was at the White House. Grant for the sake of argument that this be so, does it in any way lessen the duty of the public and the government to encourage that reform on the part of these corporations?

There have been times when the attitude of the public has come very near to that of settled hostility to the railroads, an attitude as dangerous to our welfare as would be a weak condonation of their shortcomings. We may refine as much as we choose upon the theory of a corporation and upon the relation of a corporate body to the state, but the factors that give it any working claim at all to the attention of the law are the money contributed by stockholders and the people that manage the plant and that money, called the officers and employees of the railroad. In other words, some people have a perfectly reasonable claim to being given a return on their money and the only people that can bring this about are the officers and directors of the corporation that enjoys the use of that money. In the present development of the world's intelligence, capital is a necessary thing, but capital can never be protected by anything but confidence.

In the recent very keen discussion of economic and fiscal policies that rocked all Britain, reference was made several times to that happy community the members of which gained a genteel competency by taking in each other's washing. We are tempted to believe that the theory of a state supported by reciprocal wash bills has a great many advocates, but it is to be doubted whether the success of their views can be a good thing in the long run, nor can it be admitted that if we are to run up bills we can with any comfort to ourselves avoid their payment.

It has been said roundly by those that control the affairs of the railroads that these new rates are needed to meet the increase in wages and in the cost of material; that is to say, that men want more for what they have to sell. We all know well that they do and we know equally well that a hundred actions by the attorney-general will not affect an economic phenomenon like this, because it is only a phenomenon and not a cause. What the public wants is to have it put down in black and white figures that all can see, just what wages are increased, whether the increase is paid out, what is bought with it, and why it costs more. The same ought to be done with the price of material and of staple commodities; when that is done with any real desire to help the people and to tell the truth, then something approaching a cause will have been discovered or uncovered.

Parson Adams would not have been a complete success as a railroad president; on the other hand, that functionary is not a man that swings open his roll-top desk each morning to gloat over some fresh plan for the discomfiture of society. He no doubt does many things that one may not approve, but he is also the executive head of the machine that makes the dividend that sends Dick to the high school and his sister to college, that gives a thousand widows in quiet country towns their shelter and their harmless comforts, and above all he is the captain of a craft that has for cargo a large part of this country's hopes.

The day has gone forever when we can stand apart from the liabilities and responsibilities of our fellows, and the sooner we gratefully recognize this fact the better. If this be so, the administration's policy toward our railroads ought to be one of encouragement and above all one that develops in them the confidence that there is no danger that at any moment they may be disconcerted by litigation and dislocated by an interference that, however well meant, must be in part harmful. They ought to be shown that there is to be a full in the constant disturbance of their relations with the impartial public and of their normal work as aids to prosperity. Interesting through the spectacle as such may be to the philosophical observer, yet as between Kilkenny and Utopia he is bound to declare for Utopia.

SINCE it is said that the "flaxen-haired, blue-eyed, fair-complexioned" seven-year-old girl who has been removed from the "white" public schools of Washington, D. C., is but one one-hundred-and-twenty-eighth "black" the fine figuring that will be required to establish the color line ten or twenty generations hence becomes a matter of peculiar interest.

BY A BEAUTIFUL process of social chemistry Mr. Cannon has been made the channel for an intimation of a much-needed change in one of the usages of our national Congress. Ever a keen apostle of that polish of manner and dignity of carriage which at once adorn and distinguish our public officials, and horrified to behold upon the outraged floor of the House of Representatives an alien figure that belonged not there but in the Senate, he reminded that figure that if some gentlemen could not enjoy the privileges accorded them by the courtesy of other gentlemen, then in that case the first-named gentlemen must bear the brunt of certain rules established by the second-named gentlemen. Awed by the marmoreal character of this reproof, the senators wrapped their togas about them and, blushing, fled.

Yet there is more to come. It appears that some days since, amid the stately ease of the Senate chamber, a keen-eyed member of the upper house espied a stranger and, turning on him with a fiery appeal to the rules, wafted him to the outer fastness of the cloak-room. It was discovered on examination that the wafted one was no other than the speaker of the House of Representatives. What were the senators doing upon the floor of the House and what the speaker on that of the Senate, and what business had they respectively in the house of the other?

The floor of a legislative chamber under the parliamentary system established by the English-speaking peoples is for the members of that chamber, for such witnesses as they may choose to summon and in very exceptional circumstances for such guests as they wish to honor. If members wish to confer with those of another chamber, there is ample room furnished by a grateful country other than the floor of their own house, which by usage and much-respected custom has been dedicated to well-defined purposes that ought to be guarded. There is not exactly a plethora of dignity in public life and we need all that we can have, nor are the visits of legislators to a sister house intimately devoted to dignified purposes.

But Mr. Speaker and these gentlemen of the Senate, by obligingly breaking these elementary rules, have by their lofty indignation furnished themselves with such an excellent precedent that we trust they will hereafter remember it to their own improvement and that of the political and much-enduring abstraction known as the people.

The New Street Com missioner

WE CAN all congratulate Louis K. Rourke on having chosen for his plan of duty the words that he has spoken as to the careful expenditure of the city's money. To give the public the full value of the money spent in its behalf pretty well fills the definition of a faithful public official and if such intention is adhered to without fear or favor, he that does it earns a reward that is far greater than money. The fact that Mr. Rourke has been doing the work of the United States government at Panama ought to give him qualifications that will enable him to carry out his intentions, and the magnitude of that work, combined with its great detail as well as the necessity for handling large bodies of men, ought to give him full grasp of his duties as street commissioner.

The work of repairing and keeping clean the streets is one of the most important municipal duties and one that well performed gives to the city great credit in the eyes of the stranger that visits it, indeed the man that keeps our streets clean is a decidedly valuable member of what we may call the citizens' art committee of a city and every good stroke of work that he does gives a touch of added comeliness and self-respect to the municipality. It would be invidious to compare the streets of foreign cities with those of our American cities, but there is no reason, allowing for differences of climate, why our streets should not be as neat as those of Munich or Paris. But the great aid of the official whose duty it is to attend to such matters is the wish of the individual citizen himself to further in every way the reign of cleanliness and beauty.

In foreign cities one may note again and again an active civic pride, that in essence is most democratic, and its results are a certain jealousy for the honor of the municipality that guards both expenditure and its methods. The foreigner has learned by centuries of struggle that every man that pays a tax has a vested right to see to the proper outlay of the money, and as a consequence his municipal affairs display more strength and cohesion than ours. Mr. Rourke has promised that he will do his best toward these good ends and, must therefore have our cordial hopes.

PRESIDENT TAFT will not be able to be in New York on June 18 to extend welcome to former President Roosevelt on his arrival from abroad. He will, however, send three special envoys who will see to it, no doubt, that the "insurgents" do not capture the much-wanted colonel and win him over to their way of thinking before the "regulars" have a chance to tell him how it is.

A TRADE TOUR of two weeks on two lakes and twenty-two cities to be visited—that is the program mapped out by the Chicago Association of Commerce, which will send sixty ambassadors on a special steamer to shore towns along Lakes Michigan and Superior in search of business. The steamer Theodore Roosevelt, which is to make the cruise, has a carrying capacity of 3500 passengers. The tradesmen of the towns will be invited to take a lake trip, to listen to arguments as to why they should have closer business relations with Chicago. That the voyagers will be generously entertained goes without saying. There is to be an orchestra on board and a daily paper will be published.

This is an excellent proposition from a commercial point of view. While it is not expected to do any business on the trip, the social intercourse of the Chicago men and the town dealers cannot fail to extend the control of the Chicago houses and to increase their trade permanently. It pays to know the men with whom you are dealing. There will be greater confidence where merited, and business can be carried on more smoothly and more satisfactorily.

Such a bit of enterprise is likely to prove of special benefit to the towns concerned. Some of them are business rivals, but on the other hand they may have common interests in transportation or legislation that can be promoted when their active men get together and talk things over. Some of these towns may have special features that could be developed to advantage, and this trip may bring to them the very attention they have heretofore lacked. In any case the undertaking speaks well for the wide-awake members of the Chicago Association of Commerce, who are quite certain to get both profit and pleasure out of the fortnight's tour.

It has been a long while since the public has witnessed a more clearly drawn contest between parties within a party than is now being waged between the "Standpatters" and the "Progressives" within the Republican organization. No matter what else may come of their contention both of these "factions" are assured of getting their names into history and into the dictionaries of the land and that may be considered something worth while.

The eminent aviator who is of the opinion that it would be quite possible to reach the north pole by aeroplane but who has no intention of trying it need not necessarily be accused of lacking the courage of his convictions. The possibilities of aviation by aeroplane are yet largely unknown, but they are being discovered with a frequency that makes it seem probable that eventually there will be no spot beyond the reach of the flying machine.

If it is true that "money talks" the appeal for conservative treatment which the Railway Business Association, representing $800,000,000 of invested capital, makes to the public ought to be loud enough to be heard from one end of the land to the other.

THE Boston milk contractors have given up the fight and given in to the farmers, and the cows will now proceed to give down.

A Drawn Battle in Iowa

GOVERNOR CARROLL, indorsed by the Taft Republican Club and opposed by Senators Cummins and Dolliver, was renominated at the primary election in Iowa on Tuesday. This may be regarded as a pronounced defeat for the progressives. On the other hand, only three of the eleven Republican nominees are standpatters, while the latter suffered the loss of John A. T. Hull, one of the foremost of their number. This may be regarded as a pronounced victory for the progressives. To offset the defeat of Representative Hull, the standpatters can point with no little pride to the victory of Walter I. Smith in the ninth district. It was Representative Smith who inserted in the sundry civil appropriation bill two years ago, the despatches remind us, the provision against the secret service to which President Roosevelt seriously objected. With Representative Kennedy, renominated, and Representative Hull, defeated by Judge Prouty, Representative Smith has been a conspicuous and an aggressive Cannonite as well as a standpatter.

All this would seem to resolve itself into a drawn battle. The honors appear to be even, although the results for practical purposes favor the insurgent cause. They could better afford to lose the governorship nomination than any of their congressmen. Apparently they have made a gain of one. Nevertheless, in view of the round majority received by Representative Smith, they cannot claim that insurgency is making steady headway in Iowa. The regulars at last accounts were claiming a bare majority of the 1200 delegates to the state convention chosen on Tuesday, and that they are in a position to force through a platform which will condemn the course taken by Senators Cummins and Dolliver. In short, the Iowa balloting leaves us in the dark as to the attitude of the middle West generally, and as to the probable outcome of the November elections in that section.

Up with the Starry Banner

NEXT Tuesday is Flag day—the one hundred and thirty-third anniversary of the birth of the Stars and Stripes—and everywhere over our broad land the starry emblem should float on the breeze. It is the emblem of liberty and progress, the joy and pride of every loyal citizen of the United States. Nothing else so stirs the spirit of patriotism and the sense of duty to one's country as the national banner. The American Flag Association is urging that Flag day be more widely observed this year than ever before. Governors and mayors are issuing proclamations calling attention to the day and ordering or urging the display of the national emblem.

Greater importance is each succeeding year being attached to patriotic exercises in the public schools. Systematic efforts are being made to have a law enacted in every state in the Union providing that the Stars and Stripes shall fly over all public schoolhouses while classes are in session. Such a law is already in force in a dozen or more states, including Massachusetts. The story of the banner may well be told until the children are impressed with the principles for which it stands. Beneath its folds there is freedom for all—freedom to do right, and protection in the pursuit of happiness to all who obey the country's liberal laws.

WITH President Taft and family summering at Beverly, Mass., and the majority of the members of the cabinet and of the foreign ambassadors enjoying the season in other sections of New England, the general location of the nation's summer capital becomes pretty well established.

NO OPPOSITION on the part of the towns concerned was manifested at the hearing before the railroad commission on Tuesday to the petition of the Grand Trunk railway of Canada for the right to build a short line across Massachusetts to connect the system with Providence, R. I. Indeed, the business men and town officials, who attended in large numbers, were heartily as well as unanimously in favor of the proposition. It was argued that another western outlet is needed and claimed that the new line would mean a great saving in cost of transportation. The Springfield Board of Trade had a representative at the hearing to speak for the road, and other trade organizations were reported as favoring it.

This extension would connect the manufacturing industries of Massachusetts and Rhode Island with the Grand Trunk, which has a terminal at Chicago, and would give easy access to the centers of Detroit, Grand Rapids, Mich., Milwaukee, Wis., and Toledo, O., at the same time putting eastern industrial interests in touch with the great Canadian Northwest. All of New England is expected to profit by the new route. The Rhode Island Legislature suspended its rules so as to pass the charter bill quickly. In all probability Massachusetts will grant the Canadian road's petition. There seems to be nothing to lose and much opportunity to gain by such action.

THE vote on the drastic rule proposed by the new committee on rules, limiting debate on the measure to eight hours and prohibiting all amendments—save that the Democrats may offer a substitute bill—indicates clearly the favorable prospects of the postal savings bank bill approved by the Republican caucus. But those who have followed the discussion on the postal savings proposition from the beginning will differ very widely as to the merits of the measure that is now almost certain to become a law.

The friends of postal savings banks are by no means unanimous in its approval. Some will insist to the end, in agreement with the minority report submitted by Representative Moon, that the bill in fact "is but a means for the collection, control and centralization of the capital of the country," and that it is but "an innocent forerunner of the central federal bank for the control of all money, with the power of contraction and expansion of the currency, deciding the fortunes of commerce and labor and monopolizing the banking interests of the country."

Conservative thinkers will not agree with views so extreme. They will, rather, accept the law as the best that could be obtained under all the circumstances, with full confidence in the power of the people to compel at an early day the correction of whatever questionable or menacing provisions the bill may be found to contain.

The Postal Savings Bill Will Pass

Towns Welcome Grand Trunk

A Grape From a Thorn